DISTRICT HEADS TODAY TO SEEK SHIFT OF FUNDS

Would Make Available $320,000 to $640,000 for Emergencies.

CITIZENS TO APPEAR BEFORE SENATE UNIT

Will Make Pleas for Variety of Projects; Relief Funds to Be Included.

By ROBERT C. ALBRIGHT.

Unexpended balances aggregating from $320,000 to $640,000 will be made available for emergency District needs in 1934 if the Senate District Appropriations subcommittee acts favorably on a report to be submitted to them today by the District Commissioners.

The report, it was understood, will recommend embodiment in the District appropriations bill of the proposal of Senator Elmer Thomas (Democrat), Oklahoma, permitting the Commissioners to make judicious shifts in funds in administering the 1934 budget.

The move, if approved by the subcommittee and sanctioned by Congress, would give the Commissioners access to unexpended balances in individual District items averaging in past years as high as 2 per cent of total appropriations.

Where Most Needed.

These funds could be put to work where they are most needed by transfers from departments amply provided for to agencies in need, rather than drain back into the Federal Treasury. In view of sharp appropriations pruning the balances may not mount to as much as 2 per cent next year. But even if they dwindle to 1 per cent, which is probable, about $320,000 would thus be available, it was pointed out.

The elasticity suggestion was submitted to the Commissioners by Senator Thomas yesterday, for study and report. Favorably disposed to any plan that would lessen the hardships imposed by sharp District appropriation cuts, the Commissioners are understood to be ready to accept the suggestion, and urge its inclusion in the 1934 District bill. So broad a provision never has been written in any supply bill before. The economy act permitted limited shifts of departmental funds, but only up to 15 per cent.

Meanwhile, the Senate District Appropriations subcommittee prepared to wind up hearings on the bill this morning, when more than a score of citizens, denied hearing before the House District Appropriations subcommittee, will be called in to testify. A report on the bill probably will be delayed until after the Easter holidays.

Variety of Pleas Due.

Pleas of citizens will range all the way from requests for new school building construction and general school fund increases, to arguments

Minister to Liberia Explains Use of "Mr."

New York, April 13 (A.P.).—Charles E. Mitchell, retiring Minister to Liberia, returned today and explained he was following State Department orders when he addressed Edwin Bartlett, president of Liberia, as "Mr." instead of by his title.

The incident led to a disagreement between the two countries, but Mitchell declined to discuss the situation. He said he would report to the State Department in Washington and then would return to his home in Institute, W. Va.

Couple Refuses to Hear Pleas, Saying "God Gave Her to Us, If He Wills

GIRL DYING, SURGEON BARRED

He Will Take Her Away;" Meanwhile, Another Child Is Stricken With Illness.

New York, April 13 (A.P.).—With timbers braced against all the doors and windows, and with boiling water at hand to pour over any one who might seek entrance, an immigrant couple barricaded themselves in their suburban home today, determined that an operation to save the life of an infant daughter should not be performed.

Neither John Vasco, $15-a-week laborer, nor his hysterical wife, could be made to understand that the physician who stood outside was not calling to see 2-year-old Helen Wasco, who has a malignant tumor of the eye which threatens her life.

Terror had seized the misunderstanding Vascos, and they only shook their heads with grim determination when it was explained the doctor was there to attend Helen's twin sister, Anna, who became suddenly ill last night and developed a temperature of 105 degrees.

As the physician, Dr. Michael Bender, gave up his attempt to gain entrance and police said they would take no hand in the case for the time being, a neighbor told that Mrs. Vasco had placed her twin daughters in a small room and had locked the door.

Maybe it was the sight of a blue-coat Dr. Bender had brought with him that terrified Hubbard and wife. Maybe it was the crowd of neighbors that gathered. Or maybe it was fear it was all just a ruse to get Helen and take her to a hospital—and perhaps remove one of the pretty youngster's eyes.

That was what had caused all the trouble in the first place.

Recently the child went with her mother to a hospital to visit her father, who was then a patient there. A physician noticed the infected eye. He urged the mother to permit him to remove it.

Mrs. Vasco and her husband, horror-stricken, refused.

"The doctors are crazy," she said later, pointing to Helen playing on the floor.

"She's healthy. She's all right."

Social workers, priests and Dr. Angelo Soith, a Yonkers (N. Y.) eye specialist, argued with her. The specialist told her Helen would have a 50-50 chance of living if the eye were removed; that death was certain unless the operation were performed.

"God gave her to me; if God wills, He will take her away," was the mother's only answer.

FARLEY ASKS 2-CENT RATES IMMEDIATELY

Will Request That Congress Give Roosevelt Power to Fix Postal Fees.

Congress will be asked immediately to give the President power to raise or lower postal rates according to the volume of postoffice business, Postmaster General Farley said yesterday, and he will at once recommend that the President reduce local postage rates to 2 cents.

"The Government has entered upon a campaign of rigid economy for the purpose of maintaining its credit unimpaired. It has called upon employes of all grades and classes to make substantial sacrifices of salary. It has called upon the public likewise to cooperate in this program and I feel that it should be the policy of the Postoffice Department to reduce the costs of its service to the public whenever that reduction can be made without detracting from the efficiency of the work it performs," Mr. Farley said.

It is hoped that the 2-cent rate on postage delivered within the area of the postoffice collecting it will increase the amount of such mail. "All users of the mail will recognize the fact that if this reduction should actually result in increased revenue for the Postoffice Department, the President will then have ample ground upon which to direct the restoration of the 2-cent postage rate for all first-class mail," he pointed out.

Reduction of the local postage rate will immediately benefit all concerns which send out bills or statements monthly. Imposition of the three-cent rate caused an immediate drop in such mail, as public utilities and others found it cheaper and just as quick to deliver bills by messenger. Reduction of the local rate, it is hoped, will recapture this lost business.

The decision to ask Congress to give the President power to fix postal rates was reached after a conference between Mr. Farley and Senator Harrison of the Appropriations Committee, Representative Doughton of the Ways and Means Committee, and Senator McKellar and Representative Mead, chairmen of the Postoffice and Post Roads Committees of the Senate and House.

Mr. Farley was unable yesterday to give the definite schedule of cuts by which he would save $125,000,000 from the Postoffice appropriation this year. A move to spread employment, by barring members of the families of postmasters, rural carriers or other postal employes from serving as substitutes in the rural delivery service, was sent out from the Department yesterday, over the signature of Joseph C. O'Mahoney, First Assistant Postmaster General.

Roosevelt Plans Rest On Board Salem Boat

Salem, Mass., April 13 (A.P.).—Word reached Fred Dion's boatyard here today, where the trim little schooner Amberjack II is undergoing her annual spring overhauling, that arrangements have been made with her owner, Paul D. Rust, jr., of Marblehead, for her use by President Roosevelt this summer.

A cruise "down east," along the Maine Coast with the President as skipper, was believed in prospect.

French Air Construction Will Cost $24,000,000

Paris, April 13 (A.P.).—An appropriation of 600,000,000 francs ($24,000,000) for the aviation construction program of 1933 was authorized today by the Chamber of Deputies.

The chamber also authorized the use, if necessary, of 160,000,000 francs from the 1934 budget for work on four cruisers ordered in 1932. Premier Daladier defended the national defense budget of 6,079,000,000 francs ($243,160,000) as representing a decrease of 900,000,000 from the 1932 total.

Convict Admits Murder Husband Got Life For

Atlanta, April 13 (A.P.).—A Negro convict today confessed the four-year-old murder of Mrs. Robert E. Coleman for which her young husband is serving a life sentence on a chain gang.

James Starks, burglar and convict camp inmate, told officers today he crushed Mrs. Coleman's head with a poker on the night of March 14, 1929, and that Robert Coleman, the husband, is not guilty of the crime.

Legal steps to have Coleman's sentence lifted will be taken immediately, officers said.

A condemned Negro, Rader Davis, who is to die this month for another murder, tipped officers that Starks knew about the Coleman slaying.

Starks gave no motive, but said Mrs. Coleman hurled a chair at him when he went to her home here and, finding her alone, "talked to her."

REMOVAL OF LONG ASKED BY CITIZENS

Petition Filed in Senate by Louisianans Charges Personal Dishonesty.

(Associated Press.)

Removal of Huey P. Long, of Louisiana, from the Senate was sought in a petition filed with that body yesterday by a score of citizens in the Pelican State, who listed charges of personal dishonesty and corruptness and said they could prove them.

Chairman George, of the Elections Committee, to which the petition was referred by Vice President Garner, was unaware of its receipt until informed by newspapermen. He, however, said that if it contained anything that "goes to the right" of the Senator to hold his seat a "proper investigation" would be made.

Long waved away newspapermen when asked for comment.

"I don't know anything about it and don't care," he said.

The petition, carrying in all eleven formal charges, was referred in the usual way without its having been read to the Senate.

Macon Test Flight Today Is Deferred

Capt. Dresel Will Await New Weather Chart Due About Noon.

Akron, Ohio, April 13 (A.P.).—Unfavorable weather reports tonight led Capt. Alger H. Dresel, skipper of the U. S. S. Macon, to postpone the huge aircraft's first trial flight, which had been tentatively scheduled for 5:30 a. m. tomorrow.

After consulting with naval aerological officers, Capt. Dresel announced he would wait until new weather charts are made about noon tomorrow and rearrange the plans for the first flight at that time.

Originally the Macon was scheduled to have taken off at dawn today, but an 18-mile wind, known to navigators as a southwest shift, kept the ship in the air dock.

Apartment Thief Chokes Manager and Gets $411

Mrs. Meda H. Privitte, resident manager of a building at 236 Massachusetts avenue northeast, was choked into unconsciousness and robbed of $411 late yesterday by two men who entered the building under the pretext of renting an apartment. The money was taken from a dresser drawer in her apartment.

She was found lying in an unconscious condition on the floor of the apartment by Daniel Kendall, the elevator operator, after the men had left.

NEW FRENCH ENVOY IS RECEIVED BY HULL

Only Argentina Has Failed to Accept Bid to President's Conference.

By HAROLD J. T. HORAN.

Acceptances from all of the eleven countries invited to the White House conferences, save Argentina, were yesterday received by Secretary of State Cordell Hull. At the same time 2 of the other 44 countries invited to an exchange of views in anticipation of the world economic conference accepted the Secretary's invitation with surprising promptness and sent their respective ministers, Czechoslovakian Minister Ferdinand Veverka and Roumanian Minister Charles A. Davila, to begin the discussions immediately.

In the midst of this atmosphere of diplomatic preparation, the newly appointed French Ambassador, Andre Lefebvre de Laboulaye, called to pay his respects to the Secretary of State before presenting his letters of credence to the President. The new ambassador is a young man and is evidently as alert to the subtleties of dress as his predecessor was indifferent to them. Later in the day he received the newspaper correspondents in his first interview and spoke very frankly and forthrightly about his mission and its object.

The position of France with regards the payment of the deferred French debt of last December is a tripartite opinion, he declared. It is divided between, first, the man in the street, and, secondly, the opinion of Parliament. The government's viewpoint is almost entirely determined by these two, and to date, he frankly acknowledged, there is no indication of any change of opinion from the attitude displayed by the Chamber of Deputies in refusing to make the payment last year.

The ambassador declared that France has no intention of organiz-

New York, April 13 (A.P.).—The body of a party clad woman found by two homeless Negroes stuffed in a steamer trunk gave police a bizarre mystery to unravel tonight.

SOVIET FORCED CONFESSION, IS BRITON'S STORY

Thornton Denies Truth of Admissions Used Against Him.

CHARGES PRESSURE BY SECRET POLICE

Woman Testifies to Hearing Engineer Discuss Sabotage Scheme.

Moscow, April 13 (A.P.).—For five hours tonight L. C. Thornton, one of six British engineers on trial for sabotage and espionage, sat in the witness stand of a packed courtroom and denied, item by item, a confession which he said had been wrung from him by the Russian secret police.

Roginsky, the assistant prosecutor, a domineering cross-examiner, deluged him with questions and accusations. He read a deposition Thornton made the day after he was arrested, stating that all the 27 employes of the British Metropolitan-Vickers Electrical Co. in Russia acted as spies for the British secret service.

"I deny the whole thing," Thornton said, speaking with his lips close to an amplifying microphone so that none of the courtroom crowd could miss what he said.

"I Lied," Thornton Cries.

"They asked me to confess and I confessed. I signed that deposition under the pressure of so many questions. Yes, I wrote it, and now I deny it. When I wrote it it meant nothing to me what I wrote. I lied against myself and against the others."

The statement related in detail how the company's employes, directed by a British official of the company named Richards, engaged in spying operations. Richards was identified as chief of the Metro-Vickers export department. The deposition also identified him as a member of the British secret service.

Fifteen of the 27 employes, Thornton's statement said, engaged in collecting political and military information. The others collected economic information, and all of it was sent to Richards in London.

Before he was called to the stand, William H. MacDonald, another of the accused, was confronted with a similar confession. He produced a sensation when he said it had been drawn from him by the methods the police used.

Woman Also Questioned.

It looked for a moment as if he were going to repudiate the confession, but later he acknowledged his guilt of all the charges against him.

"They showed me a statement by Thornton," MacDonald said, "in which he testified he had used me to collect information. I considered it useless to deny it."

The woman named Kutogova, a Metropolitan-Vickers employe, upon

Unidentified Man Killed When Hit by Street Car

An unidentified man was killed instantly early last night when struck by a Washington Railway & Electric street car near John street, in Brentwood, Md. It was reported that he was walking down the tracks and was not seen by the motorman until too late.

The body was removed to an undertaking establishment in Hyattsville. The man was described as being of a stout build, about 30 or 35 years of age, having a rather high forehead and dark hair. He was said to be about 5 feet 8 inches tall and appeared to be a foreigner.

Ames, Last Union General, Succumbs in Florida at 97

J. D. Rockefeller's Croney Had Notable Career in U. S. Army.

Ormond Beach Fla., April 13 (A.P.).—Gen. Adelbert Ames, last surviving Union general of the Civil War, died at his winter home here tonight.

He was 97 years old.

Gen. Ames was a crony of John D. Rockefeller. Neighbors said he had appeared in good health until today. Until a few years ago, Ames and Rockefeller were almost daily golfing partners here.

With him when he died were his wife and daughter, Mrs. C. Brooks Stevens. The body will be sent tomorrow afternoon to Lowell, Mass., for burial. The widow and Mr. and

Snowstorm in East Wreaks Heavy Toll

Four Persons Are Dead and Many Injured; Traffic Snarled and Communications Cut Off in Dozens of Communities.

Boston, April 13 (A.P.).—A spring storm, leaving in its wake as much as 3 feet of snow today brought death and untold property destruction to New England.

The deaths of four men, three of them in motor accidents, and injuries to many other persons were attributed to the storm.

Power lines, telephone and telegraph systems, shade trees and fruit orchards went down under the weight of the heavy, clinging snow. Sprouting crops on farms were snow-blanketed, roads and streets blocked, traffic was impeded, dozens of communities were cut off for hours from wire communication, hundreds of automobiles and trucks stalled in the snow, train, bus and street railway schedules were disarranged.

In the howling wind, the yawl Sinaea, of Marblehead, en route for Philadelphia, went aground 4 miles west of Mattituck Point, in Long Island Sound. A Boston ferryboat was slapped violently against her berth, snapping off pilings.

The 3,335-ton steamer Malang, with a crew of 28 aboard, was anchored off Peaked Hill Bar, Cape Cod, her tail shaft broken. In response to a call for help, the Coast Guard cutter Ossipee was standing by, awaiting favorable weather conditions to get a line aboard. The Malang was said to be in no danger.

Tremendous damage to wires, poles and trees was caused in a belt running westward from the coast across much of Maine, New Hampshire, northern Massachusetts and Vermont. The extreme northwestern sections of Vermont escaped the storm and in southern and central costal sections the storm brought only high winds and heavy rain.

The snowfall was heavy in Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont and Massachusetts, the heaviest fall—36 inches—being reported from the vicinity of Keene, N. H. Elsewhere in these States the fall ranged from a few inches to 19, 20 and 32 inches. Portions of northern Connecticut also were hard hit.

WALKER'S BROTHER CLEAR IN FEE CASE

Group Dismisses Charges, but Favors Reform in Naming Physicians.

New York, April 13 (A.P.).—Dr. William H. Walker, brother of former Mayor James J. Walker, and four other physicians were cleared today of charges that they practiced fraudulently and deceitfully in connection with fee splitting in city compensation cases.

The medical grievance committee of the State department of education, which investigated the charges made by the city affairs committee, dismissed them in a 32-page opinion as unsubstantiated, but "deplored" the system by which the physicians were selected by city officials.

The report also recommended that "the education law be amended so as to include unprofessional and dishonorable conduct as ground for disciplinary proceedings against physicians."

The charges were made against Drs. Harris Feinberg, Alfred B. Cassasa, Edward L. Brennan and Thomas J. O'Mara in addition to the former mayor's brother.

Discussing the methods by which the physicians were designated to examine compensation claims against the city, the report held that "the system adopted by the city in these matters * * * is repugnant to good government and leads to manifest abuses."

"We deplore the methods pursued in the selection of the designated physicians as disclosed here," it continued. "* * * We believe that their qualifications were subordinated to political favoritism. The record is devoid of any semblance of a careful investigation into the ability and standing of these physicians."

The report criticized the Rev. John Haynes Holmes and Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, who sought the removal of Sol Ullman, assistant attorney general, who prosecuted the charges.

Lure of Cataract Is Fatal to Guide

Becomes Dizzy at Turmoil of Raging Water and Falls to Death.

Special to The Washington Post.

Clarksburg, W. Va., April 13.—Swirled over the crest of Blackwater Falls, State scenic wonder, William Efland, 45, guide, was dashed to death on rocks at the base 65 feet below today. His body was recovered from Blackwater River 300 feet down stream an hour later.

Mr. Efland and a son, George, 24, were entertaining a visitor from Ohio.

The guide walked out on a log. The raging waters apparently made him dizzy. He swayed, toppled into the torrent and was swiftly borne over the brink. His son and the tourist were too far away to save him.

Boy Drowns Aiding Girl Trying to Save Puppy

San Francisco, April 13 (A.P.).—A mongrel puppy fell into Laguna Honda Reservoir today and caused a tragedy. Its owner, Louise Rornlein, 14, ran to the water's edge in a rescue attempt and also fell in. Her companion, Alvin Hensley, 13, jumped in to aid her. Unable to swim, he drowned. Two older youths heard the girl's screams and rescued her. The body of young Hensley was recovered.

The little dog scrambled ashore and ran away.

2 MORTGAGE BILLS SENT TO CONGRESS

Will Shield Investors While Relieving Home Owners, Roosevelt Claims.

(Associated Press.)

Legislation vast in scope to give emergency relief and permanent aid to home owners was introduced in Congress yesterday in response to a demand from President Roosevelt that "special safeguards" be afforded them.

The Chief Executive, in a special message to Congress, said "the broad interests of the Nation require that special safeguards should be thrown around home ownership as a guaranty of social and economic stability."

A bill to carry out his recommendation was introduced in the Senate as the clerk finished reading his message. It provided:

Emergency legislation for refinancing small home mortgages through a $2,000,000,000 bond issue.

Permanent legislation to encourage thrift and provide funds for home financing through a system of Federal savings and loan associations to which the Government would subscribe a maximum of $100,000,000.

The bill was introduced by Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, Democratic leader, who framed it along with Senators Wagner (Democrat), New York, and Byrnes (Democrat), South Carolina, and administration experts.

It was referred to the Senate Banking Committee.

Late in the day the measure also was introduced on the House side by Chairman Steagall of the Banking Committee.

Under the emergency section, designed to save the homes of thou-

San Antonio Watches Over Daniels' Safety

San Antonio, Tex., April 13 (A.P.).—Fear that some radical might attempt to harm Josephus Daniels, newly appointed Ambassador to Mexico, during a brief stay in San Antonio tonight, led Chief of Police Owen Kilday to detail a bodyguard of plain clothes officers to protect him.

Reports of opposition to Mr. Daniels' appointment in Mexico and the sending of a guard to meet him at Laredo caused Kilday to act.

Gov. Park Signs Bill For Missouri Wet Test

Jefferson City, Mo., April 13 (A.P.).—Gov. Guy B. Park today signed a bill to set up machinery to obtain Missouri's "yes" or "no" on repeal of the eighteenth amendment to the Federal Constitution.

The measure leaves it to the governor to fix the date for a State referendum and the convention to follow. It is felt that both will be held early in the fall.

FARMERS' COST PLAN PLACED IN BILL OF SENATE

Price-Fixing Opposed by Wallace Nailed in by 47-41 Vote.

MORTGAGE PROPOSAL IS PASSED BY HOUSE

Reed Opens G. O. P. Attack on Measure as Making Slave of Agriculture.

(Associated Press.)

Price-fixing machinery to guarantee the farmer production costs and a "reasonable profit" was hammered into the Roosevelt farm program by the Senate yesterday as independents routed Democratic leaders, but the administration mortgage refinancing plan rode easily through the House.

In the first record vote on the broad agricultural relief bill, senators balloted, 47 to 41, in favor of the Simpson-Norris production cost plan, opposed by Secretary Wallace, and then by an adroit parliamentary move insured its retention in the Senate bill.

After Western Democrats and Republicans had written the provision into the measure, Senator Norris (Republican), Nebraska, the sponsor, moved to reconsider and then to table his motion. This was done by a 46 to 41 vote.

House Battle Planned.

Norris acted after Senator Harrison (Democrat), Mississippi, administration stalwart, had given notice he would move to reconsider but did not press his motion. By tabling Norris' similar motion, any chance for reconsideration ended.

Democratic leaders in the House immediately began aligning their forces to down the production-cost plan when it returns to them as a Senate change in the price-lifting bill, which the House passed three weeks ago. The Senate is considering both the price-lifting and mortgage phases of the farm program as one bill.

A number of representatives from the middle Western States, however, planned strenuous efforts to keep the production amendment in the bill. It has been sponsored by John A. Simpson, president of the National Farmers Union, who advocated it before the Senate Agriculture Committee.

The House approved the measure to refinance farm mortgage indebtedness

Chevy Chase Man Bailed in Plot Case

Manchester Denies Fraud in Attempt to Gain Millions by Suit.

Cambridge, Mass., April 13 (A.P.).—George R. Manchester, 67, of Chevy Chase, Md., one of the founders of the Progressive Party and a former intimate friend of the late President Theodore Roosevelt, was arraigned here today charged with consiracy to steal and defraud. He pleaded not guilty and was released in $10,000 bail.

Manchester, who was arrested in Rockville, Md., on April 11, is alleged by Middlesex County authorities to have been one of the leaders of a scheme to raise money to finance an attempt to recover $64,000,000 from the United States Government on the strength of a story that the Government was holding certain bonds posted years ago to guarantee completion of a transcontinental railroad. County prosecutors say the bonds did not exist.

Three Greater Boston men have already been indicted in connection with the alleged swindle.

POLICE INVESTIGATE BEER-SELLER PASTS

Permit Board Also Plans Personal Inspection of Licensed Places.

The Metropolitan Police Department yesterday began an intensive investigation of the moral characters of holders of temporary beer permits in compliance with instructions from the Beverage Permits Board. A list of licensees was furnished police, who first determined whether the beer-sellers have criminal records and then began a first-hand investigation of the reputation of the permit holders.

Vernon E. West, chairman of the board, said yesterday that the board itself will make a personal inspection tour of most of the on-sale license holders before granting them annual permits.

Solicitor's Permits.

Arrangements were made yesterday to print applications for solicitor's permits, the only class of licenses not yet issued. A form to be issued gratis to licensees whenever beer is to be served in connection with meals in private rooms to parties of more than six was drafted also in accordance with provisions of the District beer act.

Only 45 permits were issued yesterday, the smallest number to be approved since the passage of the beer act, and many applications were returned as improperly submitted. The total number of permit holders now is 1,151.

The Gunther Brewing Co., Inc., of Baltimore, yesterday was given a certificate of approval by the District Commissioners to sell beer in the District. Only two Philadelphia brewers and another Baltimore brewer have obtained such certificates, although other out-of-town brewers have been selling their products in Washington.

Jurisdiction Waived.

Licensees are liable to have their permits revoked for purchasing beer from any brewer who has failed to obtain these certificates from the District government.

Corporation Counsel William W. Bride yesterday ruled that an applicant who conducts a business in the circle on the south end of Key Bridge is not entitled to a license even though the District exercises jurisdiction over the area. The property is not in the District of Columbia, but in Virginia, he said.

Beer Restrictions Sought By Sunday School Body

Policemen, firemen and drivers of public vehicles would not be allowed to partake of legal beer under a resolution adopted and sent to the District Commissioners yesterday by the Columbia Sunday School Association.

"We deprecate the action of Congress in legalizing and taxing beer in the District of Columbia," the organization declared, "and we request the Commissioners not to allow the sale of beverages containing more than one half of one per cent alcohol to minors, policemen, firemen and operators of public conveyances."

The association said it represented 130 Sunday schools with approximately 65,000 members.

The resolution, signed by E. H. DeGroot, president, also protested the sale of legal beer in grocery stores, drug stores, or within 500 feet of any place of religious worship, school, railway station, bus or airplane station, boat landing, residential zone or within one mile of the Soldiers' Home.

House Restaurant Delays Planned Serving of Beer

Sale of beer in the House restaurant in the Capitol has been definitely delayed until after the Easter holidays, Manager Frank Verdi announced yesterday.

A subcommittee of the House Accounts Committee earlier decided that the restaurant, as a Federal establishment, did not have to apply to the District government for a license.

It looked for a while as though House members might get their beer today. Then Representative Warren (Democrat), North Carolina, announced he wanted to study the subcommittee finding. Verdi was notified to hold up sales.

New Heating Tunnel Low Bid Is $299,500

A low bid of $299,500 has been made by the P. & A. J. Ellis contracting concern for construction of a new heating tunnel to supply steam for the White House, State Department, Naval Hospital, and other Government buildings in that area.

The project is expected to be placed under contract by the new Assistant Secretary of the Treasury L. W. Roberts, jr., within the next few days.

REMOVAL OF LONG ASKED BY CITIZENS

one of the petition signers, had asked that it be read to the Senate. In a forwarding letter he said similar petitions would follow from "every parish in the State."

Other signers were from Laurel Hill, Bains, Wilson and Plettenberg. Most identified themselves as farmers, although a lawyer and a surgeon were included.

The petitioners asserted they could furnish witnesses to establish that Long was "personally dishonest, corrupt and immoral," and added that Long's continuance in office "is repulsive to the respectable and law-abiding citizens of Louisiana and to the Nation."

They contended, among other things, that Long had "created and maintained in Louisiana a system of corruption and debauchery unparalleled in the history of the State, not even excepting the so-called Louisiana lottery."

"Because of the corruption of the systems of justice," they added, "there is no assurance in endeavoring to obtain relief by action in the State.

"The only hope for relief is through the Senate of the United States and Federal agencies.

"Therefore, we appeal to you, as President of the Senate, to cause the proper investigation to be instituted and conducted that the specific facts and instances in support of the above charges may be presented.

"Evidence is available, by the use of the proper processes of the Senate, to substantiate all charges."

Some of the charges made yesterday were aired in some degree during a special Senate committee's investigation of the Louisiana election in which Senator Overton defeated former Senator Broussard. Senator Long denied them vehemently at the time.

FIRST WOMAN ENVOY SWORN IN

Underwood & Underwood.

Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen, daughter of the late William Jennings Bryan and former member of Congress from Florida, is sworn in as minister to Denmark, the first woman ever to represent the United States in a foreign nation. Percy F. Allen, assistant chief clerk of the Department of State, administers the oath.

CUMMINGS FAVORS MERGING 2 BUREAUS

Alcohol and Prohibition Units Economy Consolidation to Exclude Narcotics.

Attorney General Cummings sees no objection to the consolidation of the Bureau of Industrial Alcohol with the Prohibition Bureau, he said yesterday, although there are "important objections" to merging the Bureau of Narcotics with these other two.

A merger of the Alcohol and Prohibition Bureaus would result both in financial savings and in simplification of work, he said. A plan for such a consolidation has already been presented to Director of the Budget Lewis Douglas for his approval. Throwing the two bureaus into one would save "a great deal of money," Mr. Cummings said, although he could not estimate how much.

There are two objections to including the Narcotic Bureau in the merger. One of these is that the narcotic work is international as well as national. By the terms of the Geneva narcotic treaty, the United States is obligated to maintain a separate narcotic bureau, for cooperation with similar agencies in other countries. The other objection is that the Narcotics Bureau handles a different sort of work from that done by the other two bureaus. The financial saving from merging the Narcotics Bureau would not be as great as that resulting from a merger of the Prohibition and Industrial Alcohol units, he added.

In line with his policy announced last week, the Attorney General has abolished several other positions in the Department of Justice. A very few of these have been replaced, he said, leaving the total salary savings still at $200,000 per year, the same as it was last week after about 45 jobs had been abolished.

$10,000 Damage Suit Filed in Motor Crash

Charging that he was hurt in an accident while a passenger in an automobile driven by J. S. Hathcock, 1300 E street northwest, Edward E. Ballow, 2032 Belmont road northwest, filed suit in District Supreme Court yesterday against Hathcock for $10,000.

Through Attorney John P. Bramhall, Ballow alleged that Hathcock was driving his car near Henderson, N. C., in September, 1930, when it went off the road and overturned, resulting in serious injuries to himself.

FARMER COST PLAN IS PUT IN MEASURE

by the overwhelming vote of 387 to 12, after Speaker Rainey had ruled out of order an attempt to substitute the Frazier proposal.

Sponsored by Senator Frazier (Republican), North Dakota, and the National Farmers Union, it provides for refinancing farm debts at 1½ per cent interest and 1½ per cent yearly on the principal, to be financed by expanding the currency enough to do it.

It is also pending in the Senate as a proposed substitute for the administration mortgage plan, under which $2,000,000,000 in bonds would be issued by the land banks to refinance farm mortgages at 4½ per cent.

Friends of the Frazier bill in the Senate claim at the most 25 votes for it when it comes up for action. Leaders are hopeful that it, a Republican substitute stripping away the proposed broad powers for Secretary Wallace, and other amendments can be disposed of by Saturday and the bill passed.

Republican Attack Opens.

Republicans opened their attack on the farm bill yesterday with a long speech by Senator Reed (Republican), Pennsylvania, calling the measure unconstitutional and holding that instead of "offering real relief to the farmers, it in reality imposes a slavery upon them that would be found to be utterly intolerable."

Senator Hastings (Republican), Delaware, joined Reed, contending it would "create one of the most gigantic trusts ever conceived, dealing with the necessities of the Nation."

Senator Connally (Democrat), Texas, replied to the Republicans by asserting that "if the farmer could receive only a slight increase for the commodities, thousands of industrial workers might be restored to employment," continuing:

"It is the only plan that has been submitted and I contend that the administration is enttiled to have its chance. The President has a program and we've at last got some leadership in the White House after four years of shifting."

Secretary Wallace objected to the cost production plan on the ground administration would be difficult.

Twenty-eight Democrats and eighteen Republicans, nearly all Westerners, and Shipstead (Farmer-Labor), Minnesota, joined in putting the provision into the bill to stay. They were opposed by 27 Democrats and 14 Republicans.

D. C.'S CAMP QUOTA OF 500 COMPLETED

366 Have Already Gone to Fort Washington; Rest to Leave Today.

Washington's quota of 500 recruits for the reforestation army was filled yesterday, it was announced by the emergency relief committee, although only 366 of the men have been sent to the conditioning camp at Fort Washington, Md.

The Army recruiting station, which is examining the men and sending them to the camp, reported that 160 men were dispatched yesterday to join the 206 already sent down. The remainder of the men have been selected by the relief committee, but have not yet gone to camp. They will probably go down today, however.

The recruits for the George Washington National Forest Camp will be set at work upon their arrival at building their own camp.

Forest Service officials said road and trail construction plans which already have been prepared would follow completion of the camp.

H. O. Stabler, assistant regional forester for Eastern States, was at Luray, Va., yesterday in company with an Army officer to make final plans for the establishment of the first of all the camps in the Massanutten Mountains.

GEN. AMES EXPIRES IN FLORIDA AT 97

Mrs. Stevens will accompany the body North.

The general was the oldest living graduate of the United States Military Academy, and served his Nation with distinction both during the War Between the States and the Spanish-American War.

He was provisional Governor of Mississippi during the carpetbagger era of reconstruction in that State. He was the last Northern governor of a Southern State.

He served as United States senator from Mississippi after his appointment by a legislature chosen at an election he called as provisional governor. He resigned from the Senate to take the office of governor again after his election by popular vote.

Racial clashes and activities of the original Ku Klux Klan marred his term and when white Democrats regained power of the State government, Ames was threatened with impeachment. He offered to resign as governor if the impeachment proceedings were withdrawn, and when this was done he quit his office in 1876 and returned North.

His military career for the Union cause was distinguished. He was wounded in one leg at the first battle of Manassas, but despite the wound he directed his command until overcome by loss of blood. His forces were routed, but he recovered and fought throughout the war.

He fought at Gettysburg against Gen. Robert E. Lee, whom he had known as a professor at West Point.

Bandits Obtain $2,500 From Arkansas Holdup

Charleston, Ark., April 13 (A.P.).—Two unmasked men held up the American State Bank here today, took $2,500 from the safe and escaped in an automobile after locking two bank officials in the vault.

Santa Raus

Famous Indiana Town to Have New Postmaster, New Deal Style.

(Associated Press.)

There's going to be a new postmaster at Santa Claus, Ind.

Authoritative word of the change came yesterday, but until Postmaster General Farley is ready to receive a recommendation there will be no successor to James Martin, for nearly 30 years the jovial postmaster at the little Indiana hamlet.

Representative Boehne, in whose district Santa Claus lies, said yesterday he is prepared to submit to Farley a recommendation for appointment as postmaster, but that he is withholding it until it is requested. The Indiana Democrat did not say which of the few residents of the village he will recommend.

Martin, who has played Santa Claus to thousands of children all over the globe during his years as postmaster, had a fourth-class office until last July, and was under civil service rules.

Last summer, however, he was able to show enough increased business to place the office in the third class—just in time to find himself the victim of a shift in political power.

Santa Claus has become famed throughout the country as the destination of mail addressed to the Christmas host.

GET IN FIRST BLOW, TEXAN TELLS DRYS

Sheppard Talks to Women on Eve of Their March to Lincoln Memorial.

The old adage "Get in the first blow" should be the first battle cry of prohibitionists in resisting repeal of the eighteenth amendment, Senator Morris Sheppard, Texas Democrat, declared last night before the Women's National Committee for Law Enforcement.

The Texas senator's advice came on the eve of the Good Friday march at 10:30 a. m. today to the Lincoln Memorial, where a petition for "redress of grievances" will be drafted and sent to the President and Congress.

"We must resist the return of this traffic with all the fervor and the power at our command," said Senator Sheppard, "and the best way to resist is to attack.

Declared Crime Source.

"We must not permit this Nation to forget that a legalized liquor trade means a lower form of civilization. We must not permit this Nation to forget that beverage alcohol is one of the most prolific sources of impoverishment, misery, disease and crime * * *"

The Texan said a new generation had come since the advent of prohibition and that this new generation was "unfamiliar from the viewpoint of experience with the evils" of the liquor traffic.

Following Senator Sheppard, Mrs. Henry W. Peabody, chairman of the committee, announced the march to Lincoln Memorial, to begin at Seventeenth street and Constitution avenue. She said women from 37 States will participate and march to the Memorial on the anniversary of Lincoln's death.

Titanic Disaster Recalled.

"On this anniversary we also remember the Titanic," said Mrs. Peabody, "which went down after a drunken orgy by the officers.

"Under the First Amendment to the Constitution granting religious freedom and freedom of the press we claim the right peaceably to assemble and petition the government for redress of grievances. These will be stated and sent to the President of the United States and both Houses of Congress."

Mrs. Peabody announced that in case of rain the meeting would take place in the New York Avenue Presbyterian Church. She also said the Elder Michaux Singers would meet the marchers at the Memorial under auspicious weather conditions.

Plans Made for Fight.

During the afternoon session of the convention yesterday Mrs. Peabody told those gathered that the ten constituent organizations of the committee had set up political machines in many States where the fight for and against repeal will be waged.

Mrs. Jesse W. Nicholson, president of the National Democratic Law Enforcement League, disagreed with conceptions of Thomas Jefferson as a proponent of liquor.

"Few historians give the true picture of Jefferson," declared Mrs. Nicholson in an address before the convention. "Every time Jefferson's birth is celebrated, speakers suggest that this man of the hour was in favor of liquor. Nothing was further from the truth."

Four Women Injured In Automobile Mishap

Miss Mildred Thornton, 20, of 128 C street southeast, and three nurses from the Blue Ridge Sanitarium at Charlottesville, Va., were injured yesterday afternoon when an automobile driven by Francis H. Massey, 18, of 126 C street southeast, swerved off the pavement and overturned on the Mount Vernon Memorial Highway near Mount Vernon. All were treated at the Alexandria Hospital.

Miss Thornton, whom the nurses were visiting, suffered severe cuts and bruises. The injured nurses were Miss Alma Shorter, whose leg was fractured; Miss Carrie Arehart, lacerations about face and body, and Miss Sarah Woodhouse, minor injuries and shock.

First Lady

Unhurt in Fall Off Horse Into Mud Puddle of Potomac Park.

(United Press.)

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt tumbled from her horse Dot into a puddle of mud in West Potomac Park yesterday and said the Capital "might as well get used to it, as I do it regularly."

Unhurt after her fall, the First Lady looked at her bespattered habit and said with a smile:

MARRIED PERSONS MUST TAKE LEAVE

Grant Orders 30 Days Off by June 24 Where Both Are With Government.

Not less than 30 days' administrative furlough before the end of this fiscal year must be taken by all married persons in the office of Public Buildings and Parks whose mates are also in the Government service, it was announced yesterday by Col. U. S. Grant 3d, director of the office.

In making the order known, it was explained that since the parties concerned had already taken ten days leave, it would be necessary for them to take twenty more. Employes are urged to arrange their leave so as not to inconvenience the office.

The order, in part, follows:

"Married persons in the employ of this office (living with husband or wife), if such husband or wife is also in the service of the United States or the District of Columbia, will take a total of not less than 30 days' administrative furlough before June 24, 1933."

An announcement from the National Woman's Party Council yesterday indicated that a protest would be made by the council directly to President Roosevelt against the marital status legislation affecting Government employes. The council is connected with eight other organizations in an attempt to prevent the dismissal of married women whose husbands are also Government employes.

Whitaker Indicted With Means Again

New Charge Is Conspiring to Steal $35,000 From Mrs. McLean.

The District Grand Jury yesterday indicted Gaston B. Means and Norman T. Whitaker on a charge of conspiring to steal $35,000 from Mrs. Evalyn Walsh McLean.

Means, now awaiting the outcome of an appeal from a sentence of 15 years, and Whitaker, are charged with having approached Mrs. McLean with the story that the kidnapers of the Lindbergh baby had $49,000 in "hot money" in Chicago. This, they are quoted as saying, must be changed into easly negotated currency before the baby would be returned, and they are said to have represented to Mrs. McLean that if she would give them $35,000 they would get her the $49,000 and at the same time effect the return of the infant.

Whitaker is already under indictment for conspiring to steal money from Mrs. McLean. That indictment will probably be dropped in favor of the one returned yesterday. He is being held at the District Jail because of his inability to raise a $25,000 bond.

North Carolina Merger Of State Banks Favored

Raleigh, N. C. April 13 (A.P.).—Legislative approval of a merger of State banks to form a mammoth State-wide commercial banking institution was voted today.

sands of mortgage-burdened owners, a Government corporation would be set up with a capitalization of $200,000,000 and power to issue $2,000,000,000 in bonds for refinancing home debts.

Tax exempt, and bearing a Government guarantee of interest at 4 per cent, the bonds would be exchanged for mortgages at higher interest rates. The debtor would repay the corporation at 5 per cent over a fifteen-year period.

"Urgently Necessary Step."

The other section of the bill would create a permanent system of Federal savings and loan associations in communities which are inadequately served with such facilities, to provide a place where citizens could place their savings and finance their homes.

The Government would subscribe up to $100,000 to capitalize each association, provided an equal amount was raised from other stockholders.

President Roosevelt, in his message, urged the legislation as "a further and urgently necessary step in the program to promote economic recovery."

Dall's Grain Seat Assailed by Reed

Senator Hurls Jibe About Money Changers and Temple Ousting.

(Associated Press.)

Reports that Curtis Dall, President Roosevelt's son-in-law, has bought a seat on the Chicago Grain Exchange were brought to the attention of the Senate yesterday by Senator Reed (Republican), Pennsylvania, in debate on the administration bill to lift farm prices.

Reed asked Senator Connally (Democrat), Texas, if he knew whether the reports, which he said were being published, were true. On Connally's reply that he did not know, Reed observed:

"If he has done it, that's a queer way to drive the money changers out of the temple."

Text of Roosevelt's Message to Congress

President Roosevelt's message to Congress yesterday on home mortgage refinancing follows:

To the Congress:

As a further and urgently necessary step in the program to promote economic recovery, I ask the Congress for legislation to protect small home owners from foreclosure and to relieve them of a portion of the burden of excessive interest and principal payments incurred during the period of higher values and higher earning power.

Implicit in the legislation which I am suggesting to you, is a declaration of national policy. This policy is that the broad interests of the Nation require that special safeguards should be thrown around home ownership as a guaranty of social and economic stability, and that to protect home owners from inequitable enforced liquidation, in a time of general distress, is a proper concern of the Government.

The legislation I propose follows the general lines of the farm mortgage refinancing bill. The terms are such as to impose the least possible charge upon the national Treasury consistent with the objects sought. It provides machinery through which existing mortgage debts on small homes may be adjusted to a sound basis of values without injustice to investors, at substantially lower interest rates and with provision for postponing both interest and principal payments in cases of extreme need. The resources to be made available through a bond issue to be guaranteed as to interest only by the Treasury, will, it is thought, be sufficient to meet the needs of those to whom other methods of financing are not available. At the same time the plan of settlement will provide a standard which should put an end to present uncertain and chaotic conditions that create fear and despair among both home owners and investors.

Legislation of this character is a subject that demands our most earnest, thoughtful and prompt consideration.

FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT.
The White House, April 13, 1933.

Yesterday in Congress

APRIL 13, 1933.

SENATE.

Met at noon and recessed at 6:30 p. m. until noon Friday.

Debated farm relief bill, inserting an antiadministration cost of production guarantee.

Refused unanimous consent to take up Friday reconsideration of Black 30-hour work week bill.

Received special message from President asking for small home mortgage relief legislation.

Vice President received petition from Louisiana citizens asking ousting of Senator Huey Long (Democrat), of Louisiana.

Senator Glass (Democrat), of Virginia, announced Banking and Currency subcommittee had agreed on permanent bank reform bill.

Banking Committee virtually completed drafting of securities bill.

HOUSE.

Met at noon and adjourned at 5 p. m. until noon Friday.

Received special message from President anent small home mortgage relief legislation.

Passed farm mortgage refinancing plan.

Democratic and Republican leaders agreed to vote on arms embargo measure consideration on Monday.

Military Committee heard bitter opposition to President's Tennessee Valley and Muscle Shoals development project.

BIG ARMY AND NAVY URGED BY COALITION

Leaders of Many Societies, in Conference, Also Rap Soviet Recognition.

Advised that "pressure has been brought to bear on President Roosevelt to issue an executive order nullifying all appropriations that have been made for upbuilding of the Army and Navy and Marine Corps, the advisory board of the American Coalition of Patriotic, Veteran, Civic and Fraternal Organizations adopted resolutions vigorously opposing any reduction in the strength of national defense at its spring meeting yesterday at the Carlton Hotel.

Members of the board said they were reliably informed that President Roosevelt is considering issuing such an order. A committee was appointed to present the resolution to the President.

This committee is composed of Col. Fred B. Ryons, of the Military Order of the World War; Maj. Gen. Amos A. Fries, of the Sons of the American Revolution; Mrs. Grace Brosseau, past president general of the D. A. R.; Maj. Edwin S. Bettelheim, of the Military Order of Foreign Wars; Mrs. Virgil H. Stone, national president of the American War Mothers; Mrs. Mary Logan Tucker, national vice president of the Daughters of 1812, and Col. Orville Johnson, national secretary of the R. O. T. C. association.

Deportation of Aliens.

Continuation of the quota system without modification of immigration was urged. Deportation of aliens guilty of seditious propaganda and illegal entry was recommended. Recognition of Soviet Russia was opposed.

Speaking in opposition to recognition of Soviet Russia, Senator Simeon D. Fess, of Ohio, declared that it is futile to enter into an agreement with a country that we know can not be kept. America should be assured that it is able to protect its citizens in a foreign country, he added, citing the charge of sabotage by Soviet Russia against six Englishmen.

Representative Robert L. Doughton, of North Carolina, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, declared that communism is neither a bogey man nor a myth, but a real political attack on religion and morals.

New Officers Elected.

Representative Thomas A. Jenkins, of Ohio, spoke in opposition to the opening of immigration restrictions to any group that might become public charges. He declared that it was necessary to guard first the rights of our own citizens before extending privileges to foreigners.

The bill which would make it a crime for any one to advocate the overthrow of the United States Government was discussed by its author, Representative Lamar Jeffers, of Alabama. "We need a positive law," he declared, "not a negative, passive attitude."

The following new officers were elected: Justice Josiah A. Van Orsdel, national president; Mrs. Brosseau, first vice president; Admiral Mark L. Bristol, second vice president; Princess Cantacuzene, third vice president; H. Ralph Burton, fourth vice president, and Frank S. Steele, national secretary. Dr. John B. Trevor, of New York, was elected honorary president, in recognition of his services for the organization during the past four years.

MRS. ROSS SLATED TO OUST MISS DELL

James T. Igoe Is Mentioned Prominently for Office of Public Printer.

Informed circles, close observers, and just plain rumor united yesterday in declaring that two members of the Civil Service Commission will lose their places, to be replaced by Nellie Taylor Ross, former Governor of Wyoming, and an unnamed man.

George R. Wales, Republican member of the commission, will retain his seat as the minority party member required by law. But Miss Jessie Dell will be unseated by Mrs. Ross, who is vice chairman of the Democratic national committee. Thomas E. Campbell, president of the commission, will also lose his place to a man who has been selected, but whose name is still not known to the tipsters.

George Earle, among the several candidates for Minister to Austria, is considered as having a very good chance for appointment. The post of Public Printer, head of the Government Printing Office here, is being sought by James T. Igoe, representative from Illinois from 1927 to 1933, but no estimate of his chance of appointment could be made.

In the day's crop of rumors was one, well authenticated, that the new Governor of Puerto Rico would be a continent-bred American, and not a resident of the island.

Suffering under the pressure brought to bear by job-hunting constituents, Democratic leaders in the House today called on Postmaster General Farley to learn when the flood gates of appointments might be unloosed. They went away satisfied with the present situation after the administration's policy in regard to patronage had been explained. What the policy will be has not been announced, but will probably be made public in a few days.

The Senate yesterday confirmed the nomination of L. K. Robert, jr., of Georgia, to be Assistant Secretary of the Treasury.

Navy's Civilian Staff Facing Further Cuts

(Associated Press.)

Additional economies in the naval establishment by cutting the civilian personnel of its field stations are in prospect.

Although the exact ntaure of the personnel cuts to be made in the field stations has not been determined, drastic cuts which may affect many of the 44,000 civilian employes are under study. These savings are in addition to the 15 per cent pay cut for Federal employes ordered by President Roosevelt. Secretary Swanson has directed bureau chiefs here to make such personnel reductions as will save 10 per cent of the annual pay roll, now amounting to some $4,300,000, in the department itself.

RUSH PUBLIC WORKS, LABOR CHIEFS URGE

Group Asks Roosevelt to Put Forth Billions in Bonds to Finance Projects.

(Associated Press.)

American labor representatives put before President Roosevelt yesterday an emergency program for huge public works construction and enactment of the shorter work-week bill with a minimum wage clause.

The delegation, spokesman for unorganized as well as organized labor, represented the recent labor conference called by Miss Frances Perkins, Secretary of Labor. She accompanied the group to the White House.

"The President expressed his interest and his convictions in the general direction of the program," Miss Perkins said. "The idea is to build up the purchasing power for wage earners. This meeting was way beyond the scope of any one organization."

A bond issue as high as $6,000,000,000 for public works was advocated by some.

"We want it to be as large as conditions permit," said William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor.

The delegation included Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor; D. B. Robertson, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen; Donald Richberg, Railway Labor Executives Association; Miss Rose Schneiderman, National Women's Trade Union League, and Sidney Hillman, Amalgamted Clothing Workers of America.

President Roosevelt already is at work preparing a public works bill along the lines advocated by the labor spokesmen.

Miss Perkins said she thought it was feasible to include a minimum wage provision in the pending Black 30-hour week bill.

STORM AVOIDABLE, AKRON QUIZ SHOWS

Aerologist States Gale Local; Inquiry to Move Here Probably Tuesday.

Lakehurst, N. J., April 13 (A.P.).—Had Commander F. C. McCord, skipper of the ill-fated U. S. S. Akron, ordered "any other course except that taken in the last few minutes," a naval court inquiry was told today, the huge silver dirigible "might have avoided the turbulent atmosphere" in the vortex of the storm that dashed it to destruction.

The testimony came from Lieut. Charles J. Maguire, chief aerologist at the Naval Air Station here. It created a stir of excitement in the makeshift courtroom that had heard Lieut. Comdr. H. V. Wiley, second in command on the Akron and only surviving officer, declare a few days ago he had suggested a westward course to McCord when the storm was first sighted.

Weather researches since the disaster, Maguire said, convinced him that the thunderstorm which doomed the Akron did not extend westward of the Washington-Newark Airlines.

"Using hindsight," remarked the thin, dark chief aerologist, "a continuance of the course to the westward at midnight would, as the situation turned out, have avoided the severe portions of the thunderstorm."

The interest in Maguire's testimony was heightened when the court heard from Capt. Anton Heinen, German Zeppelin expert, who has the reputation of being the "man who taught the Navy how to fly" lighter-than-air craft.

Heinen, stressing that he was not criticizing the Akron's officers, told the court "Even under the circumstances which the Akron encountered, the accident could have been avoided."

Today's session ended the Lakehurst phases of the inquiry into the greatest disaster in lighter-than-air history. The court will consider the wreck of the J-3 blimp tomorrow as part of the circumstances of the Akron's destruction.

The J-3 inquiry is expected to conclude by noon Saturday, at which time the court will adjourn to the Washington Navy Yard, where the Akron inquiry will be resumed with technical testimony from the Navy Bureau of Aeronautics officers and officials of the Goodyear-Zeppelin Co., builders of the dirigible. The date for resumption of the inquiry in Washington was tentatively set by the court as Tuesday.

NAVAL CHIEF'S BODY BORNE TO RESTING PLACE

Rear Admiral William A. Moffett, victim of the Akron disaster, is buried with full military honors in Arlington National Cemetery. The flag-draped casket is shown being placed on a gun carriage at entrance to the cemetery with naval officers standing at salute.

1,500 AT SERVICES FOR ADM. MOFFETT

Full Military Honors Paid; McCord's Funeral Held Earlier in Day.

The greatest of American Naval aviators, Rear Admiral William A. Moffett, for twelve years chief of the Bureau of Aeronautics, who lost his life in the destruction of the airship Akron off Barnegat Point, was laid to his final rest yesterday on the side of a gently rolling hill in Arlington National Cemetery.

Earlier in the day, Commander Frank C. McCord, commanding officer of the giant airship on its last cruise, was buried, also in Arlington. Throughout the services for both officers a midsummer sun beat down, in sharp contrast to the terrific gale that swept the Atlantic April 4, pulling into the sea the queen of American skies as well as her entire crew save three.

Admiral Moffet's funeral was held at 1 p. m., with full military honors in accord with his rank. Ten airplanes from the naval air station and Quantico flew overhead, displaying clearly the missing file, while on the ground a crowd estimated at more than 1,500 gathered at the graveside, piled high with flowers, where last rites were conducted.

Secretary Swanson of the Navy, together with his aid, Capt. Harold R. Stark, led a large group of representatives from the Navy Department. Flying officers from the naval air station attended in a group.

Funeral services for Commander McCord were conducted at the Chevy Chase Presbyterian Church, with the pastor, the Rev. J. Hillman Hollister, officiating. This was followed by burial in Arlington at 11 a. m. with full military honors. Capt. Sydney K. Evans, chief of the Navy's corps of chaplains, officiated at the services in Arlington for both officers.

Comdr. Berry's Funeral Held at Naval Academy

Annapolis, Md., April 13.—With full military honors the body of Commander Frederick T. Berry, one of the victims of the Akron disaster, was laid to rest in the Naval Cemetery here this afternoon, following funeral services held in the Naval Academy Chapel, with Commander Frank H. Lash, chaplain, officiating.

Many officers attached to the local station and the regiment of midshipmen attended the rites. The funeral cortege, which consisted of detachments of marines and bluejackets, was under the command of Commander Albert M. Penn. The following officers, all close associates of Commander Berry, acted as pall bearers: Commanders Edmund B. Almy, Harry B. Hird, Joseph J. Broshek, Harry G. Donald, Sydney M. Kraus and Lieut. Comdr. Jesse C. Kenworthy. A musician sounded taps and a firing squad of Marines fired three volleys as the body was lowered beneath the sod.

Among out-of-town officers who attended the rites was Commander Arthur B. Court, acting chief of the Bureau of Aeronautics.

LILLIE IS INDICTED IN POLICE SHOOTING

Youth Seized as Passer of Spurious Bill Accused of Intent to Kill.

Two indictments charging Lester L. Lillie, 23 years old, with assault with intent to kill and assault with a deadly weapon were returned by the District grand jury yesterday. One indictment alleges he shot Policeman Herman Lay, of the Third Precinct, and the other names Policeman Arthur Gernhofer as having been shot by Lillie.

Lillie was arrested at Eighteenth street and Columbia road northwest last February 6. While he was standing at the patrol box awaiting arrival of the patrol wagon he began firing through his coat pocket. Lay was shot above the knee and Gernhofer was shot in the foot.

The officers managed to hold Lillie until aid reached them. The youth had been taken into custody in connection with spurious money he allegedly attempted to pass in a restaurant near Eighteenth street and Columbia road.

North Carolina Senate Permits Beer Shipment

Raleigh, N. C., April 13 (A.P.).—The Senate today suspended its rules and passed a bill to allow immediate shipments of beer into North Carolina for sale after midnight of April 30.

Sale of beverages of not more than 3.2 per cent alcoholic content beginning May 1 was authorized by the legislature 10 days ago. Since then, however, some legislators have expressed belief that the beer bill failed to legalize shipment of beer into the State.

Pressure of Delta Rivers Decreasing

Mississippians Still Are Vigilant at Levees as Skies Clear.

Charleston, Miss., April 13 (A.P.).—Although there was no relaxation in the vigilance of flood fighters to keep out backwaters of the delta's flooded rivers, bright skies brought cheer today to the fight that for weeks has proceeded along a far-reaching string of levees in this part of Mississippi.

Tallahatchie Valley flood authorities said that unless there was additional rain the serious aspect of the battle would be at an end by Sunday. The towns of Sumner and Webb, marooned by overflows for two weeks, today reported outlets over some of the highways would be possible by the week-end.

The Tallahatchie, Coldwater and Yalobusha Rivers, major threats in the flood situation, were dropping along a stretch of 25 miles as far south as Leflore County.

Child, 8, Seriously Hurt By Taxi in Clarendon

Kenneth Harding, 8, is in Georgetown Hospital suffering from a fractured right leg and body bruises after being struck by a taxicab operated by George W. Beall, 1122 Park place, at the intersection of Wilson boulevard and Holly streets, Clarendon yesterday afternoon.

Beall was released on his personal bond pending the outcome of the child's injuries. According to Beall the child ran in front of his car.

Missouri House Lifts Rum Prescription Limit

Jefferson City, Mo., April 13 (A.P.).—The House of Representatives passed a bill today lifting the limit on the number of liquor prescriptions a Missouri physician may write. The vote was 88 to 20.

The measure now goes to the Senate, where favorable action is expected.

Blanton Scores Texan Who Offered Party Portion of Pay for Job.

Abilene, Tex., April 13 (A.P.).—An applicant for a west Texas postmastership who offered to contribute 10 per cent of his salary to the national Democratic campaign fund and make a personal gift has been turned down emphatically by Representative Thomas L. Blanton, who termed the offer "an insult to me and the Democratic party."

In correspondence released to newspapers in his district, Blanton said he had called the matter to the attention of President Roosevelt and the latter was "astounded."

"He (the President) is the head of our Democratic organization," Blanton wrote to the applicant, Hubert L. Turner, of Roscoe, Tex. "He will permit no contributions to be received in return for appointments. He will allow no offices to be bought."

Turner declared he had acted innocently and said "I am sorry my motive was misunderstood." He charged Blanton with "playing politics."

FATE OF MRS. JUDD IN BALANCE TODAY

Jury Will Decide Whether Condemned Woman Is Insane at Present.

Florence, Ariz., April 13 (A.P.).—A battle of psychiatrists—the second to be waged over the life of Winnie Ruth Judd—loomed tonight as the condemned woman nervously awaited tomorrow's empanelment of a jury, to determine whether she is insane.

As the time drew near for the eleventh hour court contest—which probably will result in final decision whether she is to die on the gallows at dawn eight days hence or be committed to the asylum—prison officials described Mrs. Judd as wavering on the border line of hysterical delirium.

Apparently no vestige remains of the iron nerve which carried her through fourteen months of fighting against death, said Warden A. G. Walker of the State Prison.

Dr. Joseph Catton, alienist, who declared Mrs. Judd sane at her trial for the murder of Agnes Anne Lerol, will testify for the State.

Dr. E. D. Berends, in charge of the woman's ward of the Arizona Hospital for Insane, upon whose observations Warden Walker based his request for a sanity hearing, is expected to be one of the chief witnesses called by Mrs. Judd's attorneys. Dr. Berends has expressed the opinion she is deranged mentally.

Dr. Catton's analysis of her mentality, as presented in court during her trial in January and February, 1932, caused Mrs. Judd at that time to flame with anger. The San Francisco psychiatrist at one time retreated from the room in the face of an impassioned outburst from the young woman, when she leaped to her feet to accost him as he passed by her chair.

The trial jury rejected her plea of insanity, found her guilty of murder in the first degree and decreed the penalty should be death.

M. U. Student Injured As Motorcycle Hits Auto

Robert Burnett, 24, a student at the University of Maryland, suffered a skull fracture and internal injuries late yesterday when he was thrown from his motorcycle after striking the car of Maurice Benson, 20, 1428 Kenilworth avenue northeast, in College Park, Md. He was taken to Casualty Hospital by the Bladensburg rescue squad. His condition was regarded as serious.

It was reported that Benson was making a left hand turn when the motorcycle crashed into his car. He was held on technical charges.

MITCHELL INDICTED AGAIN IN TAX PROBE

Second Writ Charges Flaw of $156,791 in Banker's 1930 Report.

New York, April 13 (A.P.).—Charles E. Mitchell, former chairman of the National City Bank, was indicted a second time by a Federal grand jury today, this time for alleged evasion of a $156,791.09 income tax for 1930.

Three weeks ago the banker was indicted for alleged evasion of a $573,312.81 income tax for 1929.

The Government contends Mitchell's net income was $2,823,405.95 for 1929 and $760,389.90 for 1930, a total of $3,583,795.85; that he should have paid taxes on that income totaling $730,103.90; that actually he paid no tax for either year.

The first indictment followed shortly after the 55-year-old banker testified before a Senate committee that he created a loss on his private books by selling stock to a member of his family in 1929, and that he later bought the stock back.

The indictment was based on that testimony and a subsequent investigation. The trial has been set for Monday.

For 1929 Mitchell had reported a net loss of $48,000. For 1930, today's indictment set forth, he reported a net income of $8,552.40, and then, by deducting certain dividends received during the year from stock on which taxes were paid at the source, brought the income low enough so that he figured no tax was due.

Mitchell is at liberty on $10,000 bail under the first indictment.

Horner Appoints Board To Ease Mortgage Evil

Springfield, Ill., April 13 (A.P.).—Gov. Horner late today announced the appointment of a committee of nine men to form the nucleus of a State-wide organization to assist farmers in adjusting mortgage problems.

The committee represents both mortgaged farmers and their creditors. It is to cooperate with Director Walter McLaughlin of the Department of Agriculture in setting up county organizations.

St. Peter's Scene Of Wine Ceremony

Pilgrims Pack Basilica to Witness Rite Honoring Christ's Agony.

Vatican City, April 13 (A.P.).—Priests poured wine and water on the central altar stone of St. Peter's this evening to commemorate Christ's suffering 1,900 years ago as He hung on the cross.

Holy Year pilgrims packed the immense basilica to witness the symbolic rites. The liquid, carried to the altar in seven chalices of crystal and one of gilded metal, represented the blood and water that flowed from Christ's side.

Clergymen then imparted a blessing with sacred relics, among them reputed portions of the cross, the holy veil of Veronica and the lance with which the centurion pierced Christ's body. Vice Chancellor Franz von Papen of Germany was one of those present at the ceremony. Earlier in the day the Pope revived a Holy Thursday custom abandoned 63 years ago. He became the first pontiff since Pius XI to carry the blessed sacrament from its tabernacle to the Pauline Chapel, where it is now exposed.

Oklahomans Are Held As Bank Holdup Fails

Chaplin, Ky., April 13 (A.P.).—Two Oklahomans were held for questioning today after Ezra Hawkins, 60, farmer, had snatched a pistol from a would-be robber disguised as a woman, and thwarted an attempt to rob the Peoples State Bank here.

When Hawkins snatched the pistol, two holdup men fled from the bank. They were pursued by about 150 men. Shortly afterward, P. A. Hampton, 44, and R. E. Hampton, 38, who said they were brothers, of Checotah, Okla., were detained for investigation. They told officers they were hitch-hiking to Lexington.

whose testimony the present charges are based, also was questioned.

She said Thornton and Monkhouse (Thornton's chief, who also is a defendant) had discussed plans for sabotage in her presence. Both the Englishmen denied it. The woman said she was on unusually friendly terms with both men because she had no other friends. Her own countrymen shunned her because she worked for foreigners.

It was after 10 o'clock when the session finallyadjourned until morning.

U. S. Customs Man Gives Up to Haiti in Bribe Charge

State Department Says David W. Johnson Has Confessed Defrauding Island Republic of Tariff Revenues; Immunity Is Withdrawn.

(Associated Press.)

David P. Johnson, an American customs collector, whom the State Department said had confessed to taking bribes and defrauding the Haitian government of customs revenue, surrendered yesterday to the authorities in Haiti to face trial. In surrendering to the native police in Port au Prince, Johnson refused to discuss the matter.

A statement from the State Department said his immunity to arrest was withdrawn after a long investigation, which the department said was instituted by the American receiver and financial adviser to Haiti, Sidney de la Rue. It was understood to have been decided upon as a result of conversations between high officials here and Norman Armour, the American Minister to Haiti, during a recent visit.

"The fraud consisted in underweighing the bales of merchandise consigned to the importers (Zirke Brothers, of Port au Prince), duties being payable on the weight of each package," the department's statement said. It added that Johnson had confessed to accepting bribes from Zirke Brothers.

Under treaty between Haiti and the United States, Johnson was not subject to trial by the Haitian courts without specific action of the American Government.

Johnson served in collecting Haitian customs under an arrangement made for meeting the native government's financial obligations to American interests. He worked under the financial advisor-general receiver of customs nominated by the President of the United States and appointed by the president of Haiti.

At the State Department, officials said no definite information was available concerning Johnson's connections in this country although it was believed he formerly lived near Boston.

KELLY IS ELECTED MAYOR OF CHICAGO

Civil Engineer, Director of Vast Sanitary Project, Pledges "Best Job."

Chicago, April 13 (A.P.).—Edward J. Kelly, a curly haired, 6-foot Democrat, was elected mayor of Chicago by the city council today to serve until April, 1935.

A civil engineer by profession, Kelly has been president of the city's huge South Park System for nine years. Also, he has directed the $120,000,000 20-year improvement program of the Chicago sanitary district as chief engineer.

"I will do the best job I can as mayor," was his brief comment after taking the oath of office.

Political leaders said he undoubtedly would follow the policies of his predecessor—Anton J. Cermak, whose life was ended by Giuseppe Zangara's bullet at Miami, Fla.

Kelly's most pressing burden will be directing the towing of Chicago out of its financial mire.

His first official act was to designate a proxy to sign a vault full of tax anticipation warrants on which to obtain $1,700,000 for 14,000 school teachers, unpaid for months and threatening to strike.

Kelly's election came after Patrick A. Nash, 70-year-old Democrat "boss," declined the job because of his age. Kelly will be 57 years old next May 1.

Idaho Court Gives Writ To Test Near Beer Sale

Pocatello, Idaho, April 13 (A.P.).—The Idaho Supreme Court today granted a writ of habeas corpus, returnable in Boise May 11, in a test of the State's prohibition law, heretofore interpreted as forbidding the sale of near beer.

The writ was granted on petition of attorneys for J. Howard Speer of Twin Falls, arrested in connection with the sale of near beer.

Hitch Hiker Admits Killing at His Trial

Weeps as He Tells How He Slew Man in Auto and Robbed Him.

Hood River, Oreg., April 13 (A.P.).—William J. Moore, 27, admitted on the witness stand in his trial here today that he shot and killed Harold Francis O'Connor, of Brooklyn, N. Y., who had picked him up on the highway. His defense is insanity.

Tears streamed down Moore's face as he answered a question of his own attorney as to whether he killed O'Connor.

"Yes, I guess I did," he said. "I don't know where it was that I killed him. I do not know how far it was from where the body was found. I took the travelers checks and the car. I had no intention of shooting him when I robbed him. * * * The gun went off when we were struggling."

Moore, a hitch hiker, had been given a ride by O'Connor over the old Oregon trail. O'Connor was shot to death last August 30.

Walker-Compton Banns Are Removed at Cannes

Cannes, France, April 13 (A.P.).—Banns for the marriage of former Mayor James J. Walker of New York and Miss Betty Compton have been removed from the board at City Hall, the necessary legal time having elapsed today.

They now are eligible to be married at any time, but the ceremony is unlikely until April 18 at the earliest, because of the Easter holidays. Mr. Walker is averse to the marriage during Holy Week.

ALEXANDRIA MASONS MARK SOLEMN RITE

Episcopal Church Scene of Combined Three-Hour Service Today.

THE WASHINGTON POST BUREAU,
907 Prince St., Alexandria, Va.
Phone Alexandria 323.

The Scottish Rite Masons of Alexandria last night held a closed service, the most impressive of the Masonic rites, known as the Maundy Thursday extinguishing of the lights, which will be relighted with a special service on Easter Sunday afternoon. This service was in the Masonic Temple.

An open service in observance of Maundy Thursday was held at 8 o'clock in the Methodist Episcopal Church South. The invocation was by the pastor of the church, the Rev. Ernest W. Aaron. Welcome address, B. W. Pullin, K. C. C. H.; male quartet, "Rock of Ages;" address, "The Significance of Maundy Thursday Scottish Rite Masonry," the Rev. William G. Darling, of Front Royal; choir, two selections; address, "Significance of Maundy Thursday to Christianity," the Rev. Ernest W. Aaron; duet; address, "The Dead," John H. Trimyer; hymn, congregation; benediction, the Rev. William G. Darling.

Officers in charge of the relighting of the candles are: B. W. Pullin, K. C. C. H., wise master; Roger C. Sullivan, 32, senior warden; H. A. Lipscomb, 33, junior warden; William Lewis Allen, 33, treasurer; Clyde C. Lamond, jr., 32, secretary; R. W. Nixon, 33, orator; A. Slater Lamond 32, master of ceremonies; music, Samuel E. Wade, 32, chairman; J. Linwood Scruggs, 32, violinist; Alvin Freidlander, 32, violinist, and Clarence W. Sutton, 32, soloist.

The Alexandria Ministerial Association will have a three-hour service in the Methodist Episcopal Church South from 12 noon to 3 o'clock, today, Good Friday, with the following program:

First hour, the Rev. Norris A. Lineweaver, pastor of the Trinity Methodist Church; Mrs. George E. Warfield, organist; invocation, Capt. Ernest Hopkins, local Salvation Army; solo, Mrs. Joseph Hoeft; speaker, the Rev. John S. Sowers, pastor of the Del Ray Baptist Church.

Second hour—The Rev. Ryland T. Dodge, pastor of the Baptist Temple, presiding; Miss Margaret Alexander, organist; speaker, the Rev. Ernest W. Aaron, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church South; duet, Stephen Field and Harold Wells; solo, Mrs. Perker Richardson.

Third hour—The Rev. C. Morgan Compher, pastor of the Methodist Protestant Church, presiding; James Walters, organist; soloists, Mrs. William B. McIlwaine and Mrs. Robert F. Gooding.

Other speakers will be the Rev. Dr. William Jackson Morton, rector of Christ Episcopal Church; the Rev. J. M. Jennings, pastor of the Free Methodist Church; the Rev. C. Morgan Compher, pastor of the Methodist Protestant Church; the Rev. William B. McIlwaine, pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church; the Rev. Pierce S. Ellis, pastor of the First Baptist Church; the Rev. Dr. E. V. Regester, pastor of the Del Ray Methodist Episcopal Church South; the Rev. P. C. Duborg, pastor of the Aurora Hills Baptist Church, and the Rev. Percy Foster Hall, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church.

The offering at this service will go toward expenses of the service and the Ministerial Association community needs.

CITY HEADS TODAY ASK FUNDS SHIFT

for the erection of Calvert street bridge over Rock Creek, and for a more generous allotment of relief funds in the pending bill.

Walter S. Ufford, of Associated Charities, and Dr. Frederic W. Perkins, of the Council of Social Agencies, will point out the urgencies of the local relief situation. Dr. Llewellyn Jordan, of the Washington Board of Trade, and George Oakley Totten, jr., local architect, will appear in behalf of the Calvert street bridge project.

More Funds Urged.

An appeal for additional relief funds was made at yesterday's hearings by Public Welfare Director George S. Wilson and LeRoy S. Halbert, in charge of emergency relief. Miss Selma Borchardt testified that the present teaching force in the schools can be taken care of by adding only a small amount to the bill. Dr. George F. Bowerman, District librarian, explained in detail the detrimental effect of the cuts on the library system.

Witnesses today will include George E. Sullivan, Mrs. Mary Giles Rafter, S. S. Stabler, Frank T. Sholl, O. H. Brinkman, Mrs. Frost Mills, Dr. Frances Butts, Mary Mason Jones, Mrs. R. F. McKelway, Demarest Lloyd, E. R. Williams and Berkley Simmons.

The Thomas proposal to permit broad transfers of funds within the District government grew out of the request by Superintendent of Schools Frank W. Ballou that he be allowed to shift school appropriations to where they could be most advantageously used. Dr. Bowerman followed this up with a similar request yesterday for the library system.

ABOUT THE SHOW SHOPS

With NELSON B. BELL

Louis Johrden, Post Staff Photographer.
HELEN HAYES.

THE life of a noted actress, it seems, is hedged about with annoyances, intrusions, trials and tribulations. Take the case of Helen Hayes, for instance.

Miss Hayes, as everyone knows, is among the most brilliant as well as the most popular of a long list of distinguished artists the National Capital has contributed to the glory of the theater—Billie Burke, Ina Claire, Ruth Chatterton, Wilton Lackaye, William Pruette, Tim Murphy, Bessie Tyree, Nat Wills, Patricia Bowman, the list is long down through the years—and one whose artistic stature has impressed itself as commandingly upon the cinema of late as it had formerly done upon the stage.

So it probably was to have been expected that after landing in New York from Europe day before yesterday, hastening to the Capital yesterday afternoon at 3, called by the serious illness of her father, Mr. Frank V. A. Brown—you will remember Helen Hayes with the old Columbia Players first as little Helen Hayes Brown—and scarcely getting her hat off in the home of relatives after an anxious afternoon she should have been surrounded by dramatic editors and newspaper photographers by 9 o'clock last night.

That's the way we dramatic desks are—no pity.

However, curled up in the capacious comfort of a large wing chair, Miss Hayes graciously submitted to the customary inquisition and disclosed that:

She returned to America after one week in Paris and Cannes, on the Riviera, for no other reason than that she had a premonition that all was not well with her father—which some of us interpreted as only another proof of an exquisitely sensitive intuitive sense that has much to do with making her so fine an actress.

Her husband, Charles MacArthur, author and playwright, she left on the other side with Norma Shearer and Irving Thalberg, he and Mr. Thalberg having their heads together over a new screen play for Miss Shearer.

Her 3-year-old daughter—who was asleep upstairs—she brought back with her, and to Washington to see her grandfather, after an absence of many months. After extended contemplation, small granddaughter greeted ill grandparent with: "Why, grandpapa, you haven't any hair on your head!"—which seemed to make both her and him feel a good deal better.

The next picture scheduled for her at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer is "Night Flight," which she hopes not to make, because it is another tragic story, in which Clark Gable dies in the last reel—too much like "A Farewell to Arms" and "The White Sister."

What she hopes to do instead is "Another Language," Rose Franken's play, that opened here April 18, 1932, just a year ago, in which case she would be directed by George Cukor, who is especially deft at that sort of thing.

Is glad Gilbert Miller, for whom she will do a new play next October, did not go in for directing when he was on the West Coast, reputedly for that purpose, that being apart from his genius for the living theater.

Has a recently modified contract with M-G-M that permits her to alternate six months of picture work with six months on the stage.

Can not understand how any picture ever turns out at all well, since so many are written on the set without prepared script to begin with—a method that drives conventional writers mad in a week, but is right down her husband's wild, newspaper alley! And Ben Hecht's and Gene Fowler's.

She and Mr. MacArthur have purchased an estate and are building a home at Nyack, N. Y., ten minutes from the site of Ben Hecht's gentleman farming, which they expect to occupy upon Mr. MacArthur's return from abroad. It contains a teakwood bath—of all things!—about the size of Lake Michigan, and a specially designed combination bedroom-living-room-kitchen-workroom-library-hideout, where Charlie can barricade himself indefinitely when the mood hits him, or Mrs. MacArthur goes actress!

She hasn't seen "The White Sister" in its finished form, having worked from 9 a. m. to 4 a. m. next day, on its last scene in order to catch the boat through the Panama Canal for New York and Europe, finally scrambling aboard still in "White Sister" costume and makeup—hopes to see the picture at the Palace, maybe today.

Met former Mayor Jimmie Walker and Betty Compton strolling about Cannes, but didn't know until later that they were shopping for a marriage license. Had the wedding been held yesterday, as originally planned—or was it held, despite Miss Compton's illness?—Norma Shearer was to have been a bridesmaid.

Hopes some time to play Maggie Wylie on the screen, but somehow can't seem to interest M-G-M in the idea.

Will remain here several days, or until completely reassured as to her father's condition.

What she would rather do for the screen than anything else is a rip-snorting slapstick comedy, without a tear in it!

Helen Hayes, in addition to being a grand actress, is a thoroughly grand person—else a gang like that, with their flashlight bulbs, cigaret smoke and all, would have been tossed right out on their ears.

We may not have pity, but we have luck!

MEET KILDROY P. ALDRICH, new chief inspector, Postoffice Department, who succeeds Thomas M. Milligan. Born in Alhambra, Ill., February 16, 1877. Entered postal service from Oklahoma as railway postal clerk 36 years ago. Appointed assistant chief clerk, railway mail service, Oklahoma City.

Kildroy P. Aldrich

At the beginning of the Wilson administration he was appointed postoffice inspector, Chattanooga division, working in Alabama, Mississippi and Tennessee. He was acting inspector in charge at Chattanooga eight months. Later assigned as postoffice inspector with the American Expeditionary Forces in France.

He was appointed by Postmaster General Burleson as postoffice inspector in charge of the St. Louis division. While there he was placed in charge of the postoffice at Akron and conducted the affairs of that office nineteen months, was appointed postmaster at Akron by President Wilson, but along with other Democratic appointees was refused confirmation by a Republican Senate.

After the close of the Wilson administration Mr. Aldrich was reappointed as a field inspector in the Chicago division.

In 1927 he was promoted to inspector in charge of the Chicago division, which place he has held ever since.

About a dozen contestants remain in the Federal Chess Tourney being staged under the auspices of the Federal News at the Federal Clubhouse, 1515 Sixteenth street northwest.

The feature match of the current week, between James Byler and C. C. Bettinger, Veterans' Administration, in the advanced class, proved a whiz. With three games to play, Byler and Bettinger started their first tilt Monday night and were unable to conclude until midnight Wednesday. Byler finally won.

They started their second game yesterday. It's not over yet.

MYSTERY OF BUILDING F.

Yesterday they were busy tearing out shelving on Tempo Building F. It was reported that unemployment headquarters would move in and that relief would be dispensed to around 8,000 men a week.

Inquiry at Col. Grant's office failed to confirm the report, however. They had heard nothing of the report, although they did know work of remodeling was being done.

General Supply Committee and Division of Supply, Treasury, has been moved from Building F to Federal Warehouse, Eighth and D streets southwest.

INTRODUCING FRANK T. BELL.

Fisheries' new commissioner, Frank T. Bell, born in Union, Mo., spent his early days in Texas and Oklahoma. He left Shawnee, Okla., in 1906 to attend the World's Fair at Portland, Oreg.

Although he spent eighteen months in Alaska, most of his business career was in Seattle in construction work. He was elected twice as treasurer of Grant County, Wash., and he was the only Democratic county treasurer in the State to weather the Harding landslide. He has been Senator Dill's secretary since 1922.

It's trite to say "There oughta be a law." But there should be one to cover the case of a man who puts in 30 years plus with the Government only to be shown the gate because some one else was on the winning side. Andrew Jackson's victor-cops-the-spoils system still lives, except nowadays they "resign."

B. M. KAUFMAN DIES; FURNITURE MANAGER

Rites for The Hub Official to Be Conducted Today in Baltimore.

Funeral services will be held in Baltimore, Md., at 3 p. m. today for Bernard M. Kaufman, 47, manager of the Hub Furniture Co., and widely known in local business circles, who died yesterday in Emergency Hospital following an operation for appendicitis. He will be buried in the Baltimore Hebrew Cemetery.

Mr. Kaufman has been identified with Washington business for more than 20 years. He was stricken last Friday after working all day in his office and was taken to the hospital Saturday.

A native of Baltimore, Mr. Kaufman was a stockholder in the Reliable Stores Corporation of that city, which operates a chain of furniture stores throughout the East and South. The Hub store here was part of that chain.

Mr. Kaufman was a member of the Merchants & Manufacturers Association, the Washington Chamber of Commerce and the Better Business Bureau. He also held membership in the Masonic Fraternity.

Mr. Kaufman made his home here at 1705 Allison street northwest. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Clarabell Kaufman; his mother in Baltimore; a sister, Mrs. Amy Behrends, of Baltimore, and five brothers, Jesse and Sidney Kaufman, both of Baltimore; Carl Kaufman, of Detroit, Mich.; Bennett Kaufman, who assisted him at the Hub store, and Herbert Kaufman, manager of a local transfer company.

New Gas Refrigerator Shown First Time Here

The new air-cooled gas refrigerator, which was recently announced by Electrolux Refrigerator Sales, Inc., in New York, is being shown for the first time in Washington at the Washington and Georgetown Gas Light Cos.

According to H. M. Brundage, jr., general sales manager of the Washington Gas Light Co., the refrigerator operates on the absorption principle, "freezing by heat." It has eliminated the use of machinery and moving parts.

Alexandria Lions' Delegate.

Randolph Stone has been elected the delegate from the Alexandria Lions Club to represent that body at the twenty-fourth district convention of Lions Clubs in Blacksburg, Va., May 4 and 5. Stanleigh Swan was chosen as alternate. This club will hold its charter night celebration Wednesday, at the George Mason Hotel.

Good Friday Services Today To Draw Many to Churches

Three-Hour Agony Rites to Be Held by Episcopalians and Catholics, With Impressive Programs Also Arranged by Others.

"And he was Crucified, Dead and Buried."

These, the most impressive words in the history of Christianity, will mirror the thoughts of thousands of worshippers in Protestant and Catholic Churches today, Good Friday.

The dark hours in which Christ suffered on the Cross will be paralleled by three-hour agony services in Episcopalian and Catholic churches. Bishop James E. Freeman will preach at the passion service in the great sanctuary and choir of Washington Cathedral from noon until 3 p. m.

Canon Raymond L. Wolven will conduct the service. Music will be furnished by the Cathedral Choir of men and boys under the direction of Edgar Priest.

The entire service will be broadcast over the Nation-wide network of the Columbia Broadcasting System, through Station WJSV. Bishop Freeman's introductory address, from 12:30 p. m. until 12:45 p. m., will be rebroadcast in England through the British Broadcasting Co.

Dr. Peter to Give Address.

Evening prayer will be held in the Chapel of St. Mary at 4 p. m. The Rev. Dr. G. Freeland Peter, canon and chancellor of the cathedral, will deliver the fifth address in his series given during Holy Week.

Historic Trinity Episcopal Church, Third and C streets northwest, will hold a three-hour service, beginning at noon. The addresses on the Seven Last Words will be given by the vicar, the Rev. Jackson L. Cole. Appropriate music will be furnished by members of Trinity Church Choir.

The Rev Dr. ZeBarney T. Phillips, rector of the Church of the Epiphany, will conduct a three-hour service, with meditations on the words from the Cross. At 8 p. m. the choir, under the direction of Adolf Torovsky, organist and choirmaster, will give the Du Bois cantata "The Seven Last Words."

At St. Aloysius Church, North Capitol and I streets northwest, the Rev. Charles F. Conner will deliver a sermon on Christ's Seven Last Words at the agony service. The Rev. James M. Cotter will deliver a passion sermon during the Tenebrae service at 7:30 p. m.

Rock Creek Episcopal.

The Rev. Dr. Franklin J. Bohanan will deliver the sermon at Rock Creek Episcopal Church, Rock Creek Church road and Webster street, at 10:30 a. m.

Holy Comforter Chapel, Rock Creek parish, 5714 Georgia avenue northwest, will hold a three-hour service from noon until 3 p. m.

The Rev. George F. Shrohaver, of Georgetown University, will preach at the three hours agony at the Church of the Immaculate Conception, Eighth and N streets northwest. Station of the cross will take place at 5 p. m. The mass of the presanctified will take place at 10 a. m. At 7:45 p. m. Tenebrae will be chanted by the friars of the Atonement and the Brothers of the Chaminade College, Brookland. The Rev. Francis J. Hurney, pastor, will preach. A relic of the true cross will be venerated after all services on Good Friday. Station WOL will broadcast a portion of the three-hour service, from 12 noon until 1 p. m.

Dr. Charles A. Hart, of Catholic University, director of the Catholic Evidence Guild, will speak at an open-air meeting in Franklin Park at 2:30 p. m. today, and again at 8 p. m. His subject will be "The Way of the Cross, the Passion of Our Lord." The meeting is nonsectarian.

Others Are Arranged.

Services will be held throughout the day at the Franciscan Monastery, St. Patrick's Church, the National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception at Catholic University, St. Dominic's, Sixth and E streets southwest, and St. Martin's, 1908 North Capitol street.

The Universalist National Memorial Church, Sixteenth and S streets northwest, will hold a service at 8 p. m. based largely on the "The Passion" performed for many years at the cathedral in Cadiz. It was for this cathedral that Haydn composed "The Passion" more than 100 years ago.

The choir will be assisted by a double solo quartet composed of Irene Koehl, and Grace Groves, sopranos; Jessie Masters and Marjorie Soper, contraltos; Howard Ludwig and Charles Beardsley, tenors; Warren Adams and Robert Ferebauer, bassos. The Rev. Frederic W. Perkins, minister, invites the public to be present.

Choir to Sing Cantata.

The choir of the Eckington Presbyterian Church will sing Stainer's cantata, "The Crucifixion," at a service at 8 p. m., under direction of Miss Ruth F. Kimball, organist. The quartet, composed of Helen Markham Flynn, Vesta Pollock Lynn, Paul E. Garber and Elliott Button, will be assisted by the chorus.

Other churches planning Good Friday services include McKendree M. E., Massachusetts avenue near Ninth street; St. John's, opposite Lafayette Square; Church of the Ascension, Massachusetts avenue and Twelfth street northwest; Mount Airy Baptist Church, North Capitol and L streets; Mount Pleasant Congregational, 1410 Columbia road northwest; Francis Asbury, Sixteenth near Lamont street northwest; Sixth Presbyterian, Sixteenth and Kennedy streets northwest, and St. Agnes, 46 Q street northwest.

The United States Marine Band will give a special Good Friday program in the auditorium of the Marine Barracks at 3 p. m.

WOODIN'S MOTHER DEAD IN NEW YORK

Secretary at Bedside When End Comes; Suffered Stroke Sunday.

New York, April 13 (A.P.).—Mrs. Clemuel Ricketts Woodin, 85-year-old mother of Secretary of the Treasury William H. Woodin, died today at her home just off Fifth avenue.

The Cabinet member, her only son, had come from Washington when his mother's condition was reported grave and was close by when death came shortly before dawn.

Mrs. Woodin, who was born November 24, 1847, at Harford, Pa., the daughter of Clark Dickerman, suffered a stroke of paralysis Sunday.

The funeral will be held here Friday afternoon and services will also be read at the First Methodist Church in Berwick, Pa., at 3 p. m. Saturday. Burial will be in the family mausoleum at Berwick.

Clemuel Woodin, one of the founders of the American Car & Foundry Co., which William Woodin headed at the time of his Cabinet appointment, died in 1931. He and the former Mary Dickerman were married in 1865.

Before the formation of the American Car & Foundry Co. Clemuel Woodin was president of the Jackson & Woodin Manufacturing Co., in Berwick.

Mrs. Woodin is also survived by a brother, Payson Kingsbury Dickerman, of Milton, Pa.

A. T. MASON FUNERAL.

Will Be Held This Afternoon With Methodist Church Rites.

Funeral services for Albert T. Mason, chief clerk in the office of materials and supplies of the Southern Railway Co., who died Wednesday at his home in Sherman Apartments, will be held today at 2 p. m. at the W. W. Chambers funeral home, 1400 Chapin street northwest.

The Rev. Frederick Brown Harris, pastor of the Foundry M. E. Church South, will officiate. Interment will be in Rock Creek Cemetery.

L. O. CAMERON, RAIL INDUSTRIALIST, DIES

Funeral This Afternoon for Scion of Old Family of Pennsylvania.

Lewis Oliver Cameron, 65, prominent in the railroad supply industry, died yesterday following a long illness at his home, 2118 Wyoming avenue northwest.

Mr. Cameron, a native of Pittsburgh, was a member of an old Pennsylvania family which included among its members Simon Cameron, Secretary of War in Lincoln's Cabinet. He was a member of the Chevy Chase Club and the Army and Navy Club of Washington.

He is survived by his wife, who was Miss Louise Wann, of New York, and by a sister, Mrs. Frank Bowman, of Pittsburgh.

Funeral services will be held today at 5 p. m. at the residence. Interment will be in Pittsburgh.

Honorary pallbearers are Joseph Bailey, Frank Bell, Charles F. Brookes, William S. Camp, Sterling H. Campbell, John W. Childress, William W. Darrow, D. W. McGeorge, Maury Middleton, A. C. Needles, Nathaniel S. Reeder, Harry C. Sheridan, Louis H. Skinner and Fred S. Wynn.

SWINDELL RITES TODAY.

Montgomery County Resident Is Survived by Three Sons.

Funeral services for Mrs. Nannie R. Swindell, 53, who died at her home in Silver Spring, Md., Wednesday following a stroke of apoplexy, will be held today at 11 a. m. from her late residence, 913 Silver Spring avenue. The Rev. Ralph D. Smith, of Woodside Methodist Episcopal Church, will officiate. Burial will be in Grace Church Cemetery, Woodside.

Mrs. Swindell was a native of Germantown, Md., and a lifelong resident of Montgomery County. She was a member of the Silver Spring Chapter of the Eastern Star and also of the Daughters of Confederacy. Her husband, Lucien G. Swindell, died about five years ago.

Surviving her are three sons, Lawrence L., Donald G. and Robert E., all living at home.

SECRETARY HULL RECEIVES NEW FRENCH AMBASSADOR

ing any propaganda agents in the United States. He said:

"The word propaganda is an unfortunate choice and in no wise describes the work that the French government intends to do. These credits recently voted by my government are for the purpose of supplying those people who are anxious to know something about France and the French. It is merely a work of giving information or publicity to the phases of French cultural and economic life that are too often neglected by the student or tourist."

The announcement of the mission of former Premier Edouard Herriot came to him as he was on the ocean, the new ambassador declared, and he has no opportunity of knowing what his instructions are going to be. "M. Herriot," the ambassador declared, "is our perennial Mayor of Lyons. He is also famous because he spends one-third of his life sleeping on trains, going from Paris to Lyons."

Impression of de Laboulaye.

The prospect of Italian-French agreement on the details of their naval aspirations has been merged in the four-power proposal now before the two countries. The fate of the Franco-American conversations for a bilateral trade agreement has been temporarily suspended in the necessity of preparing for the world conference, where these factors will be more broadly treated.

In appearance the new ambassador is a sharp-featured man, with a kindly expression and a pleasing personality. He speaks English well and for more than a half-hour parried questions which ranged from the object of his visit to the possibility of importation of French wines. In his office at the chancellory there was a large picture of George Washington and a bust of Abraham Lincoln. An etching of former Premier Poincare, however, was lying on the floor. The counselor of the embassy, Jules Henry, was with him in receiving the newspapermen.

The two energetic members of France's Little Entente, Czechoslovakia and Roumania, succeeded in having the scope of the preconference discussions broadened even beyond their expectations. They were anxious to be included because President Roosevelt had invited Premier Mussolini. So Secretary Hull invited not only their diplomatic representatives, but the representatives of every country in Europe and Latin America as well.

Currencies Problem.

Yesterday Minister Veverka and Minister Davila called at the Department of State and remained with the Secretary a considerable time. It was subsequently understood that their special interests in the exchange of views are more monetary than economic. They are anxious to have the nations agree to an understanding on exchange values of all currencies before proceeding to the reduction of tariffs or the increase of commodity values.

The conversations between Secretary Hull and Ambassador Lindsay will continue today. There has been an exchange of views between the foreign office and the ambassador here with regard to debts, which heretofore have been strenuously muted. The position which will be taken by French Delegate Herriot will undoubtedly be supported by British Prime Minister MacDonald, since the terms of the Lausanne agreement between them still holds.

Arlington County Board To Reduce Tax Basis

The Arlington County board will meet tomorrow at 10 a. m.

From reliable sources it is learned that the board will adopt the budget, effective July 1, 1933, and that the county levy will be reduced to $2.20 from $2.45.

AID FOR HOME OWNERS.

President Roosevelt's plan for aiding distressed home owners is an extension of the Home Loan Banking system set up last year. The central purpose of the Home Loan banks is not changed. But the President seeks to superimpose emergency relief upon Mr. Hoover's plan of permanently loosening credit in the field of home financing. The Home Loan banks are now lending about $10,000,000 per week for the benefit of home owners. These activities will not be disturbed, but a special effort will be made to reach the home owner whose mortgage must be scaled down and refinanced.

To accomplish the latter purpose a Home Owners Loan Corporation would be set up under the Federal Home Loan Board. The Treasury would furnish this corporation with a capital of $200,000,000 and it would be authorized to issue 4 per cent bonds up to $2,000,000,000, the interest on which would be guaranteed by the Government. These bonds could be exchanged for mortgages on homes valued at less than $10,000. But no mortgage would be taken over for more than 80 per cent of the value of the mortgaged home, as appraised by the corporation. This means, of course, that most mortgages sold to the corporation would have to be scaled down, and home owners would obtain the benefit of the reduction.

A provision to encourage building and loan associations in communities not now served by agencies of this kind is also in the bill. Such institutions would be established by the Government and other shareholders who would furnish at least half of the capital. It is intended that the Government should gradually withdraw from this field after five years. By that time the new associations should be able to continue in operation without Government aid.

This is an ambitious plan, almost a parallel to the farm mortgage refinancing program. It is not yet certain how it will work out. Some difficulty may be experienced in the issuance of bonds that are guaranteed as to interest but not as to principal. The expense of this plan to the Government can not accurately be estimated at this time. If it is successful, billions of dollars worth of home mortgages may be laid at the door of the Home Owners Loan Corporation, in which event there would be an insistent demand for more bonds to finance them. No doubt a strong hand will be needed to keep out the influence of politics.

The purpose of the measure is most praiseworthy. "The broad interests of the Nation," says President Roosevelt, "require that special safeguards should be thrown around home ownership as a guarantee of social and economic stability." The homes of the people are sacred in American tradition. Broad measures for their preservation are justifiable. It is to be hoped that President Roosevelt's experiment in emergency home financing will stand the broad test of practicability.

STARVING THE SCHOOLS.

The complete absurdity of the fiscal policy which the Budget Bureau would fasten upon Washington is manifested in the testimony of Dr. Frank W. Ballou, superintendent of schools, before the Senate subcommittee on appropriations for the District. Failure to allow funds for the construction of new schools will bring back into use unsafe and insanitary portable structures. For years the housing of school children in these flimsy shacks has been a stigma upon Washington's educational system. Congress has repeatedly agreed to abolish them and considerable progress toward that end has been made. Now in the name of economy the Budget Bureau proposes to revive this indefensible practice, and the House has given its approval.

On a number of occasions the lives of school children have been endangered when high winds have destroyed portable schoolhouses. Even greater dangers are involved in their lack of proper heating and sanitation. Taxpayers of Washington are quite willing to pay the necessary expenses of constructing suitable schools for their children. It is an insult to residents of the Capital City to compel the use of collapsible shanties as schools.

There is no necessity for descending to the level of backwoods schools. The District will have a considerable surplus of revenue; it has a large number of men out of work; it is spending huge sums for relief of those men and their families. These men could be put to work building schools. Yet the Budget Bureau and the House have decreed that the District must refrain from building schools and increase its outlay for unemployment relief. This is misgovernment. The people of the District are relying upon the Senate to rescue the District from such blundering.

THE HOUSE RULES.

It is amusing to watch the struggle of Democratic leaders in the House of Representatives to tighten up the rules which they "liberalized" after taking control of the House from the Republicans. Liberal rules are a joy to crusading politicians who wish to upset the program of the party in power. But when those same congressmen are charged with the responsibility of directing their own party's measures through the House, liberal rules become extremely annoying. The side of the fence on which a politician is standing makes all the difference in the world.

The so-called "gag" rule imposed upon the House by the late Speaker Nicholas Longworth and his associates was so irksome to the Democrats that they hastened to reform the procedure soon after Speaker Garner ascended to the chair. No longer would they allow a committee to hold up a measure when a large number of congressmen were in favor of it. A new rule made it possible for 145 members to call a measure out of a committee for consideration on the floor. In this way the bonus bill and a number of other reckless measures were brought to a vote and passed because of the pre-election pressure from organized minorities.

At the end of the first session under the liberal rules the House had thoroughly disgraced itself. Every quack remedy for economic troubles that had the support of an aggressive minority was accepted by the House because the majority did not dare to oppose anything that might be construed as a relief measure. It is doubtful if the House ever before reached a lower stage of demagogy than it did last summer.

During the present session Speaker Rainey has not given the House a chance to run wild. Every measure of any importance that it has been asked to consider has been prepared in advance at the White House. Democratic leaders have allowed only brief periods for debate. About all that congressmen have had a chance to do is to explain their votes. Amendments have been forbidden on all important administration bills. In short, the House has become an obedient rubber stamp.

This procedure may work all right in a crisis until the novelty of having a new and aggressive President in the White House has worn off. Apparently Speaker Rainey and Floor Leader Byrns fear that the good behavior of the House membership will not last much longer. As soon as they get a chance the new congressmen will begin pushing measures of their own. How can a congressman redeem his glamorous pledges to the electorate by merely voting "yea" on administration bills? Promises to save the country must be fulfilled, whether the President likes it or not. It is very evident that congressmen are beginning to fret under the rigorous discipline of Speaker Rainey.

The House leaders failed to obtain enough votes to bind Democratic members to support restoration of the old "gag" rule which they so enthusiastically abolished a short time ago. Will they appeal to Republicans to help restore the more drastic rule now that the position of the two parties has been reversed? The Democratic leaders are in a curious and embarrassing predicament for which they are wholly responsible. The House can not operate efficiently if blocs and minorities are allowed to upset the program of the majority, but it remains to be seen whether the Republican minority will force the leaders to stew in their own juice.

THE THIRTY-HOUR BILL.

The proposal to fix the hours of labor in industry by Federal statute seems to be gasping its last breath in the Senate. An effort to call up the measure for reconsideration yesterday failed to draw the necessary unanimous consent. This would indicate that a considerable body of Senate opinion is at least skeptical concerning the proposal. House leaders likewise have publicly expressed their misgivings.

Now comes official word from the White House that President Roosevelt is disposed to withhold his support. The President is in sympathy, of course, with the idea of a shorter work week. The need for spreading employment among the maximum number of workers is acknowledged by all. But the inquiry of the Department of Labor has convinced the President that such great elasticity must be preserved as between different industries that the legislative approach is open to serious question. He feels that more practical good might be accomplished by setting forth clearly the principles which should govern in industry generally, and then to leave the administration of the new policy entirely in the hands of industrial management. This method would permit each industry to apply the spread-work idea in accord with its particular requirements.

SMALL NATIONS UNITE.

The historic dominance of Europe by the great powers is challenged by the smaller nations acting in concert. The powers experienced the strength of combination when the question of Japan's action in Manchuria came before the League of Nations for formal consideration. Some of the nations having important trade relations with Japan and naval forces which in certain extremities might be called upon, were reluctant to pass severe criticism upon Japan. But many of the less powerful states, realizing that they might be in the same position as Manchuria, were strong in their demands for a firm rebuke on the strength of the league committee report.

This attitude of the smaller nations, more than four times as numerous as the four acknowledged strong powers, was in large measure responsible for the unanimous condemnation of Japan. More recently the four-power peace plan proposed by Mussolini aroused quick resentment among the numerous nations that were to be dictated to, sliced up and rearranged. Their reasonable demand was that, as the League of Nations and the armament conference already exist, such matters should be considered within these organizations, where all interests would be represented. France has rejected the terms proposed at Rome and in addition to her own concern, is plainly influenced by protests from her minor associates on the Continent.

Realizing the value of combining their strength and appreciating the results which such concerted action has already produced, there is a quiet movement on foot to organize the smaller nations more thoroughly against the time of future need. Spain is seen taking a prominent part in this movement. Spain's foreign minister has declared that the smaller nations have rights that must be considered in deciding whether Europe shall have peace or war. Spain is working at Geneva in close understanding with the Scandinavian countries, Holland, Switzerland, Belgium and Czechoslovakia. Spain's delegate, Salvador de Madariaga, is a strong factor in the cause of disarmament and highly influential in cementing action among the lesser nations. While avoiding the appearance of an absolute bloc to oppose the plans of the great powers, Dr. Madariaga has frankly expressed the feeling of his associates as opposed to any understanding between the great powers which would curtail the rights of the small nations and weaken the league. It seems evident from the attitude of more than two score nations in the league that the day of ruthless dominance of weaker states by a few powerful ones will in many instances be effectively challenged.

JAPAN-SOVIET SQUABBLE.

Far Eastern reports indicate considerable apprehension as to developments that may come from the virtual ultimatum sent by Manchukuo authorities in charge of the Chinese Eastern Railway, demanding of Soviet railroad officials the return of rolling stock taken across the border into Russian territory. This action, it is well understood, was not taken without authority of the Manchukuo government, which means, of course, the Japanese directors of the new state. Thirty days is the time limit set for the restoration of nearly 100 locomotives, some 200 passenger cars and several thousand freight cars.

Just what action will follow if Moscow authorities do not comply with this ultimatum has not been announced. The situation is somewhat complicated by the fact that the railway belongs in part to Russia. For several years it has been operated jointly by Russia and China, an arrangement that was continued with the new state after the conquest of Manchuria by Japan. The belief is prevalent in Manchukuo, apparently, that Japan will back up the demand that has been made.

Concentration of troops along the line of the railway east of Harbin and reports of reinforcements by Japanese contingents give color to reports that trouble is expected. The first development, even before the month is up, may be the discontinuance of mail and international passenger service. Soviet troops on the Siberian side of the border are reported to have been moved nearer the border. Manchukuo railway officials are blockading the lines to prevent further withdrawals of rolling stock across the Siberian border. Observers predict that one of the first steps in case of a break would be the occupation of Vladivostok by Manchukuo-Japanese forces.

Senate Democrats and Republican insurgents try to fix themselves with the farmer by voting for price-fixing, contrary to the wishes of administration.

Senator Lewis, glaring fiercely at Huey Long, declares that the Senate is not a sound movie, but the gallery knows better.

The Senate committee on agriculture has approved of the Tennessee Valley bill after a full half hour's consideration.

Politicians in many States are trying to set up little beerocracies of their own.

PLAYING WITH FIRE

From the Boston Transcript.

Senators Walsh and Coolidge presented to President Roosevelt a petition signed by 673,586 Massachusetts men and women protesting against the recognition of Soviet Russia. Eleven organizations are represented in the petition also, including the Massachusetts Department of the American Legion, three other military organizations, the State Council of the Knights of Columbus, Worcester County Teachers' Association—almost an even dozen of influential bodies active in civic and social matters. The petition recites that the avowed purpose of the Soviet government is the overthrow of American institutions, a point brought forcibly home to our people every time disturbed conditions here afford the Bolshevik emissaries an opportunity to make bad matters worse, and it points out that under the diplomatic immunity incident to recognition, the United States would be overrun with authorized Communists spreading their propaganda.

President Roosevelt so far has commanded the confidence and enthusiastic support of the American people, in his swift and vigorous efforts to remedy distressful conditions. Whether with authority or not, it has been stated that he leans toward a policy of Russian recognition which has been rejected by the last four national administrations, which include that of Woodrow Wilson. Mr. Roosevelt is a good politician, and he must realize that should he carry out his reported intention to favor the Soviets, he would sacrifice more of popular esteem in one brief moment than he can afford to lose. Moscow's high-handed treatment of four English engineers, who may be facing death without a fair trial, and its defiance of the British government's request, may serve as a warning to Washington not to play with fire.

The Trustful Child.

POST HASTE.

Just in the day's work, when the President lectures a score of republics, invites 40 more nations for talks, considers national legislation, advises thirteen States on labor laws, and finds time to start baseball on its way.

House Democrats are voting so well without reading the bills that it was a mistake to try to put caucus blinders on them.

Naturally it was Capt. Goering who horned in on the Prussian premiership.

Inspection of American products before shipment to be sure they conform to the 30-hour law would require an army to match that of the farm bill. And to check foreign products?

If there is any sadder sight than the great commoner, Borah, defending the Soviet, it has not been staged in the Senate.

The inflationists try to tack their panaceas on nearly every bill that comes along, but they haven't tried balancing them against contracted work days and weeks.

Possibly a bonus for enlistment might swell the number of recruits for the forest army.

M. Herriot says he is coming merely to give information, but he may carry home an earful.

Exempting imports from the 30-hour week bill would give them a monopoly; including them would amount to an embargo. No wonder Secretary Perkins suggests leaving this problem to the economic conference.

But why are farm products left out of the short-day bill? Are there no idle plowboys?

The Government gets the first whack at beer, but the States regard it as another liquid asset, like gasoline.

If the short-week bill ever emerges it will be so tangled in red tape and the strings tied to exceptions that it can't toddle.

Somehow the after-thought, second-table nations invited to confer are not as happy as they thought they would be over an invitation.

Gov. Olsen threatens to confiscate wealth in Minnesota. There's a man after Huey's own heart.

If this reconsideration business keeps up the smooth-running escalator from the House to the Senate will have to be replaced by a shuttle.

PAUL HUDSON.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST.

GOOD FRIDAY.

How wrong they were they never knew!
"Forgive them, Father," so He prayed.
"Forgive; they know not what they do!"
Was ever prayer so bravely made?

High on the cross He heard them jeer
And yet their hearts He understood
And knew that under hate's veneer
Was something genuinely good.

So used to royal kings were they
Who ruled by force their bit of land
They could not put old thoughts away,
A gentler king to understand.

To them His simple speech was strange
Because it scorned all earthly pride.
Blinded by pomp and fearing change,
Their one true friend they crucified.

He knew how men are sadly swayed,
For on the cross, with lips turned blue,
"Forgive them, Father, all!" He prayed,
"They know not what it is they do!"

Why Bother to Mark His Bill Paid If He Doesn't Acknowledge the Debt

By ROBERT QUILLEN

WE are commanded to forgive our enemies—not, apparently, for their sake, but for our own.

Like many another commandment, this one safeguards the body as well as the soul. It takes account of the fact that malice is a poison.

But there are offenders who can not be forgiven. They will not meet the terms on which all forgiveness is based.

Is it reasonable to suppose that man is required to be more generous than his God?

On what terms are man's sins forgiven? Only on condition that he repent and ask forgiveness.

"A broken and a contrite heart." That is the essential and just requirement.

It is easy to forgive those who come to you with words of repentance. The most bitter wrongs are forgotten and the hardest heart is melted when the offender says in humble contrition: "I am sorry; forgive me."

But there are offenders who will not humble themselves. They neither repent nor acknowledge their offense.

They are the people who are always right. When they seem to make mistakes, they have a ready alibi. Their wrecks are caused by fool drivers in other cars. The remarks for which they are called to account were misquoted. Prove them in the wrong and they were not wrong; you merely misunderstood them. Any mistake in their work was the fault of a helper. If they fail to obey, the orders were garbled by a stupid messenger. If they fail to keep an agreement with you, you misunderstood its terms. And if they persistently wrong you and harm you to benefit themselves, they not only justify their acts but invent some plausible story to prove that the fault was yours.

What can you do? Such people never repent, for they are never wrong. They never humble themselves, for they are never at fault.

Zangara was the type. He went to the chair still sullenly muttering: "I no care." And the murder he did was not his fault, but the fault of the woman who caught his arm.

You can't forgive that spirit. You can forget, but there is no virtue in a poor memory.

Forgiveness, like a quarrel, requires two—one to ask and one to give. The mill can't give free toll to the man who doesn't bring any corn.

POLITICAL COMMENT

The Tennessee Valley Project.

New York Herald Tribune.

The President's recommendations with respect to Federal development of the Tennessee Valley have two objects. One is employment relief, about which there can be no particular quarrel; the other is an investment of public funds in an undertaking which, aside from certain of its aspects, is of questionable merit.

It seems pertinent to ask, for instance, why the Government should enter upon a project for multiplying industrial power and increasing agricultural productivity at a time when neither industry nor agriculture can dispose of its surplus yield.

Economies to Come.

Cincinnati Enquirer.

Last fall, when Mr. Roosevelt as a candidate proposed reduction of Federal costs by a billion dollars, he was applauded, but thoughtful observers questioned his ability to do it. As for his Republican opponents, they merely laughed, and showed that it could not be done. But it is being done. Striking at the biggest item, the unjustified payments to veterans, Mr. Roosevelt has already made substantial economies. Further reduction of Federal salaries, in line with lower costs of living, have helped also to balancing the budget.

Now the President has turned to regular costs of administration, and demands a 25 per cent cut from various departments. This is a great deal to ask. But it is better than the two alternatives—higher taxes or an unbalanced budget. The Army and Navy, heretofore immune from any significant reductions, are ordered with the other departments to find a place to trim their expenditures.

Preoccupied.

Indianapolis News.

The wets won the Wisconsin repeal election by a vote of only 5 to 1, but many were too busy making beer to spare the time for voting.

Shut the Door!

Toledo Blade.

One of the finest things the new administration at Washington could do would be to tell the lobbyists to close the door from the outside.

Domestic Basis for Wheat.

Kansas City Star.

The problem of this country's wheat surplus seems to have been solved by the weather, at least for the coming crop year. The Department of Agriculture estimates that the probable winter wheat crop this year will be only 334,000,000 bushels. Assuming that a normal spring wheat harvest of about 250,000,000 bushels will be gathered, the year's total crop would be 584,000,000 bushels, the smallest in more than three years, and barely equal to home requirements for food and seeding next year's crop. Thus the country seems to be on a domestic consumption basis for the first time in a generation—a position for which the various measures for farm relief have been working.

Ain't It a Shame?

Minneapolis Journal.

Before we expend our entire stock of sympathy on the farmer, the railroads, or the brother who glides furtively from street shadow to ask a dime, let's hold back a little for the old line Democrats. Alas for the flesh pots of victory! The odors that arise from them betray only the occasional succulent roast beef or frying chicken. They smell more like the kitchen on a Sunday morning long ago, when mother ran out just a moment to tidy up her hair for church and the breakfast sausage burned.

Lined up from New England's rock-bound shore to California's sunny strands and from the borders of chilly Canada to those of cactus Mexico are the loyal, the faithful, the deserving. And now the Frankenstein Economy is running amuck in the land.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Urges Organization in Washington to Help the Jobless and Hungry—A Moving Appeal.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Some years ago, in a moderate-sized city, the writer had the privilege of leading a successful campaign to feed starving men, women and children in far-off Armenia.

What made this and other like campaigns successful was the fact that the American people had imagination.

Today men and women are walking the streets of the very city in which we live who do not know where their next meal is coming from. No one can be on the streets of Washington for half an hour without reasonable expectation that he will meet appeals of hungry men.

The plain truth is that there are men, women and children who have never before known want, who are hungry. They must swallow their pride or starve. In many cases morale is broken down. The unavailing struggle for food has resulted not only in loss of physical vitality but in loss of the will to carry on.

Behind the appeals of many of these men and women are stories which if they could be heard would open the floodgates of sympathy and untie the purse-strings of our people.

Let those who have more than enough organize, not to give a dole, not alone to strengthen the charitable organizations of the city, but to adequately and splendidly straighten things out. The ways of Congress are devious, nor can it be expected that the President can do everything.

Let imagination place those out of the breadline in it! How does it feel? Shall we pause for slow methods of relief? What can be done about it at once?

Is there not wealth enough in the District of Columbia to insure every man, woman and child who is a victim of this depression sufficient food and decent conditions of living without serious sacrifice to those who give? It need not involve any loss of self-respect on the part of those who receive.

If imagination can be effective in feeding Armenians many thousands of miles away, can we not devise some method right here and now for the feeding of Americans at our very door who are facing the specter of starvation, eviction and demoralization?

Yours for a concerted movement to do something and do it now.

ONLOOKER.

Weeping Cherry Trees More Beautiful Than Those in Potomac Park, Says Wayfarer.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: While our world-famed Japanese cherry trees of Potomac Park are, as a whole, quite attractive, yet I often wonder whether the publicity given them is not a bit overdone; perhaps, in plain English, it is what might be termed propaganda. The trees are not exactly graceful; that is, not more so than ordinary fruit trees in full bloom at this season of the year.

Now I have just returned from a ride out in Takoma Park, where I have enjoyed the view of two really beautiful blooming trees known as weeping Japanese cherry trees. I hope lovers of the truly beautiful will lose no time in seeing these trees while they are at their best; in two or three days their beauty will have passed on until another year.

The trees are to be found in front of the home of A. M. Bunten, of 7325 Blair road northwest, just a short distance this side of the District line. Anyone viewing them can not but agree with me that Potomac Park really would be a beauty spot were its Japanese cherry trees of the deep pink weeping variety such as is to be found out on Blair road. R. O.

Optional Retirement After 30 Years' Service Would Help Federal Employment Situation.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Why the executive and Congressional hysteria? Is it solely for home consumption at the expense of Government employes who, through past legislation, came here from distant States, through competitive examination, to fill positions regarded as permanent? The legislation, in many instances, bore the recommendation of Presidents of both parties.

How about these representatives and senators accepting a further 25 per cent cut, as they seem so anxious to do for others? Let them be men enough to set the example themselves, and they will still be well paid for their services.

Why not try to absorb some of the positions or pass legislation for optional retirement at 30 years at existing rates? That may encourage some to leave who are between 50 or 55 and 68. Let's have more humane consideration from Capitol Hill. Consider the "forgotten man."

GOVERNMENT EMPLOYE.

Iceland Not a Dependency of Denmark, but an Independent State.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: In the article published in The Washington Post today entitled, "Ruth Bryan Owen Envoy to Denmark," Iceland is referred to as "a dependency" of Denmark.

May I be allowed to call your attention to the fact that Iceland is not a dependency of Denmark, but that, according to the Dano-Icelandic union act of November 30, 1918, Iceland is a free and sovereign state, united with Denmark by the common King of Denmark and Iceland and by the agreement contained in the union act.

Thanking you in anticipation for conveying this information to your readers, I am very sincerely yours,

OTTO WADSTED,
Minister of Denmark.

The Counselor of the Norwegian Legation and Mme. Offerdahl will sail April 19 for their home in Norway. Mme. Offerdahl will remain there during the summer and Mr. Offerdahl will return to Washington to be here during the absence of the minister.

The First Secretary of the Cuban Embassy and Senora de Guell will leave today for Miama, Fla., where the former will attend the sessions of the Pan-American Institute to be held by the Pan American League of Florida. They will return to Washington in about ten days.

The Second Secretary of the Mexican Embassy, Senor Dr. Don Rafael Fuentes, will leave today for Miami, Fla., where he will attend the sessions of the Pan-American League. He will return to the Capital on Wednesday.

The Secretary of the Persian Legation, Dr. Ali Gholi Ardalan, is in New York for a short visit.

Assistant Secretary Robert Arrives in Washington.

Mr. Lawrence Wood Robert, jr., newly appointed Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, has arrived in Washington and is staying at the Mayflower.

Mrs. Robert and their son and daughter are not planning to come to the Capital until the autumn. They are now in Atlanta and the first of June will go to their summer home at Sea Island. Mr. Lawrence Wood Robert 3d is at Georgia Tech and his sister, Miss Louisa Ayres Robert, attends Agnes Scott College in Atlanta. Her parents had planned to have her study abroad next winter, but in view of Mr. Robert's appointment in Washington she will most likely remain here, and make her debut either next winter or the following season.

Miss Robert is an expert swimmer and was selected a member of the American team at the Olympic last summer in Los Angeles. However, she was stricken with appendicitis just two or three days before the race and was unable to compete. Last spring she won her first competition at the District of Columbia American Athletic Union meet held in Washington, D. C., on March 15.

Mexican Program Tomorrow At Political Study Club.

Brig. Gen. Francisco Aguilar, military attache of the Mexican Embassy, entertained a small party at luncheon at the Madrillon yesterday. Gen. Aguilar will be the guest speaker at the Political Study Club meeting in the Washington Club tomorrow afternoon.

Gen. Aguilar is well known to social and official Washington. He has chosen as his subject Saturday "The Political Status of Women in Mexico."

An added novelty in connection with Gen. Aguilar's speech will be a group of songs presented by two Mexican girls, attired in the picturesque costumes of their native land.

In another feature of the club program Mrs. Edgar B. Merritt, chairman of music, will present Miss Mary Apple, contralto, and Oscar Kudell, barytone, in a group of songs, accompanied by Mrs. Elsie Harvey Weaver.

Senora Aguilar and her guest, Senora de Finot, wife of the Bolivian Minister, will be honor guests of the club.

Mrs. Daniel has invited a representative group of well-known Washington women to act as hostesses. Among those who will preside at the tea table are Mrs. Allard Gasque, wife of the Alabama representative; Mrs. Claude Porter, Mrs. Terry Lester Miles, wife of Brig. Gen. Miles, U. S. A., and Mrs. Robert Davis, wife of Col. Davis, U. S. A.

The Military Attache of the German Embassy, Maj. Gen. Friedrich von Boetticher, will arrive today in New York on the S. S. New York, of the Hamburg American Line.

Stocks Renew Advances As Shorts Run to Cover

Two-Point Gain Recorded as Sales Mount to 1,659,970 Shares.

New York, April 13 (A.P.).—Security and commodity markets rallied today, in most cases briskly, while the dollar had a severe sinking spell in relation to foreign currencies.

These movements on financial exchanges appeared to reflect inflation talk. Preholiday short covering in many markets doubtless accounted for part of the buying, especially since trading in some will not be resumed until Monday.

Stocks, up fractions to around 3 points, more than canceled recent losses. Industrials were best favored, for they, as a group, would stand to reap the most immediate benefits from higher commodity levels. Oil, metal, tobacco and sugar shares showed numerous net gains of 1 to nearly 3. This list embraces such issues as Seaboard Oil, U. S. Smelting, American Tobacco "B," Standard of New Jersey, American Sugar, International Silver and American Smelting. United States Steel rose nearly 2, while Westinghouse, Du Pont, American Can, Bethlehem, American Telephone & Telegraph, Consolidated Gas, Union Carbide, Chrysler and National Biscuit were up 1 to more than 2. Allied Chemical gained 3½ net and Case 2¾. Rails were less lively. Sales totaled 1,659,970 shares.

To what extent this sudden spurt meant speculative operations based on reports that inflation was to be tried in this country was impossible to determine. However, it was noted that the advance subsided coincident with Speaker Rainey's ruling against substitution of a currency inflation plan for the farm mortgage bill which the House passed.

Advances	428	93
Declines	88	332
Unchanged	100	125
Total issues	616	550

Stocks.

Gains of a fraction to 3 points lifted stocks out of low ground in a general rally. The average advance was 2 points. Sales volume climbed to 1,659,970 shares.

Bonds.

Secondary utility and industrial bonds led a strong advance. The market closed three-tenths of a point up. Sales increased to $11,130,000.

Curb.

Industrial and specialty issues revived and led the curb in a general rise. Trading was cautious. The turnover amounted to 179,000 shares.

Wheat.

Money inflation hopes and buoyancy of other markets gave wheat prices a push. Corn and oats also advanced. May wheat sold at 60¼ to 60¾ cents.

Cotton.

Renewed buying sent cotton 17 to 20 points higher. July sold at 6.94. Liverpool reported a steady market with light offerings.

BONDS SENT HIGHER IN VIGOROUS RALLY

Industrials and Utilities Lead Three-Tenths Rise; Sale $11,130,000.

New York, April 13 (A.P.).—Rallies in various secondary industrial and utility groups gave the bond market a lift today despite the apparent disinclination of many high grade issues to move out of a narrow range.

There were few definite news developments to account for the display of strength in the low and medium priced categories. Part of the upturn was attributed by some dealers to a sympathetic movement with stocks. Bonds of a number of companies also reflected the improvement in commodity prices.

Due to the activity in Liberty fourth 4¼s and a few specialties, the trading volume expanded to $11,130,00, par value. The average for 60 domestic corporation loans advanced three-tenth of a point.

There were some mild irregularities in the Government section, but the three Liberty issues were up fourthirty-seconds of a point each. The heaviest turnover of all listed loans was in Liberty fourth 4¼s, 1,615 of these changing hands.

Among the best corporation gainers were American & Foreign Power 5s, up 2¾; Chile Copper 5s, up 2½; Goodrich 6s, up 4¾; Goodyear 5s, up 1¾; International Paper 5s, up 2½; International Telephone convertible 4½s, up 2⅞; Portland General Electric 4½s, up 1½; Remington Arms 6s, up 6; Remington Rand 5½s, up 4; Texas Corporation 5s, up 2¼; U. S. Rubber 5s, up 1¾. A number of the rails were up fractions to around a point, but gains and losses in this group were about even.

The foreign section was fairly steady, although the Germans were quite erratic at one time. German government and corporation issues slumped, recovered and eased finally for losses of 1 to around 2 points.

Bank of England's Buying Piles Up Big Gold Reserve

London, April 13 (A.P.).—Continued gold purchases by the Bank of England, which have raised the total holdings to £179,336,000, a new high for this year, has caused speculation as to whether the purchases indicate preparations for a return to the gold standard.

Government spokesmen persistently deny any such intention for the present. A little more than a month ago Neville Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer, said the government is determined not to return to gold "until satisfied that it will work," inferentially he explained the bank's gold purchases as incident to operations for prevention of wide fluctuations in sterling.

The American dollar weakened in late trading on the London market today. Opening at $3.41¼ to the pound, it slid to $3.44¾. The decline was attributed to dollar offerings from the continent.

Cotton Consumed Is Up 52,504 Bales

Units in Storage Drop to 8,906,571; Cut in Mill Stocks.

(Associated Press.)

Cotton consumed during March was reported by the Census Bureau yesterday to have totaled 494,167 bales of lint and 50,082 bales of linters, compared with 441,663 of lint and 46,470 of linters in February this year, and 488,907 of lint and 55,388 of linters in March last year.

Cotton on hand March 31 was held as follows:

In consuming establishments, 1,343,314 bales of lint and 280,442 of linters, compared with 1,441,641 of lint and 284,082 of linters on February 28 this year, and 1,566,080 of lint and 310,458 of linters on March 31 last year.

In public storage and at compresses, 8,906,571 bales of lint and 64,874 of linters, compared with 9,379,990 of lint and 67,001 of linters on February 28 this year, and 8,769,049 of lint and 53,929 of linters on March 31 last year.

The proportion of the bank's reserve to liability is 44.42 per cent, compared with 41.52 last week. Rate of discount, 2 per cent.

U. S. TREASURY RECEIPTS.

(Associated Press.)

Treasury receipts for April 11 were $5,106,262.62; expenditures, $12,436,470.09; balance, $503,594,437.06. Customs duties for eleven days of April were $6,270,696.89.

Loans to Brokers Reduced $1,000,000

Advances for Week Total $375,000,000; Under 1932 Period.

(Associated Press.)

Loans to brokers and dealers held by New York Federal Reserve member banks for the week ended April 12 were announced by the Federal Reserve Board yesterday as $375,000,000, a decrease of $1,000,000 under the preceding week.

The loans for the week ended April 13, 1932, were $485,000,000. The detailed distribution of the loans over the three weeks dealt with in the board's report was:

	April 12	April 5	April 13, 1932
*For own account	$348	$347	$401
For account of out-of-town banks	23	25	77

Additional $10,000,000 Invested in Bond Pool

New York, April 13 (A.P.).—An additional investment of approximately $10,000,000 has been made by banks and bankers in the American Securities Investing Corporation, popularly known as "the bond pool," it was learned today.

The company was formed early last summer for the purpose of acquiring securities, chiefly bonds, which it regarded as attractively priced. The recent call for more money to invest brings the available capital to about $30,000,000 against an authorized total of around $100,000,000. J. P. Morgan & Co. manages the corporation's investment operations.

CURB MOVES HIGHER AS LEADERS REVIVE

Traders Deal Continuously in Heavier Turnover of 179,000 Shares.

New York, April 13 (A.P.).—After resting for a couple of days the curb market resumed its April advance today under the leadership of industrial and specialty issues.

Despite the improvement in quotations the turnover was not particularly heavy, amounting to about 179,000 shares against 17,000 on Wednesday. It looked as if floor traders followed the movement with caution and discretion because of the Good Friday holiday.

Closing levels were generally below the best, but in spite of the late realizing gains running from 1 to 4 points were shown by such stocks as Great Atlantic & Pacific, Aluminum Co. of America, Mead Johnson, Humble Oil, A. O. Smith, Deere, American Gas & Electric, Consolidated Gas of Baltimore, New Jersey Zinc and Novadel Agene.

A few stocks seemed unable to overcome their recent reactionary tendencies, but losses were generally small.

Traders noted that the keenest demand was for shares associated with commodities, and general strength in commodity markets was set down as a primary factor in the upswing in several parts of the curb list.

TRADE TRENDS.

(Associated Press.)

Fuel oil—Trade circles hear that bunker fuel oil markets are showing a stronger tone, encouraging belief in some quarters that prices may be advanced in the near future.

Chemicals—There has been no further advance in the market for tin derivatives, but prices are said to be holding firm in sympathy with the current strength of the metal. Shipments of chlorine are said to be running close to recent levels.

Canned foods—Reports to dealers indicate a turn to strength in the Southern grapefruit market. Unsold stocks are considered moderate in relation to the current rate of consumption.

Fine cotton cloths—Markets continue moderately active, with lawns, voiles and combed broadcloths showing the most encouragement movement.

Paint materials—A better business is reported by dealers in some of the pigments. Lead oxides are stronger with the metal. There is a fair spring business in colors, though less than a year ago.

Monetary Gold Stocks Boosted $18,700,900

New York, April 13 (A.P.).—Monetary gold stocks of the United State rose $18,700,900 today, the largest gain in several weeks, as a result of release of that amount from stocks of metal held under earmark for foreign account.

The New York Federal Reserve Bank, in accordance with custom, did not identify the nation or nations making the release.

It was also learned that a license to export gold on an exchange basis to Holland had been granted to a New York bank by the Treasury Department. The shipment, expected to leave tomorrow, is the first to go from this country since the gold embargo was put into effect a month ago. The amount involved was not announced.

WHEAT VALUES RISE ON INFLATION HOPES

Heavier Buying Develops to Boost Prices; Other Grains Up.

Chicago, April 13 (A.P.).—Taking fire from indications that moves to inflate United States currency had aroused worldwide attention, grain prices shot skyward late today.

An immense new buying movement developed in the wheat trade, and swept values up beyond any point heretofore attained this season. Sharp advances in foreign exchange rates preceded the action of wheat, which just before the end of dealings registered nearly 3 cents a bushel almost vertical rise from the day's bottom. The maximum was reached simultaneously with Washington announcement that the House of Representatives had adopted the administration farm mortgage relief bill, and with word of persistent legislative efforts to inflate money.

Wheat closed flurried, 1⅜ to 2 cents above yesterday's finish; corn, 1½ to 1½ up; oats, ½ to ¾ advanced, and provisions varying from 5 cents decline to a rise of 5 cents.

Eastern Buying Reported.

Various big Eastern operators were credited with purchasing huge amounts of wheat as the market began to soar. Some of these purchases were generally believed to be in the nature of reinstatement of lines recently sold out. Other unusually large buying appeared to be for the purpose of extricating previous speculative sellers who had misjudged the supposed probable course of the market.

Despite brisk profit-taking sales at the last, final prices were but little below the day's top quotations. A rise of 5 points today in the British pound sterling was among the many portents which grain traders took as evidence that inflation moves were commanding serious general attention. Some trade authorities urged that European wheat importers had overstayed their opportunities, and were likely to come at any time hereafter for needed supplies, especially in view of crop shortage in the United States, with the Orient absorbing all of Australia's surplus.

Only transient early setbacks in wheat prices resulted from reports of snowfalls West and Southwest. Some crop specialists contended that wheat in drought districts, notably western Kansas, was beyond help from moisture.

Corn and oats swayed mainly with wheat.

COTTON PRICES RISE ON RENEWED BUYING

July Sells at 6.94 With General Market Up 17 to 20 Points.

New York, April 13 (A.P.).—Cotton developed strength today on a renewal of trade and commission house buying, accompanied by further talk of inflation. The sharp advance in foreign exchanges and advances in securities and other commodity markets were also factors.

Prices made new high ground for the movement, with July selling to 6.94, or 20 points net higher and 64 points above the recent low level. The general market closed firm with net advances of 17 to 20 points.

Prices showed only narrow changes in the early trading, but around midsession demand for contracts increased sharply. This carried May to 6.76, while October advanced to 7.16 in the late trading and closed at that figure. Last prices were at or within a point or two of the best for the day.

Liverpool cables reported a steady market, with offerings light. Houses with Liverpool connections were credited with selling during the early trading. Later the trade heard reports of buying for continental account.

The Liverpool market will be closed until Tuesday and the New York market will reopen for business Monday.

The Census Bureau report showed 494,167 bales of cotton consumed in this country for March, against 488,907 last year.

Selling for Southern account, was light and reports from the Southwest indicated a continued firm basis with very little cotton coming from the interior. Exports today, 27,907, making 6,353,470 so far this season.

Port receipts, 6,361. United States port stocks, 4,288,801.

Exchange Reveals Further Reforms

Publicity of Corporate Affairs Is Added for Protection.

New York, April 13 (A.P.).—Several additional reforms by the New York Stock Exchange in the direction of wider publicity of corporation affairs, adopted several weeks ago, were discussed today. Without any formal announcement the exchange last January decided that corporations seeking listing privileges would henceforth have to give full information regarding the net proceeds received from new security sales, thus indicating the profits of the underwriters. In taking this action the exchange was a jump ahead of the framers of the Federal securities regulation bill now under consideration in Washington.

Prior to this ruling corporations were under no obligations to report the net amount received from any sale of stock or bonds. The secrecy surrounding such financing operations called forth considerable criticism in the past and led to the incorporation of the present provision in the securities bill. Other regulations tightened by the exchange, according to an official announcement today, concern the recent ruling relative to independent audits of corporation statements. The exchange listed two new requirements of minor importance, but some significance was attached to supplement "13 C" of the listing questionnaire, which read as follows:

"Has any member or employe of the accounting firm any official relation with the applicant company? Describe relationship." Interests close to the exchange acknowledged that such an inquiry of a company seeking new or additional listing privileges was unusual, but it was accepted by these interests as an indication of the earnest purpose of the exchange in rooting out accounting practices which might prevent security holders from gaining a clear and understandable picture of their companies' finances.

GOODS MARKET.

New York, April 13 (A.P.).—Sales of narrow sheetings and some print cloths were larger today and prices firmed. Organdies were in demand and scarce in the finished state. Rayon yarns were selected, chiefly 100 deniers for weaving and knitting. Silks were steady, with some wanted types of broad silks scarce. Interest is increasing in fall worsteds. Burlaps were steady.

GOLD FILLS COFFERS OF RESERVE BANKS

Total of $3,315,446,000 Reached As Anti-Hoarding Move Starts.

(Associated Press.)

Gold continued to flow into Federal Reserve banks last week in response to President Roosevelt's antihoarding orders and the banks strengthened their gold reserves and gold backing for Fodaral Reserve notes.

In the week closing yesterday, gold reserves of the Federal Reserve banks increased $36,609,000 to a total of $3,315,446,000. It forged the total gain since March 8 to $613,907,000. That which came in last week was $5,400,000 less than the week before.

While more than a half billion dollars in gold and gold certificates have been returned to the Treasury under pressure of the antihoarding edict it has been estimated that approximately $1,000,000,000 still remains outside the Government vaults.

As the gold continued to pile up in the banks the gold ratio back of Federal Reserve notes in circulation increased from 73 per cent to approximately 75 per cent.

The Boston District decreased its Federal Reserve bank note circulation by $192,000 to $1,719,000 while the Cleveland District used $79,000 more with a total of $997,000.

The banks' reserve ratio to outstanding deposits and note liability was 60.6 per cent compared to 59.7 per cent a week ago.

The total reserve bank credit yesterday was $2,528,000,000, a decrease of $46,000,000 for the week.

Life Insurance Loan Bars Further Relaxed

New York, April 13 (A.P.).—Restrictions on making loans on life insurance policies, and upon payment of cash surrender values, were further relaxed in New York State today by George S. Van Schaick, State superintendent of insurance.

Mr. Van Schaick explained that today's order liberalized the rules, which were imposed during the March banking holiday, to conform approximately to the resolution adopted by the national convention of insurance commissioners.

RESERVE BANKS CUT CREDIT $32,000,000

Advances for Week Total $2,555,000,000; Up Over '32 Period.

(Associated Press.)

The daily average volume of Federal Reserve bank credit outstanding during the week ending April 12, was reported yesterday by the Federal Reserve banks as $2,555,000,000, a decrease of $32,000,000 compared with the preceding week and an increase of $926,000,000 compared with the corresponding week in 1932.

On April 12 total reserve bank credit amounted to $2,528,000,000, a decrease of $46,000,000 for the week. This decrease corresponds with a decrease of $114,000,000 in money in circulation and increases of $10,000,000 in monetary gold stock and $57,000,000 in Treasury currency adjusted. This was offset in part by increases of $120,000,000 in member bank reserve balances and $14,000,000 in unexpected capital funds, nonmember deposits, etc.

Bills discounted increased $6,000,000 at the Federal Reserve bank of New York and declined $7,000,000 each at Philadelphia and San Francisco, and $8,000,000 at all Federal Reserve banks. The system's holdings of bills bought in open market declined $39,000,000, while holdings of United States Government securities showed little change for the week.

Following is a statement of the combined resources and liabilities in the twelve Federal Reserve Banks for the week ended April 12:

NATS ROUT EARNSHAW AND WIN OVER MACKS, 11-4

This MORNING with SHIRLEY L. POVICH

THE pennant race is scarcely 48 hours old and this may be no time to be saying this and that about ball clubs, but it seems to this department that the Athletics of 1933 resemble the A's of 1831 and '32 about as much as the eminent Connie Mack resembles the eminent Babe Ruth.

Even the Philadelphia baseball scribes than whom there are none more loyal, frankly confess it is the worst looking collection of Mackmen since those late teens and early twenties of the present century when Mr. McGillicuddy's men were floundering in the cellar for eight consecutive seasons.

Not to be too harsh on the young men who are in there trying for Mr. Mack and the old biweekly pay check, the matter seems to boil down to the fact that you can't dispose of ball players like Al Simmons, Jimmy Dykes and Mule Haas, who drove in one-third of your Philadelphia runs last year, and expect your club to remain a pennant threat.

Cramer Is Likeliest Of Youngsters.

In exchange for this mighty trio, Mr. Mack received from the White Sox Hard Cash to the amount of $150,000 or thereabouts, but Hard Cash which is a great all-round performer in most other industries, never lifted a home run out of the park or snagged a line drive for a double play.

It was a strange collection of athletes that Mr. Mack put on the field during the last two days. Only Jimmy Foxx, Max Bishop and Mickey Cochrane, of the Old Guard, were present. The rest were a lot of young boys in there trying, but you can name your own ticket that there's not an Al Simmons in a carload.

Roger Cramer, out in center field, is the likeliest-looking of the rookie crop, and maybe he shouldn't be ranked among 'em. Cramer was a regular for the most of last season, and compared to Lou Finney and Johnson, who flank him in left and right fields, he's a grizzled veteran.

Mack's Noble Experiment.

Mack is gambling on two rookies in the infield during the early days of the race. If Dib Williams can't oust Max Bishop for the second base job he'll take up the shortstop battle with Eric McNair, who is now nursing injuries while young Chocki is filling the berth. At third base, the job seems to be Frank Higgins', who bears Mack's emphatic stamp of approval.

Griffith's noble experiment in naming Joe Cronin as his manager is unmentionable, compared to the experiments of Connie Mack this year. The average manager considers himself fortunate if one rookie comes through for him during the course of the season, yet Mack is gambling on two infield posts and two outfield positions.

Only two games have gone into the standing of the clubs and things may happen to make me eat my words, but I'm still technically correct when I say the A's of 1933 are not the A's of '31 and '32. Not with Simmons, Dykes, Haas, Bing Miller and Joe Boley missing from the present line-up.

Yanks Throw Red Sox for 4-3 Loss

Gehrig's Homer Features Typical Attack, in Opening Game.

36,221 See Contest; Double Plays Stop Boston Rallies.

NEW YORK, April 13 (A.P.).—Booming again for an inning just as they did against the Chicago Cubs last fall, the big guns of the world champion New York Yankees wheeled into action in the delayed American League opener today and belted over the Boston Red Sox for their first league victory of the season, 4 to 3.

The sun shone down brightly after yesterday's rain, a military band played, the athletes marched to the flagpole in center field and raised the American flag and the world championship emblem as the crowd cheered. Mayor John P. O'Brien threw out the first ball.

After the Red Sox had scored one in their half on Manager Marty McManus' double and Dale Alexander's single, the Howitzers swung into action.

Big Guns Wheeled Into Action.

Little Joey Sewell wheedled himself a base on balls off Ivy Paul Andrews, the young Boston right-hander, who used to belong to the Yanks, and Babe Ruth hammered a single to right. Lou Gehrig caught a fast ball outside on the end of his bat and drove it far into the right-field bleachers for a typical Yankee home run. The crowd, officially numbered at 36,221, roared their approval, and another Yankee season was under way in the normal manner.

The revamped Sox refused to give up without a struggle, and, with Lefty Vernon Gomez far from his usual pitching form, harassed the Yanks late in the fray.

They threatened in the seventh and scored twice in the eighth, peppering him for three of the twelve hits they counted, all told.

Only two fast force-out plays at second, one started by Joe Sewell and the other by Gehrig, kept the run total down as Alexander, high gun for the day for the Sox, with three hits to start the defense of his league batting crown, walked, and Hodapp, Shea and Bob Fothergill, a pinch hitter, hit singles.

The Yankees reached Andrews for nine hits in the six innings he worked, but could not touch Bob Kline or Jack Welch safely in the last two. Frank Crosetti drove in the fourth Yankee run in the fourth inning after Lazzeri had opened with a single, and Bill Dickey followed with the second of his three hits, a double. Dickey was caught at the plate by Johnson's fine throw when he tried to score on the play.

Pirates End Rixey Jinx In 5-2 Win Over Reds

Cincinnati, April 13 (A.P.).—Eppa Rixey's 1932 jinx on the Pittsburgh Pirates failed to carry over to 1933, and the Pirates took the season's second game from the Cincinnati Reds today, 5 to 2.

His opposing southpaw, Larry French, kept the Reds hitless until the fifth, the Pirates meanwhile converting singles and errors into runs. There was not an extra-base hit in the entire game, and Durocher, walking in the eighth, was the first to get a pass from the Pittsburgh hurler.

Dusek in, Garibaldi Out, Rudy's Brother Takes Bout

By LEWIS F. ATCHISON.

WASHINGTON'S Auditorium was converted into a young Madison Square Garden last night, where Gino Garibaldi and Ernie Dusek punched and cuffed one another about in the feature bout of a purported wrestling show that ended with Garibaldi sprawled outside the ropes and Dusek lying face downward within the ring, both in a semi-conscious state.

Sheriff Cyclone Burns looked at one and then the other as they fell after colliding head on, undecided on which course to pursue. Finally, seeing Garibaldi out of the ring he raised his chubby arm and started counting. It was a typical wrestling count, 2 for 1, but Garibaldi failed to rise before it reached 10, so young Dusek, still flat on his face, was awarded the decision. The bout lasted just 44 minutes.

The crowd that hovered around the 4,000 figure came expecting a rough match and they were not disappointed. Wrestling was at a premium. It was sock, sock, sock from the moment rotund Sam Ugel blew a mightly blast on his timekeeper's whistle until Mr. Burns' arm had pumped up and down for the tenth time over the prostrate forms of the gladiators.

About even was the score until the collision. Dusek caught Garibaldi with a neck scissors and headlock that didn't help the peace of the community any, but Gino was a couple up on his opponent in the cuffing.

IT'S LADIES DAY

The ladies, bless 'em, will have their first chance to celebrate Ladies Day at Griffith Stadium today when all fans of the fair sex are the invited guests of Owner Clark Griffith, plus the 10-cent Government tax.

In contrast to other seasons, when the Ladies Days each Friday were frequently missed due to open dates on the schedule, the Washington club will designate another day of the week when fair fans will be admitted free if Friday is an open date.

Dusek was hurled through the ropes innumerable times, but offset this disadvantage with a lusty kick in the slats that sent Garibaldi bouncing into the orchestra pit on his closely cropped head.

The pair locked noodles for the last time when Dusek rushed his rival as the latter stood near the ropes. Their heads met with a dull thud that sounded like a couple of coconuts coming together. Garibaldi tumbled through the ropes and Dusek dropped just far enough within the enclosure to gain the decision.

Dick Raines harvested another crop of "berries" after flattening Casey Berger in 9½ minutes with a crotch hold and body slam. Just before the main bout started the Titanic Texan climbed through the ropes, wearing a 10-gallon hat, and challenged the winner. With Raines was Rudy Dusek, who announced that within two weeks

Cards Stop Cubs, Hallahan Stars

Chicago, April 13 (A.P.).—Southpaw Bill Hallahan's pitching, plus Jimmy Collins' hitting, gave the St. Louis Cardinals a 2-to-1 victory over the Champion Cubs today and evened the series.

Hallahan stifled all the Cubs except Babe Herman, while Collins' home run in the fourth inning after Frisch had walked gave the Red Birds a winning margin, which Collins increased with a ninth-inning single after Frisch had tripled.

Half of the six hits off Hallahan likewise were picked up by one player —Babe Herman, who doubled to left on each of his first three times at bat.

Only a few more than 1,000 fans saw the game, which was played in a 50-degree frigidity.

Vines' Rankings Rapped by Tilden

Says Cochet's No. 1 Post Is Only Intelligent Rating on the List.

Memphis, Tenn., April 13 (A.P.).—William T. Tilden 2d expressed indignation today over Ellsworth Vines' recent ranking of the world's tennis stars.

Here on a professional barnstorming tour, "Big Bill" said he did not even approve of the seventh place accorded him by Vines.

"Mr. Vines overlooked the fact that the only real man on the list ever to win a match from me are Henri Cochet, whose position at No. 1 is the only intelligent placement on the list, and Clifford Sutter, who once defeated me at Rye, N. Y., but whom I afterward defeated," he said.

Robins Beat Phils, 5-4, Behind Clark

Philadelphia, April 13 (A.P.).—The Brooklyn Dodgers, getting careful pitching in the pinches from Southpaw Watson Clark and playing heads-up ball to make their hits count, defeated the Phillies, 5 to 4, today in their belated opening game. A crowd of 12,000 saw the game.

The Dodgers nicked Flint Rhem for two runs on a pair of hits and as many walks in the first inning and led all the way. Jake Flowers and Al Lopez worked a double steal in the seventh for one Dodger run. Chuck Klein drove in two for the Phils with his only hit, a double.

TRIBE SLAMS MARBERRY IN NINTH

Tigers Beaten, 7 to 4, as Ex-Nat Blows Up With Bang.

DETROIT, April 13 (A.P.).—Fred Marberry, late of the Senators, and pitching his first game for Detroit, held Cleveland to six hits and one run in the first eight innings today, then blew up with a loud report and the Indians won their secbnd consecutive game over the Tigers, 7 to 4.

Cleveland got six hits off Marberry and Uhle, who replaced him with one out, in that ninth inning, including a home run by Knickerbocker scoring Porter ahead of him.

Oral Hildebrand allowed the Tigers only five hits in the eight innings he pitched, but granted seven passes, four of which figured in runs.

New York Rangers Regain Stanley Cup

Toronto, Ont., April 13 (U.P.).—The New York Rangers tonight brought back to the United States the historic Stanley Cup after an absence of three years by beating the defending champions, the Toronto Maple Leafs, 1-0, in the fourth game of the final play-off series.

Nearly 15,000 disappointed fans at Maple Leaf Garden saw Bill Cook shoot the winning "sudden death" goal at 7:34 of the first overtime session after a pass from Butch Keeling. This gave the Rangers the necessary three-game advantage to take the cup, bringing it back for the first time since Boston's Bruins lost it in 1930.

Southpaw Blanks A's for 5 Innings, Aided by Support.

Earnshaw Forces in 2 Runs; Goslin Hits Homer in 8th.

By SHIRLEY L. POVICH (Sports Editor of The Post).

BIG GAWGE EARNSHAW, trusty right-hander of Mr. Mack's Philadelphia pitching staff, pitched the Nats to victory yesterday in a ball game that was beautiful for five innings and thereafter was beautiful only from a District of Columbia viewpoint.

At one stage of the proceedings, while Earnshaw was successfully pitching his employer's employes to defeat, he threw nine straight balls into the mitt of Mickey Cochrane which was a rather serious offense inasmuch as the bases were fully populated with Nats at the time and, under the 1887 revision of the baseball rules, two of the home boys were forced to score.

The final figures found the Nats perched atop the Elephants, 11 to 4, and although Earnshaw had nothing to do with the last six Washington runs, he is held fully accountable for the first five, which would have been sufficient.

7,500 Settle Back For Duel.

The postinaugural gathering of 7,500 sat back to watch an old-fashioned pitching duel between Earnshaw and Earl Whitehill for five innings and remained to see Whitehall outlast Earnshaw, Bill Dietrich and Jim Peterson and to applaud Goose

OPENING FEATURE OF GRAW DRAWS STAR HANDICAP FIELD

Microphone, Tambour in Harford

Tred Avon, Pilate, Canron Face Test Tomorrow.

Interest Is High in Stakes in Spite of Reductions.

Special to The Washington Post.

BALTIMORE, Md., April 13.—The sum of $2,500 is just as alluring today as was $10,000 a year ago, according to the caliber of thoroughbreds nominated for the Harford Handicap, which will feature the opening of the Eastern turf season at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon at Havre de Grace. The distance is three-quarters of a mile.

It was necessary this year to cut from $10,000 to $2,500 and the other three $10,000 stakes to $7,500 apiece to keep in step with the economy drive that the Maryland racing associations found imperative to make a little money or both ends meet.

Joseph McLennan, racing secretary, announced tonight that 71 nominations had been made up to that time for the Harford. Inasmuch as the entries did not close until midnight he might find several more upon arrival at the track early tomorrow morning. Weights will be announced immediately and sent out with the first card of the season.

Three Raced During Winter.

In the list of nominations one finds that only three raced during the winter. They are Bill Martin's Con Amore, Mrs. Payne Whitney's Curacao and George D. Widener's Finite, all of which showed their running ability at Hialeah Park, Miami, Fla.

Four of the best fillies of recent years have been entered. They include S. W. Labrot's champion, Tred Avon; Preston M. Burch's Tambour; W. W. Vaughan's Canron and Martin's Con Amore.

The remainder of the contenders that go to the post will come right out of winter quarters. They include Labrot's Springsteel and Rush Hour; Dr. J. Fred Adams' Rehoboth; The Brookmeade's Stable's Okapi; Pete Bostwick's Masked Knight and Pompeius; R. S. Clark's Kakapoo; W. R. Coe's Osculator; Samuel D. Riddle's Wedding Ring; W. S. Kilmer's Dark Conquest, and Sun Captor; the Howe Stable's Scotch Gold; the Middleburg Stable's Glorify; Adolphe Pons' Air Pilot; Andy Schuttinger's Pilate, and the Sage Stable's Microphone.

Joseph McLennan, racing secretary at Havre de Grace, Bowie, Hialeah Park and Arlington Park, returned today from New York where he consulted with the racing officials of Jamaica and Aqueduct. He will write the racing programs for those associations. C. V. Whitney's string was among the establishments that reached Havre de Grace today. The string was headed by the mighty Equipoise, which will be a candidate for the Philadelphia Handicap.

Fitzsimmons Sends 10 Racers.

Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons sent down George Tappen, his first assistant, with ten racers from New York. Hank Mills and Tommy Malley will be at the meet to ride them and also accept outside mounts.

Jim Milton and his crew will take over the education of horses at the barrier at Pimlico Saturday morning.

Fred Hayward, secretary of the Maryland Racing Commission, will spend tomorrow morning at Havre de Grace to issue licenses to trainers and jockeys.

Mutuel Betting Legalized By California Senate

Sacramento, Calif., April 13 (A.P.).—The Senate today passed an Assembly bill legalizing horse racing in California with the pari-mutuel betting system under supervision of a State board. Four per cent of the racing pools would accrue to the State for local fairs and agricultural institutions. The vote was 22 to 16.

Five Winners Again

Followers of Bill Bennings, The Post's turf handicapper, are reaping a harvest at the Lexington race meeting.

Yesterday, for the second time during the present week, Bill Bennings' selections in The Post provided turf followers with five winners on the program. On Monday five winners were numbered among his selections; on Tuesday, two winners; on Wednesday, four, and yesterday, five.

The winning selections of Bennings yesterday were Drombo in the first race at $7.32; Vonair in the third at $15.52; Captain Red in the fourth at $4.52; Making Bubbles in the sixth at $6.34, and Lady Dean in the seventh at $8.04. That's handicapping.

With the start of the Maryland season at Havre de Grace tomorrow, Bennings will be on the scene. Follow his daily selections and racing articles in The Post with Walter Haight, author of the Bennings column.

AT THE POST

with Bill Bennings

LEXINGTON, KY., APRIL 13.

DEAR AL:

I won't have anything but rooting interest in tomorrow's card. I am off to the Graw as soon as I get this note off my chest. Tomorrow night I'll be checking up on the hot things that Mike has been digging up and I'll be passing them along to you. Listen, friend, don't think I don't like this Kentucky layout. Whata rapping we have given them this week. Five winners again today and forced to admit that I was talked off a sixth one. And as a parting shot, you might go to these.

BILL.

FIRST RACE—BILL LUTZ and VALDOSTA will draw the bulk of the play in this field and will do the bulk of the running or I miss my guess. Both are reported in top shape and there's little to choose between them. BRILLIANT GIRL is a good show proposition. EASTER PARADE will draw backers on the hunch.

SECOND RACE—THIRD ALARM has all the earmarks of a winning favorite, but you can never tell what the betters will do here. There have been a number of unnatural choices of late and we may get a $6 mutuel. MONTY M. and JUST HIGH can take care of the rest.

THIRD RACE—LEZEV had the Bennings call the last time and ran third after closing at better than 50 to 1. Meets a cheap lot here and may come back to win this heat. BICHLORIDE showed promise in Florida and may place. ROMAC for the show.

FOURTH RACE—BEDIGHT, OZITI and VOLWOOD are a tight fit in this race and I prefer them in the order named. All shipped well and this threatens to be a horse race from start to finish.

FIFTH RACE—HUG AGAIN turned in a sizzler the last time and is getting 6 pounds tomorrow from CONSTANT WIFE, the one to beat. Both are smart youngsters. LONG BIT is a show possibility.

SIXTH RACE—OGYGIA gets in light and has good form as a recommendation in this field. The chief chasing is left to LAST ATTEMPT and DESERVE.

SEVENTH RACE — BAGGATAWAY may be the surprise package in this field. Has been trained in the semi-darkness and fog of the early morning and they say this is the spot. RED POLLY and GAMBADO for the rest.

EIGHTH RACE—LOYAL LOUIE gets the call in the final. NUCKOLS BOY and THISTLE FYRN to lead the others to the wire.

Central Beaten, 9-6, In Lacrosse Contest

Special to The Washington Post.

Baltimore, Md., April 13.—Donaldson School's lacrosse team scored an impressive victory over Central High School stickmen at Ilchester today. The count was 9 to 6 and marked Donaldson's fifth triumph in a like number of starts.

The visitors matched goals in the initial session, but could not cope with the fine stick work of the hosts, which pulled into a 4 to 2 lead at half time. For the remainder of the game Donaldson coasted along with the advantage, as they never were pressed.

Donaldson played without the services of Bowie, star cover point player, who was injured in a scrimmage Tuesday.

Northeast, Alexandria Boy Boxers in Draw

Northeast Boys' Club of Washington and Alexandria Boys Club broke even in their third boxing meet last night at the former's gym, and the matter of superiority in the ring still hangs in the balance.

Each club won two bouts, and two other matches ended in draws.

Vincent Bounivir, 112-pounder, provided the night's thrills by scoring a decision over Battling Pulsone, of Alexandria. A terrific two-fisted attack in the third round enabled Bounivir to capture the verdict.

Clashing in the final bout with both teams deadlocked, Creighton Allen, of Northeast, and Joe Kemeck, 144-pounders, fought to a slashing draw.

Results:

75 pounds—Tony Cattela (N.E.) defeated Nick Latious.

85 pounds—Pat Cecchini (N.E.) drew with Jinks Harrison.

110 pounds—Fletcher (Alexandria) defeated Mike Cattela.

125 pounds—Harry Cecchini (N.E.) lost to Byron Fones.

112 pounds—Vince Bounivir (N.E.) defeated Battling Pulsone.

144 pounds—Creighton Allen (N.E.) drew with Joe Kemeck.

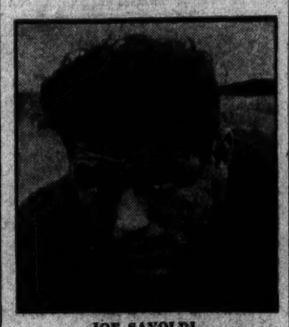
Savoldi, Once Immigrant Lad, Now in New York With $100,000.



JOE SAVOLDI.

By STUART CAMERON.

NEW YORK, April 13 (U.P.).—A former Italian immigrant boy of 24 came to New York today with $100,000—proving that success is achieved by perseverance, hard work, college training and adeptness in the wrestling racket.

The visitor was Joe Savoldi, whose name became familiar to readers of sports pages when he starred as one of the late Knute Rockne's Notre Dame back-field men a few years ago. He was the last member of a Rockne-coached team to make all-America rating.

Clad in a dark red lounging robe, Joe poured beer for a few of his friends at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel today and recalled his humble beginnings.

He was born in Milan 24 years ago and weighed 8½ pounds. His parents brought him to America when he was 12. Despite the handicap of having to learn to read and write a new language, Joe progressed through grammar school and high school until he was ready to enter a number of higher institutions of learning. He chose to attend Notre Dame.

Joe never received his college diploma. A secret marriage was revealed in his last year and he resigned.

Wrestling seemed to offer a field for his athletic talents and in two years he earned $90,000, acting as his own manager. The other night in Chicago he threw Jim Londos, one of the leading claimants for the world heavyweight championship. He got the $100,000 for selling his contract to a manager.

Savoldi came to New York today to clean up some details of his contract sale.

"I managed myself for a couple of years," Savoldi said, "but I am glad I have taken on a recognized manager, especially in view of the money I got for signing the papers. And it was real money, too. I signed up with Percy R. Gardiner, Toronto broker. He thinks he has a good investment, and, frankly, I do, too."

As has been the case for some years, wrestling has several title claimants. Jim Browning and Ed Don George rank with Savoldi among the top contenders.

"That's one reason why I came East from Chicago," Savoldi said. "I want to take on both George and Browning, and I want the bouts soon."

But all the mechanics of heavyweight wrestling operations are not so interesting to the newest of the title claimants. Savoldi would rather talk of his "folks" than wrestling.

His "folks" are father and mother who are in the canning business at Three Oaks, Mich.; a younger married brother, and a still younger sister. He'll tell you, too, of his early boyhood in Italy, and of how he sprang up from a baby that wasn't expected to live to be a noticeably strong boy at 5.

Joe went to work in the fields when he was 5, and his muscular development began then.

Second Wife Divorces Joe Savoldi, Wrestler

Los Angeles, April 13 (A.P.).—Joe Savoldi's second wife divorced him today, saying that in recent months about all she knew of the professional wrestler and former Notre Dame football hero was what she saw in the papers.

Savoldi received numerous telephone calls from women admirers, and told her their marriage was a mistake, testified the wife, Daisy Florence Savoldi.

The Savoldis were married August 4, 1931, and separated October 10, 1932, she testified.

For his first marriage, while he was a student at Notre Dame, Savoldi was dismissed from the school. He was wedded then to Miss Audrey Koehler, of South Bend, Ind., but the marriage was annulled not long afterward.

Lawyers said a settlement had been agreed upon under which Savoldi was to pay his wife $25 a week for two years.

Captain Red Lexington Winner

Derby Candidate Is Feature Winner by Four Lengths.

LEXINGTON RACE TRACK, Ky., April 13 (A.P.).—Cal Milan's Captain Red who has developed into a Derby prospect again gave the big crowd a real thrill by galloping off with the Leyland Hotel Purse, a gallop over the Futurity course here today. Captain Red, who won the other start at this meeting, was made a hot favorite and rewarded by smothering his field for speed and, racing evenly all the way, was never let down.

Captain Red is by Captain Alcock and with Westrope in the saddle the lad got him away on his toes. Scream attempted to make a race of it by hanging to the Derby colt but Captain Red, when he was ready, simply breezed away from him. All through the stretch Westrope was looking back at his field. Captain Red won by more than four lengths. Scream beat Peggy Lehmann three lengths for the place. Uncle Donald, another Derby candidate, was a poor fourth.

Track Dries Out Fast.

The track, dried out considerably overnight, was fast approaching a good condition.

Drombo, well played, stood a long drive to gamely land the purse in the opener. Drombo had his work cut out to race down last stand. He finally succeeded and, coming out to the best footing, held on to win by half a length over the fast closing Bea M., with Last Stand, third.

The long-shot players had their inning in the second event when D. Hoffman's Little Bubbles came down in front paying $62.02 for a $2 ticket. There was loud cheering. Lady Hockberger, the choice, finished in the place, with Aida B., third. As usual in 2-year-old races there is always a lot of rough riding and this race was no exception. Petite Annee was severely blocked and knocked out of all contention. Little Bubbles ran into the lead and won by half a length in 0:51.

Vonair Comes From Far Back.

Vonair, breaking last in a field of nine, finally came on to annex the purse in the third. The colt ran a remarkable race. He was last for more than a quarter of a mile, but went around the field and taking the lead on the stretch turn, stood a long drive gamely to win. Double O finished second with By-Product third. The winner paid $15.52.

Charley Corbett rode the winner of the fourth race, a baby event at 4 furlongs, but he did a lot of rough work to get down in front. He had the mount on Little Joyce and just after the break let her cross the field, forcing Arnold on Fiji, to take up. Meanwhile Little Joyce opened a wide lead and won by four lengths. Fiji beat Baby Chink a like distance for the place.

Making Bubbles Beats Morheart.

In one of the closest finishes of the local season, Making Bubbles gained the verdict in the sixth race by nosing out Morheart with Essential third. Deemster, one of the well-played choices, never had a chance. He got away well but dropped right out of contention and finished away back in the ruck. Making Bubbles paid $6.34.

Jockey Ellsworth was suspended three days by Starter Hamilton.

Lady Dean, with M. Parke astride, easily led home some fair platers in the mile and a sixteenth gallop. Lady Dean won by four lengths with the boy looking back at the field. Magna Mater beat Oderic a head for the place.

The final event was won by Edith A. with Mudraker second and Double Shuffle third.

N. Y. Fails to Cut Racing Schedule

New York, April 13 (A.P.).—In a surprise maneuver, the Jockey Club today rejected any suggestion of radically curtailing thoroughbred racing in New York State and adopted a schedule of 151 days for the five major tracks, opening May 6 at Jamaica and closing October 28 at Empire City.

Although the season will be 19 days shorter than last year, when the first race was run the middle of April, the schedule far exceeds expectations. Following on the State Senate's defeat of a bill to legalize betting, it was reported there would be less than 100 days of the sport in the State with each track sharply curtailing its meeting.

The schedule, as approved by the racing solons, provides for 18-day spring meeting at Jamaica, Aqueduct and Belmont Park, a 22-day session at Empire City and 27 days at Saratoga, opening August 3 and closing September 2. Previously, Joseph E. Widener, president of the Westchester Racing Association, which operates Belmont Park, had announced there would be only 12 days of the sport at Belmont this spring.

Princeton Oarsmen Drill at Annapolis

Special to The Washington Post.

Annapolis, Md., April 13.—Varsity and junior varsity oarsmen of Princeton University under charge of Coach Sikes, arrived in Annapolis in time this afternoon to engage in their first workout in preparation for races against eight-oared crews of the Annapolis midshipmen on Saturday that will open the intercollegiate season of aquatics here.

The Tigers are a formidable looking crew, particularly the varsity boat load, which averages several pounds heavier than the Middie seniors. The visiting crews displayed good form as they paddled away from Hubbard Boathouse and went up the river for a trial spin over the race course. A fairly brisk breeze prevailed, but the weather generally was far better than it has been for several days.

The Navy crews were later taking to the water than their rivals. Coach Walsh announced two shifts in his varsity boat which he believes will bring about better balance and smoother momentum. McMahon who has been at stroke oar, exchanged places with Stone, No. 2, while Hood and Weeks were shifted from 3 and 7, respectively.

MARYLAND U. NINE IN DEBUT TODAY AGAINST PENN STATE

Track Team Will Meet Richmond

Widmyer, Quinn and Galliher Reliances on Track.

WEARY of two-knocker batting practice, throwing out imaginary base runners and concealing signals so the cows in the next field won't intercept them, University of Maryland Baseball Team gets its first taste of 1933 competition today at College Park, where it clashes with Penn State College.

The game is one-half of the double-header opening the Old Liners' spring sports campaign. Richmond University is sending its track team north to help the Terp cinder path squad supply the remaining half.

McIlwee or Davidson Pitches.

Bill McIlwee or Ray Davidson will twirl for the home team. Davidson is almost certain to play as Coach Burton Shipley has found his batting to be discouraging to opposing pitchers and may use him in the outfield if he does not get the mound assignment.

Willie Wolfe, second base, will lead off at bat. Coming up behind him will be Bucky Buscher, center field; Davidson or Love, right field; Hymie Gorman, first base; Ed Maxwell, left field; Spider Chase, shortstop; Lyman McAboy, third base, and Jones, catcher.

The boys pack their bags for a Southern trip immediately after the fray, which finds them opening against Duke Egg-rolling Day. North Carolina on Tuesday; Virginia, Wednesday; Richmond, Thursday, and William and Mary, Thursday, round out the schedule.

Eppley Pointing Field Men.

The two meets already under the belt of the trackmen gave the boys indigestion. V. M. I. and Washington and Lee outscored the neighboring speedsters, but the margin of their triumphs was in the field events, and Coach Geary Eppley is hoping to produce enough points in this department to prevent a similar disaster against Richmond.

Earl Widmyer will run in the 100 and 220 yard events and is expected to bring home the fatback. He ran the century in 9 9-10 seconds, and the 220 in 22 3-10 seconds against the wind at Washington and Lee.

Eddie Quinn, hurdler, and Moorhead and Galliher, quarter and half milers, respectively, are regarded as potential point-getters.

N. C. State Defeats Virginia Nine, 4-1

University, Va., April 13 (A.P.).—Opening up a barrage of extra base hits, featured by Cauthen's home run, North Carolina State outpointed the University of Virginia baseball team today, 4 to 1.

The defeat was the Cavaliers first setback on Lambeth Field in two seasons.

SONNENBERG JURY SPLIT.

Boston, April 13 (A.P.).—A jury which deliberated for 12 hours in the suit of Gus Sonnenberg, former heavyweight wrestling championship claimant, for $1,000,000 libel against the Boston Herald reported disagreement today. The jury sealed its verdict late last night and it was opened this morning.

Sonnenberg's suit was based on a series of articles on wrestling which the newspaper printed in 1929.

he would be prepared to meet the best man Turner could obtain for a bout.

In the remaining struggles Everett Marshall and George Zaharias tugged for 30 minutes to no avail; as did Abe Coleman and Karl Davis, and George Hill dumped Vic Christy in 19½ minutes with a crotch hold and subsequent body slam.

NOTES OF NATS

One run was scoring while the twin-murder was being committed.

In the Nats' half of the same round, Bishop hustled over toward first to rob Goslin of a hit, making a brilliant stop of a grass-cutter.

The plate must have been swinging on Earnshaw like the pendulum of the old family clock in the fifth. With the aisles packed and none out, the A's hurler fanned both Whitehill and Kuhel and then tossed over nine successive balls. The first night walked both Myer and Manush and forced 2 runs over the counting block.

Despite all of their previous activity on the base-paths, Cochrane's single in the sixth was only the Mackmen's second safety. It was one of those "postscript" punches, Mickey suddenly remembering to swing after the ball was almost across the plate.

6 Spares and Strike Bring Only 119 Score

A world record of some sort was made by E. J. Pearson, of the Engineers Team in the War Department League, at the Arcadia Alleys last night., when he marked up six spares and a strike for the phenomenal score of only 119. Bowling experts scratched their heads and searched the records, but none could remember, nor was there any evidence of such a feat ever being accomplished before.

Pearson spared in his first four boxes and picked up 1, 2, 1 and 2 pins, respectively. He got all the wood in his next two and scored a strike in the seventh, on which he collected six extra pins. He added eight pins in the next frame, spared in the ninth, and again in the tenth. On the last two his free ball toppled 5 and 7 pins.

Oddly enough, Pearson was not the least bit elated about the new record.

Virginia Net Team Beats Maryland, 7-2

University of Maryland tennis team fell before University of Virginia, 7 matches to 2, yesterday afternoon at College Park. It was the Old Liner's second setback in as many starts this season.

The Cavaliers captured five of the six strings of singles and two out of three doubles engagements. All the matches were well contested, four going the three-set limit.

John Zirckel was the lone Marylander to win his singles tilt, downing John Hedges in a stirring fight, 4—6, 8—6, 6—4, in the No. 3 match. The Old Liners' other victory came in the No. 1 doubles, Goubeau and S. Fox defeating Fletcher and Hedges, 7—5, 6—4.

Virginia visits Annapolis this afternoon for an engagement with Navy, which downed Maryland, 6 to 3, earlier in the season.

Singles—Morrison (Virginia), defeated S. Fox, 9—7, 6—0; Taylor (Virginia), defeated Goubeau, 6—3, 6—3; Zirckel (Maryland), defeated Hedges, 4—6, 8—6, 6—4; Rohman (Virginia), defeated Busick, 6—2, 4—6, 6—4; Fletcher (Virginia), defeated French, 3—6, 6—4, 6—3; Hobbs (Virginia), defeated Wilson, 6—2, 1—6, 6—4.

V. P. I. Held to 6 Hits As Duke Triumphs, 6-2

Durham, N. C., April 13 (A.P.).—Lefty Flohr and Bobby Coombs confined V. P. I. batters to six hits here this afternoon and Duke University opened its Southern Conference baseball campaign with a 6 to 2 victory. Flohr, pitching five innings, gave up three hits and fanned five.

Combs also allowed a trio of Bingles and Whiffed six.

South African Heavy Stops Larry Gains

London, April 13 (A.P.).—Don McCorkindale, South Africa heavyweight boxing champion, tonight knocked out Larry Gains, of Toronto, British empire titleholder, in the final round of a 10-round bout.

Unbeaten in three years of campaigning in England, the Toronto Negro was an overwhelming favorite before the bout began, but McCorkindale, uncovering more punching power than he ever has shown here, battered Gains from the seventh round on and finally knocked him out. Gains' title was not at stake.

Gains weighed 196 pounds, McCorkindale 200.

A crowd of more than 20,000, including the Prince of Wales, crowded Albert Hall for the match.

Marshall Buys Stars For Braves Grid Team

Boston, April 13 (A.P.).—George Marshall, president of the Boston Braves Professional Football Team, today announced the acquisition of two more new players, Mike Steponovich, of St. Mary's, one of the best college guards last season, and Lloyd Michael, the rangy center from Kansas State.

Earlier in the week Marshall added Ely, Nebraska's all-America center, and Weller, Haskell Indians' quarter back, to the club's roster.

Star Golfers To Play at Argyle

By DAVE HERMAN.

ROGER PEACOCK, District golf champion, makes his 1933 debut in local competitive golf this afternoon when he teams with Bill DiEste, cross-handed expert, against Harry Pitt, Manor champion, and Walter McCallum, in an 18-hole special match, featuring the annual Board of Governors day at the Argyle Country Club. Play begins at 1:30.

Peacock, captain of the Duke University Team, returned to his native heath in Silver Spring last night after leading his forces in a march through Dixie collegiate links teams. During the course of the trip Duke defeated Richmond, William and Mary and Washington and Lee.

Born and bred just a good spoon shot from the tough Argyle course, Peacock has been playing as a member at Indian Spring. Former junior champion, the Indian Spring star, qualified for the national amateur championship last year and missed the match-play circle by two strokes. He spreadeagled the field in the last District event, in which his opponent, Harry Pitt, was the runner-up.

Di Este Topnotch Golfer.

DiEste, a veteran from Argyle, is champion of his club, and is a top-notch golfer.

Pitt is reported to be touring local courses in old-time form. Afflicted with an epdemic of hooking last year, Pitt is expected to flash new form off the tee today. He has won every championship of importance around this way.

McCallum, among other golf feats put up against Billy Howell in the 1931 Middle Atlantic finals at Princess Anne Country Club, Virginia Beach, Va.

In addition to the special match, an 18-hole medal handicap tournament, putting and driving contests will be held for members of the club. Close to 150 are expected to compete.

A number of interesting matches resulted from the miniature golf tournament conducted for feminine members of the Manor Club yesterday.

The results:

First flight—Mrs. Hartig defeated Mrs. Schrodel, 2 and 1. Consolation—Mrs. Myers defeated Mrs. Pray, 2 up.

Second flight—Mrs. Cramer defeated Mrs. Beck, 1 up, 10 holes. Consolation—Mrs. Hasley defeated Mrs. Gibson, 4 and 3.

Third flight—Mrs. Powell defeated Mrs. E. Scott, 2 and 1. Consolation—Mrs. Beavers defeated Mrs. McPherson, 2 up.

Fourth flight—Mrs. Simons defeated Mrs. Wood, 4 and 3. Consolation—Mrs. Meff won from Mrs. Slauson by default.

Fifth flight—Miss Helen Dettweiler defeated Mrs. Alderman, 4 and 3.

It was announced by the Manor tournament committee that the White Elephant tournament of 18 holes scheduled next Thursday will be postponed until Friday.

Cliff Spencer, of Beaver Dam, will team with J. F. Baggett, against Mel Shorey and a companion he will select this Sunday at the Beaver Dam course. They will tee off at 1:30.

Al Price, Rock Creek pro, turned in his lowest score of the season the other day—a 68—while playing with Bobby Bowen, Eddie Ault and Earl McAleer. Price toured A course twice, each time in 34, sprinkling four birdie along the way.

The continued illness of her friend from Cleveland, Mrs. C. R. Harbaugh, yesterday prevented Maureen Orcutt from driving up from Richmond, Va., to play in Washington as the guest of Mrs. J. Marvin Haynes.

Miss Orcutt, according to Mrs. Haynes, may arrive today. If she does, the Englewood, N. J. golf star will tour Columbia in a friendly match Saturday, and play at Chevy Chase on Monday.

Attendance Up 25 Pct. In Pacific Coast League

San Francisco, April 13 (A.P.).—Baseball fans in the Pacific Coast League showed their appreciation of reduced prices this season by turning out for last week's opening series in numbers exceeding the same period in 1932 by approximately 25 per cent.

Figures compiled today revealed some 70,000 fans paid admissions to the four parks, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Oakland and Sacramento. Admittance has been reduced to a low of 25 cents.

While the net receipts were less than last season, club officials generally viewed the attendance gains with optimism.

Hitting the Headpin

Esther Burton, captain of the Treasury Team, carried off honors with a 138 and 372 last night in the Ladies Federal League. Treasury had high set of 1,506 and the Marines high team game with 536.

Michigan, which was tied with Princeton for first place in the Intercollegiate League, bowled over Brown in two games to assume undisputed possession of the top post.

Princeton lost two to Oregon and dropped back to second place. Maryland, in third, won three from Harvard; Yale beat Cornell in two; V. P. I. beat Navy in two; Penn annexed two from Dartmouth and V. M. I. whipped Lehigh in two games.

Joe Story, of Dartmouth, basked in the spotlight with a 141 game and 375 set.

Farnum Bowling Shoes won two games from Judd & Detweiler last night in the National Capital League at Lucky Strike. Farnum had a high team game of 634 and set of 1,824. Crawley and Cox, of Judd & Detweiler, featured with 389 and 144, respectively.

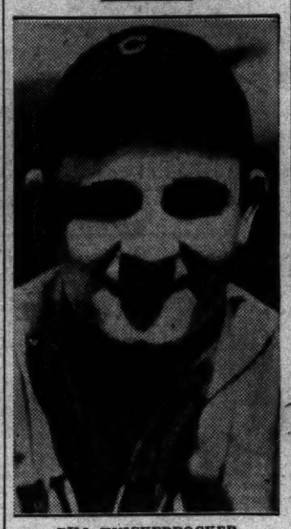
In the Independent League, Winkler, of United Press, set the pace with a high game of 140 and set of 359. United Press had a team game of 606.

Secretary last night was crowned champion of the Interior Department League at the Columbia bowling alleys, with Army finishing second and Disbursing third.

Secretary rolled a high team game of 568 and set of 1,599. Grays led the assault with 351 and 141.

Tribe Hero

Rookie Shortstop, Who Hitch-Hiked Way Into Baseball, Starring.



BILL KNICKERBOCKER.

CLEVELAND, April 13 (A.P.).—With the baseball season only two days old, followers of the Cleveland Indians already have a "rookie hero," Shortstop William Knickerbocker.

Yesterday, at Detroit, Knickerbocker got the Indians' first hit and then scored their first run of the season. Today, again at Detroit, he poled out the Tribe's first home run.

Knickerbocker came to the Indians this spring from the Toledo Mud Hens, of the American Association. He got his chance to enter the regular line-up because Johny Burnett was behind schedule in conditioning, due to injuries.

Knickerbocker Hits Homer.

Burnett himself is no slouch at shortstop, and the rivalry between the two—though friendly—is apparent. In the ninth inning of today's game Burnett went to the bat as a pinch hitter and responded by delivering a single.

A moment later it was up to Knickerbocker to do "one better" if he could. And he did. He knocked out the home run with one man ahead of him.

Knickerbocker was playing sandlot ball on the Pacific Coast three years ago, and hitch-hiked his way to Toledo for his tryout there when the owners feared he might not be worth the car fare. Last year, with Toledo, he rapped 69 two-base hits, a new association record.

EARNSHAW ROUTED AS NATS WIN, 11-4

soap box and two Nats ankled across the plate without benefit of a hit of any description, but the game popped wide open in the next inning when five solid hits and three bases on balls accounted for six Washington runs. Earnshaw departed from the scene at the insistence of Mr. Mack when Luke Sewell straightened out one of his curves for three bases to account for the first two runs of the inning.

Foxx Back at Old Stand.

Mr. Mack's minions presented a more impressive appearance at the outset with the redoubtable Jimmy Foxx back at his old stand at first base, but even with this added power the A's were shut out for five innings, and at the end of the sixth had managed to chisel only two hits from the southpaw delivery of Whitehill.

Transplanted from Detroit, where he served an eight-year sentence in the midst of infields that he could have sued for nonsupport and collected, Whitehill is deeply beholden to the Nats' inner defense for their work behind him yesterday. He started a double play himself in the second, but he was delivered from a sad fate in the fourth by a rapid twin-killing started by Buddy Myer, and again in the fifth by an unassisted double play by Joe Kuhel that choked off a threatening uprising.

Athletics Hitless For 3 Innings.

There was no sign of a hit by the Athletics for three innings, but the Nats threatened mildly in both the first and second. Kuhel led off with a walk, but Myer popped up and Kuhel was out stealing before Manush singled short. Goslin opened the second with a single into left and fell a double-play victim on Schulte's roller to Higgins. The Nats seemed to be hitting most inopportunely, for Bluege followed with a single.

Unable to score on three hits in the first two innings, the Nats saw Earnshaw confer two runs on them without a single hit in the fifth. He walked Schulte and Blue, and the bases were full when Cihocki attempted to throw Sewell's grounder before fielding it. Earnshaw rose in his might to slip third strikes by both Whitehill and Kuhel and then lapsed to the extent of passing Myer to force in Schulte and Manush to force in Bluege.

Earnshaw Blasted In Sixth.

Earnshaw returned to the mound in the sixth and got Goslin out, but nobody else. He walked Schulte again, Bluege singled to left, Luke Sewell scored them both with a triple over Cramer's head, and Mr. Mack waved Earnshaw out. Bill Dietrich, a former campus hero at the University of Virginia, was socked for a single by Whitehill, another single by Kuhel, another single by Myer, passed Manush, and then Cronin, and finally retired Goslin and Schulte with a total damage of six runs for the inning.

Very little of importance happened after that, not even Goslin's home run, which climbed the right-field wall with one out and none on in the eighth.

Davis Cup Net Chiefs Plan Campaign

Allison, Sutter Seen Choices in Singles Against Mexico.

NEW YORK, April 13 (A.P.).—The United States Davis Cup committee, its preliminary plans for the international tennis play already underway, will meet next Tuesday in New York to lay out a campaign for the first round series with Mexico.

Several of the "probables" for the team against Mexico are competing this week at Pinehurst—including Frank Shields, George M. Lott, Jr., John Van Ryn and Cliff Sutter—and the team will be picked on the basis of play there and at White Sulphur next week.

Although the committee has made no definite announcement, it is believed that Wilmer Allison has definitely been picked as the No. 1 singles player and captain for the Mexican tie, with Cliff Sutter first in line for the other singles berth and Lott and Van Ryn slated for the doubles assignment.

Four members of the cup committee, Bernon S. Prentice, chairman; Dwight Davis, donor of the trophy; Lawrence A. Baker, and Fitzeugene Dixon, will leave New York for White Sulphur immediately after the meeting Tuesday and the team will be announced there April 22 and leave immediately for Mexico City, picking up Allison in Texas en route.

The high altitude at Mexico City, affecting the action of the ball and the condition of the players, makes experimentation dangerous, tennis officials point out, and the strongest team available will be selected. Ellsworth Vines, jr., American champion, is taking a vacation from tennis for a few weeks and is not available for the team against Mexico. He will come East in May to start getting in shape for the more pressing interzone competition.

Husband of Diving Ace Scores Upset in Golf

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., April 13 (A.P.).—Roof Gilson, of Jackson, Mich., whose name was little known to sports followers until he married Georgia Coleman, the Olympic diver, a few weeks ago, today gained athletic recognition in his own right as he upset the favorite, John B. Ryerson, in the semifinals of the Mason and Dixon golf tournament.

Playing steady golf Gilson defeated Ryerson, 1 up, to go into the final 36-hole round tomorrow against F. L. Gill, of New York, who upset another favored competitor, David N. Tallman, of Wallmar, Minn., 1 up in 19 holes in the other semifinal.

Bengough Released To Minors by Browns

St. Louis, April 13 (A.P.).—Benny Bengough, second-string catcher for the Browns last year, will be released to the Milwaukee Club of the American Association, the Browns announced today. Bengough was obtained from Milwaukee two seasons ago, but the Milwaukee Club, a farm of the Browns, is now in need of an experienced catcher.

Katherine Rawls, Olympic Star, Shows at Shoreham

Swimming and Diving Ace in Exhibition Tomorrow Night.

FRECKLE-FACED Katherine Rawls, 15-year-old proprietor of three national swimming records and one of world importance, a record in itself, will appear tomorrow night in a diving and swimming exhibition at the Shoreham pool. It will be her first appearance in this city.

The slim Florida girl propelled her 100 pounds through the water at record-breaking speed in defeating Eleanor Holm in the National A. A. U. 300-yard meter medley championship for her first major triumph. She clipped 4 seconds off the mark, covering the distance in 4:45 4-5.

Competing against a field of crack Olympic natators at Miami last year she lowered the time in the 440, 400 and 300-yard races. This brilliant performance was climaxed the next day with a record-breaking effort in the 300-yard medley swim.

Miss Rawls has been swimming since she was old enough to get out and paddle around, but not until last year did she come into national prominence. She is hailed as the greatest all-around performer in women's swimming.

The program will be supplemented by diving and swimming exhibitions of the Shoreham and Ambassador Clubs. Andy Bowen and Charley Skidmore will furnish the comic relief, a diving act. Marie Duvall, Onalene Lawrence and Louis Bates, of Shoreham, and Joe Wilson and Johnny Smith, of Ambassador, are included on the program.

KATHERINE RAWLS.

BOROTRA OUT OF FRENCH SINGLES

Top Ranking Star to Play Only in Davis Cup Doubles.

PARIS, April 13 (A.P.).—The French Davis Cup Tennis Team, defending the international trophy for the sixth time, probably will enter the challenge round this year with its first ranked player—Jean Borotra—competing only in the doubles, Pierre Gillou, president of the Lawn Tennis Federation, said today.

Gillou said that Borotra, who ousted Henri Cochet from the top of the French list for the first time since 1927, would yield in the singles to some younger player.

Cochet probably will concentrate on singles, leaving the doubles to Borotra and Jacques Brugnon. The fourth member of the team probably will be picked from among Christian Boussus, Marcel Bernard and Andre Merlin, best of the younger French players.

Borotra gained the French top ranking for the first time alone this year. In 1926, he, Cochet and Rene Lacoste were ranked together at the head of the list, a circumstance which gave them the title of the "three musketeers." Either Cochet or Lacoste or both has led the Basque since.

TRACK TEAM OF EASTERN BEATEN

Tufts Wins 3 Events as Episcopal Wins Dual Meet, 70-57.

Special to The Washington Post.

ALEXANDRIA, Va., April 13.—Paced by the spectacular Johnny Tufts, Episcopal High School defeated Eastern High School by a score of 70-57 in their annual track meet here today. The home team captured 10 of the 13 events contested.

Tufts won the 120-yard high hurdles, 100-yard dash and 440-yard dash to carry off individual scoring honors. A cofeature was Jack Bryan's leap of 6 feet, which enabled him to win the high jump and establish a new record for the Episcopal track.

120-yard high hurdles—Won by Tufts (Ep.); second, Carron (E.); third, Fisher (E.). Time, 0:16 2-5.

100-yard dash—Won by Tufts (Ep.); second, Keerin (E.); third, Dimmitt (Ep.). Time, 0:10 4-5.

1-mile run—Won by Handlan (Ep.); second, Felton (E.); third, Littlefield (E.). Time, 4:52.

440-yard dash—Won by Trout (Ep.); second, Davis (E.); third, Marcel (E.). Time, 0:57.

220-yard hurdles—Won by Tufts (Ep.); second, Carron (E.); third, Rust (Ep.). Time, 0:26 4-5.

1-mile relay—Won by Episcopal (Adams, Rankin, Constable, Hoxton). Time, 3:34 3-5.

880-yard run—Won by Rankin (Ep.); second, Shaw (E.); third, Marshall (Ep.). Time, 2:03.

Shot put—Won by Campbell (E.); second, Wolfe (E.); third, Myers (Ep.). Distance, 45 feet 8¼ inches.

Discus—Won by Bryan (Ep.); second, Campbell (E.); third, Myers (Ep.). Distance, 108 feet 4 inches.

Javelin—Won by Shaw (Ep.); second, Buckner (Ep.); third, Fleming (Ep.). Distance, 141 feet 7½ inches.

Pole vault—Won by Sprinkle (E.); second, Drake (E.); third, Lee (Ep.). Height, 10 feet 3 inches.

High jump—Won by Bryan (Ep.); second, Miller (E.); third Sprinkle (E.). Height, 6 feet. (New home track record.)

Broad jump—Won by Sprinkle (E.); second, Cooper (E.); third, Keegin (E.). Distance, 20 feet ½ inch.

Shields Bows To Grant at Pinehurst

Sutter, Lott and Hall Also Reach North-South Semifinals.

PINEHURST, N. C., April 13 (A.P.).—Four seeded players today stroked their way to the semifinals of the annual North and South tennis tournament here.

They were Clifford Sutter, of New Orleans; Bryan Grant, of Atlanta; J. Gilbert Hall, of Orange, N. J., and George M. Lott, of Chicago.

Hall, seeded seventh, scored his quarter-final victory over Lester Stoefen, of Los Angeles, seeded third. It was the third time this season the pair had met, and Hall's first victory. The Californian had lost his touch for picking the ball off the ground, and his twisting second service ball frequently refused to work. The quarter-finals were played for three sets out of five. Hall won, 6—1, 1—6, 6—4, 6—4.

Marcel Rainville, Canadian Davis Cup player, fell before Sutter in straight sets, 6—3, 6—3, 6—2.

Grant staged a spectacular comeback from a poor start to defeat Frank X. Shields, of New York, 6—4, 6—4, 1—6, 5—7, 6—3. The Atlantan trailed, 4—1, in the first set and then won five straight games.

Gregory Mangin, of Newark, N. J., battled Lott almost to a standstill in their match, which the Chicagoan finally won, 3—6, 6—4, 6—3, 13—15, 6—2. Lott, however, increased his speed and the diversity of his game gradually. After the long and bitter fourth set, which he dropped, to square the match, he got wound up in the final and ran out the last four games consecutively.

Summary of other matches:

Men's doubles—Third round: John Van Ryn, of Philadelphia, and George Lott, of Chicago, defeated Richard Covington, of Asheville, N. C., and Elmer Griffith, of San Francisco, 6—2, 6—4; Lester Stoefen, of Los Angeles, and Bryan Grant, of Atlanta, Ga., defeated G. C. Shafer, of Philadelphia, and F. C. Baggs, of Gloversville, N. Y., 6—3, 6—4.

Mixed doubles—First round: Miss Evangeline MacClellan, of Atlanta, Ga., and Marcel Rainville, of Montreal, defeated Mrs. Frank Shields and W. H. Johnson, of New York, 6—2, 6—3.

Mixed doubles—Second round: Miss Barbara Stoddard, of New York, and J. Gilbert Hall, of Orange, N. J., defeated Mrs. Frank Coyle, of Aslanta, Ga., and Charles Harris, of Duke University, 6—4, 6—4. Mr. and Mrs. John Van Ryn, of Philadelphia, defeated Miss Eliza Coxe, of Asheville, N. C., and Berkeley Bell, of Austin, Tex., 6—3, 6—3.

JUNIORS SEEK GAMES.

Dor-A Juniors, who are preparing to make a strong bid for honors in the Capital City League, are seeking games for tomorrow and Monday afternoons in Magruder Park, Hyattsville. Tommy Bresnahan at Hyattsville 346-J is booking for the Marylanders.

Radio Dial Flashes

By ROBERT D. HEINL

ONE of the longest religious broadcasts in the history of radio will be placed on the air over a network today when Bishop Freeman conducts the solemn three-hour or passion service to commemorate Good Friday in the great choir of Washington Cathedral.

The service will include seven meditations or addresses by Bishop Freeman on the words spoken by Christ from the Cross on Calvary, with musical interludes by the Cathedral Choir, under the direction of Edgar Priest. (WJSV, 12 noon).

The first three periods of the three hours' agony service—from 12 noon to 1 o'clock—will be broadcast from the Church of the Immaculate Conception on Good Friday through Station WOL. The Rev. George F. Strohaver, S. J., of Georgetown University, will be heard in the discourses. The music, under the direction of Harry Wheaton Howard, will include selections by Bernard Fitzgerald, tenor; Lawrence Downey, barytone; James F. Nolan, barytone; Kathryn Bowers, contralto; Florence Yocum, soprano; Ann Arlen, violinist; Norman de Meza and the Boys' Sanctuary Choir. Father Francis J. Hurney will preside.

Nance O'Neil will play the title role in Maurice Maeterlinck's "Mary Magdalene" during the special Good Friday presentation (WRC, 11 a. m.). "Mary Magdalene," often considered Maeterlinck's finest effort, presents the biblical heroine and such characters as Lazarus, Joseph of Arimathaes, Nicodemus, blind Bartimaeus, Martha Mary Celophas and Mary Salome.

"The Passion," by Haydn, will be given by the King-Smith Fauvettes (WMAL, 3 p. m.).

The sacred cantata, "The Crucifixion," the most popular work of Sir John Stainer, will be presented by a chorus of twelve voices and an orchestra directed by Freeman H. Talbot during the half-hour program over WMAL at 4:30 p. m.

"The Seven Last Words of Christ," Theodore Dubois' Easter oratorio, will be presented by Channon Collinge and the Cathedral Choir, assisted by a group of soloists, as a special Good Friday program to be broadcast over WJSV at 10 p. m.

THE twenty-first anniversary today of the sinking of the Titanic on April 14, 1912, recalls one of the world's greatest disasters. Wireless was then in its infancy, and old-timers will never forget the sensation caused by the first flash that the Titanic, the largest and finest ship afloat, had hit an iceberg in the north Atlantic on its maiden trip and was sinking. More than 1,500 lives were lost.

As a result of the catastrophe the International Ice Patrol was established. Every year at this season United States Coast Guard cutters keep all passenger and other ships advised by radio as to the exact location of all large icebergs.

Following the confusion of broadcasting signals during the Titanic sinking the Navy Department took over the task of systematically policing the air at times of maritime disasters.

Thus when the Akron crashed, discipline with regard to wireless communication was perfect. In accordance with the Navy's organization for coordinating facilities for handling distress situations at sea, the Coast Guard and other interested authorities were informed of the situation, and all naval radio and radio direction finder stations were posted to be on the alert for further distress transmissions. On account of the inclement weather the Phoebus was unable to determine her exact position at sea. This position, however, was determined by the naval radio direction finder stations taking radio bearings on the feeble radio transmissions of the German tanker Phoebus.

The Naval Communication System, of which Capt. S. C. Hooper is the director, with its rapid methods of communication, was the nerve center in dispatching orders, disseminating information and coordinating the units of the extensive search and rescue organization. Over 2,000 dispatches were handled by the Navy Department alone in connection with this disaster, and there was a constant flow of dispatches in and out of the naval district headquarters at New York and Philadelphia in connection with the assembly of ships and aircraft in coordinating the details of search activities for the Akron and her ill-fated personnel.

A new educational plan, called the Just Relax system, which its inventors, Will Cuppy and Jeanne Owen, claim will supplant the old, or Nervous Breakdown, system, will be introduced to radio audiences in a new series tonight over WRC at 7:15 o'clock. The first lesson is titled "A Farewell to Spinach."

DON JUAN FRANCISCO DE CARDENAS, Spanish Ambassador, will speak during a program today celebrating the anniversary of the founding of the Republic of Spain. Senor de Cardenas' talk over WMAL at 3:30 p. m., will be the first of a series on Spain, its people and institutions, to be given by prominent Spaniards and by Americans familiar with Spanish life and customs.

They're calling Fran Frey, the bandsman-vocalist, the laughing prima donna after his Friday night stunt with Jack Benny on the Chevrolet program. Frey did the hyena-laughing role at the close of Benny's Dr. Jekyl and Mr. Hyde thriller, but did no singing.

Scrappy Lambert, leader of the Singing Clerks of Musical Grocery Store, wrote "The Boys From I. O. U." that they sang the other night. That beer ballad, "The Old Quartet," that they sang last Friday night is a brand new tune and it was broadcast for its first public performance.

John Charles Thomas, barytone, will appear with Ed Hill on the "Inside Story" tonight (WJSV, 9:30 o'clock). . . . Leo Reisman will feature the first airing of "Stormy Weather," a Harlem tune from the "Cotton Club Parade," on the Pond's program (WRC, 9:30 p. m.). . . . That famous penthouse serenade, "When We're Alone," will be featured by Jane Froman when she broadcasts over WJSV at 9 p. m.

AMONG the major sports events scheduled for radio listeners this spring will be the Preakness race, which will be broadcast over WMAL via WBAL, Baltimore, on Saturday afternoon, May 13, from approximately 4:30 to 5 o'clock. This feature will come direct from the historic Pimlico track at Baltimore.

The first Preakness was run at Pimlico in 1873 and netted the winner $1,500. Now this race carries a purse of $60,000, along with the famous Woodlawn silver vase.

The Boston Marathon, April 19; the Penn Relays at Philadelphia and the Kentucky Derby are other major sports events which will be broadcast.

Gene Arnold—You're so smart, Mac, suppose you tell me what the word "amphibious" means, and use it in a sentence.

Mac McCloud—Yarsah, Mister Arnold. It means fibbing, li' dis: Mos' fish stories am fibious.

The Goldbergs the other night staged a court scene as part of their program. Within fifteen minutes after the close of the program five New York City magistrates telephoned to compliment Mrs. Goldberg (Gertrude Berg) on the authenticity of her court scenes and dialogue.

D. Thomae Curtin, who adapts and writes mystery stories and real police cases into radio mystery dramas for audiences, broke another record recently. He used 200 rounds of blank ammunition to stage a battle scene between gangsters and police detectives. The story was based on the capture of "Fats" McCarthy, New York gangster, by detectives near Albany. On a previous broadcast Curtin's script called for the use of 58 different sound effects.

Baseball scores will be broadcast from WRC at 6 p. m.

The Meanderer Suggests Sea Food Dishes for Good Friday.

FEATURES FOR WOMEN

What to Feed the Sick Is Discussed Today by Dr. Evans.

The Meanderer

Lists Sea Food and Hot Cross Buns for Final Lenten Menus; Easter Treats for Children.

Telephone questions on The Meanderer's column to The Washington Post, National 4205, Extension 19; or address The Meanderer, The Washington Post, inclosing self-addressed, stamped envelope for reply.

Sea food for Good Friday shoppers is plentiful in local markets. Shad from nearby waters is a popular choice. Roe shad sells for about 30 cents a pound and buck shad for 20 cents. Shad roe is 75 cents a pound. Other fish listed by a well-known dealer in a market on K street include croakers, sea bass, Spanish mackerel, trout, rock fish, halibut, haddock, salmon, choice of sturgeon, red snappers from Florida and the usual supply of oysters and crab meat.

Hot cross buns, freshly baked for the heavy demand of the week-end, are to sell in two popular downtown bakeries for 23 cents a dozen.

Alligator pears at 25 cents each will please those who have been depriving themselves of this choice food all winter because of its prohibitive price. In the stand in a big downtown market, where the Meanderer found the pears so reasonably priced, fresh new peas are but 10 cents a pound; large thick-stalked asparagus is 30 cents for bunches weighing more than 2 pounds; plump, sweet North Carolina strawberries are 25 and 30 cents a quart; watercress is crisp and appealing and radishes are three bunches for 10 cents. The proprietors of this market are brothers. They have pleased food shoppers for many years with their complete supply of choice vegetables and fruits.

Hams, of course, are to be featured by many meat dealers for the Easter food shoppers. One famous brand is offered by a stand in a K street market especially to the smaller family, for the hams' average weight is between eight and nine pounds. The dealer in these hams has a cooked ham special, at 30 cents whole or half, or 50 cents sliced. The ham is cooked personally by this dealer. Another meat stand, known to many shoppers in the same market, features a famous Virginia ham, cooked in appetizing manner, and bedecked with paper curls and cellophane wrappings. The cooked Virginia ham is 75 cents a pound.

Cookie rabbits, made of honey, spices and the best of other ingredients, are selling today and tomorrow, two for 15 cents in two downtown bakeries. The windows of these bakeries are showing special lettering of names on the rabbit cookies, lettered as the shopper directs.

Large milk chocolate eggs, filled with one of the best known candies in Washington, are certain to please everyone at Easter. The shop on Twelfth street selling these special giant Easter eggs also features clever packages of Easter novelties for children from 25 cents up. A hat box package is a dainty choice for the little daughter of the family.

White and purple lilacs, madonna lilies, pansies, columbines and larkspur are among the plants to sell, ready for putting into the garden, in a women's farm-to-home market on upper Wisconsin avenue. Spirea bushes also are for sale, with their roots well protected until the home gardener can do the transplanting.

The cheese bread, nut bread, rye bread and prune bread for sale in the market featuring the flowers for the garden may be interesting to the hostess who is planning beer suppers. In this connection, the Meanderer reminds her readers again of the "seven menus for beer suppers," which she will send with the compliments of The Washington Post on receipt of a self-addressed stamped envelope.

Culbertson on Bridge

By ELY CULBERTSON

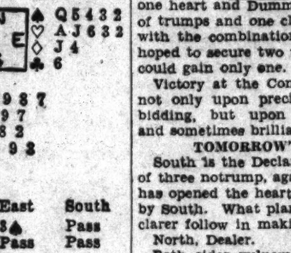
ATTACK VS. DEFENSE.

"THE cards were stacked against us, so I could not make the contract," is a frequent remark at the Bridge table, sometimes founded on fact, but quite frequently, if the analysis is close and accurate, upon the failure of the Declarer to take full advantage of all the possibilities in the play of the combined 26 cards at his disposal. No mattter how brilliant or how accurate the defense, a good Contract player can often find a counter-play that will foil the machinations of his adversaries and result in the fulfillment of his contract, provided the contract is one which should have been reached.

In the recent Eastern Pair Championship event held in New York City, there seemed to be an unusual wealth of interesting hands. I have already commented on the bidding of many of these and on the play of others. Today's hand, also from this event, gave to a number of players opportunities for brilliant defensive plays, against which, however, if Declarer took full advantage of his strength, there was nothing to be done.

West, Dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.



The bidding:

West	North	East	South
1♠	3◇	3♠	Pass
4♠	Pass	Pass	Pass

At most tables the contract of four spades, played by East, was reached, and the contract was either made or defeated, depending upon the accuracy of East's play. At one table, where Mr. Samuel Fry, jr., was South and Mr. Oswald Jacoby, North, the Opening lead was the 9 of diamonds, which was won by North and the suit returned, Mr. Fry playing the deuce, apparently a "down-and-out" signal. Mr. Jacoby continued the suit and the Declarer rightly decided that he could not afford to use one of Dummy's high trumps to ruff, fearing the very combination held by South in the trump suit. He suffered in his own hand and discarded a heart from Dummy. This was bad play, as it made the later play much less elastic.

Now a trump was led and South did not go up with the Ace. A second trump was then led and again South refused to win. The Declarer now made his second mistake in the play of the hand. He continued with the third round of trumps, planning to get in his own hand with the Ace of hearts, pick up South's last trump and thus fulfill his contract. At this point, however, South won the trump lead and returned a club, having decided that East held but a single club in view of the fact that he had bid both spades and hearts during the auction and had shown two diamonds.

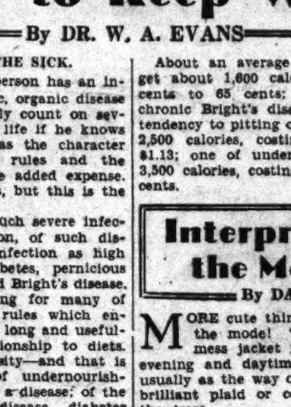
Against this line of play the Declarer was helpless. He must still concede South a trick either by a finesse of the heart suit or by permitting him to ruff the fourth round of clubs. The Declarer need not have lost the hand, as was demonstrated by others in actual play. The return of the third diamond and the ruff in the closed hand are almost automatic on the bidding. Two rounds of trumps should then be taken, and if South retains the Ace, the trump suit should be abandoned and the clubs led, upon which the Declarer should discard two hearts. The Ace and King of hearts should then be cashed, leaving the Declarer for his last two cards, with the Queen of trumps and one heart and Dummy with the King of trumps and one club. Now South, with the combination with which he hoped to secure two tricks in trumps, could gain only one.

Victory at the Contract table rests not only upon precise and accurate bidding, but upon equally precise and sometimes brilliant play.

TOMORROW'S HAND.

South is the Declarer at a contract of three notrump, against which West has opened the heart 3, which is won by South. What plan should the Declarer follow in making his contract?

North, Dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.



The solution will be given in tomorrow's article.

How to Keep Well

By DR. W. A. EVANS

FOOD FOR THE SICK.

EVEN though a person has an incurable, chronic, organic disease he can generally count on several years of useful life if he knows how to live and has the character required to follow rules and the means to afford the added expense. There are exceptions, but this is the rule.

It holds true of such severe infections as consumption, of such diseases not due to infection as high blood pressure, diabetes, pernicious anemia, pellagra, and Bright's disease.

The rules of living for many of these diseases, the rules which enable a person to live long and usefully, have some relationship to diets. This is true of obesity—and that is often a disease; of undernourishment, likewise often a disease; of the anemias, Bright's disease, diabetes and many cases of heart disease.

Diet is of importance in the treatment of consumption, and it is the only cure we have of pellagra, as well as being our best preventive of both first attacks and relapses.

In some instances special diets are less expensive than a regular diet based on food values uninfluenced by extravagances and perverted appetites. In most cases food for the organically crippled is more expensive than that of the average run of properly fed people, and the ability to carry this additional load belongs with character and intelligence as essentials of success.

Misses Smith and Anderson are responsible for some basic diets suitable for those who are organically crippled, and also for a comparison of the daily costs for these diets as compared with those for diets for people who are not sick.

A well-balanced diet for a normal person needing about 2,500 calories a day will cost about 56 cents daily. This is the cost of the food, with nothing added for preparation and serving. It is distributed into: 17 cents for breakfast, 23 cents for lunch, and 16 cents for the evening meal. The menu is a good one and far from cheap. The authors give the range of cost as 45 cents to 68 cents.

An obese person should live on slightly more than 1,000 calories, costing 37 cents to 64 cents, averaging 49 cents; a case of heart disease with poor compensation, one containing about 2,000 calories and costing 40 to 65 cents, averaging 48 cents.

About an average diabetic should get about 1,600 calories, costing 49 cents to 65 cents; a person with chronic Bright's disease, with slight tendency to pitting of the legs, about 2,500 calories, costing 58 cents to $1.13; one of undernutrition, about 3,500 calories, costing 67 cents to 93 cents.

Interpreting the Mode

By DARE.

MORE cute things these days in the mode! The white pique mess jacket is one—worn for evening and daytime as well, and usually as the way of toning down a brilliant plaid or color or print in the dress.

Then monkey fur—in both afternoon and evening dresses—and usually as a trimming, or a separate little bolero. Very graceful, and very new.

Blue as a color—if you would be patriotic and follow the new first lady of the land! And the string color is so-o-o-o new—and so practical!

Ho, ho—white lizard for sports wear! Yes, I like it, even if it makes one wonder and—shudder.

And what about that metal mesh? In evening gloves, in evening turbans, in capelets and belts and whatevers—and not as expensive as they—or it, looks, either. Miladi looks very modern indeed, sheathed in this fabric—which looks like a coat of mail, and is difficult to distinguish from real metal.

* * * *

All the little things you can imagine in the way of beautifying and comfort-giving for you—and your boudoir, or in your boudoir, I should say. Some of these prettiles I have told you how to make before—but not all of them. And the complete resume is nice, all in one leaflet, anyhow. A lovely lady has to have all these things in her wardrobe, 'gainst traveling, or convalescing, or cold or beautifying, or just morning coffee. And she can have them, so easily—made by herself in odd moments, and from odd scraps. Better send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Dare Department of The Post, for the illustrated leaflet which tells you how to make these things, because there won't be any more this whole year.

Au Revoir.

Strip of Land Held Up Postoffice Construction

Hollister, Calif. (U.P.).—Construction on the new Hollister postoffice has been held up by a 3.5-inch strip of ground. The very narrow strip of soil, Federal engineers disclosed, became "lost" years ago when the original owner of the property subdivided the property into lots.

When the Government selected the lot for its new postoffice site, it demanded a clear site. Title could be given to all but the 3.5-inch strip.

A friendly suit to quiet title has been filed by Joseph Latapie against Irene Holbrook and any other persons who may have claim to the tiny strip. Construction work will be held in abeyance until the suit is settled.

Guiding Your Child

By MRS. AGNES LYNE

A 6-YEAR-OLD girl was told that she might have a dog as soon as she learned to read. For various reasons this path of learning for her was beset with such difficulty that it proved a long drawn uphill journey, in the course of which she tired frequently.

At such times she would say: "I don't need a real dog anyway. I'll just make believe I have one, and then I don't have to learn to read." Whereupon for several days an imaginary dog lent her continual company.

During the period when she succeeded in playing with an imaginary dog for lack of the real one, it was impossible to win her attention for the task of learning to read.

At such times she was inaccessible to her teacher, living quite happily in the make-believe world which she had created in order to ignore an unpleasant reality.

This type of child, that so readily can imagine away his disappointments, that can be content with imaginary satisfactions in place of real ones, must be handled with great tact and understanding.

It is especially dangerous to make too great demands, inflict severe punishments or show much disapproval of him. For he tends not to accept them as correction and to be guided by them in his future conduct, but to withdraw from the—to him—too unpleasant real world where, after all, he must learn to fight his battles, get his lessons and adjust himself to other people.

Negative measures with such a child must be carefully dosed, for an overdose at any time may be worse than ineffectual.

What Today Means to You

"ARIES."

IF April 14 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 6:50 a. m. to 8 a. m., from 2 p. m. to 3:10 p. m. and from 7:30 p. m. to 8:30 p. m. The danger periods are from 10 a. m. to 11 a. m. and from 9:30 p. m. to 10:45 p. m.

Influences operating on this date will tend to inspire you with great confidence in yourself and may provoke you to embark on a task which may prove to be too much for your capacities. Idle words spoken on this day may well prove to be a boomerang; kind words will go far.

The child born on this April 14 will seldom find itself involved in difficulties of a serious nature. It will always acquiesce to the authority of parents and teachers. These children will have unusual reasoning ability even at a tender age. They will receive many gifts.

If April 14 is the date of your birth, you are most likely not the type of person who will stand to one side and let others take the lead. You are always there. "Johnny on the spot." In an emergency, you never get rattled; you are quick to see the right thing to be done, and you have the ability to take command and meet the situation. You are an orderly person and you can not be happy except in an atmosphere of orderliness and neatness. The women make housekeepers above the ordinary and the men are believers in system at the office.

Born on April 14, you are fortunate in having a rather well-balanced personality and an artistic and practical nature that is nicely attuned to the exigencies of life. You will prosper equally well in affairs practical as in affairs artistic in nature. It simply requires that you make up your mind which pursuit you will follow in order that you may proceed to develop properly along either line. You are unswerving when it comes to fulfilling your desires. If you make up your mind that great wealth is the goal worth attaining, you will probably be ruthless in your pursuit of gold.

THE ONCE OVER

By H. I. PHILLIPS

LETTERS FROM A FEDERAL REFORESTATION CAMP (No. 2).

DEAR EDITOR: I promised to write you another letter on life among the emergency tree choppers, and here goes. Well, I am finding out much more about the work. Today, following a demonstration by experts, we were given axes and put through a little drill. The main idea was to get the city fellers to realize which was the sharp end. Some of the boys are not very interested.

• • • •

We were shown a bucksaw and told what was the main idea back of it. It is not musical, like the ones you see in vaudeville. I understand I take hold of one end and some other feller takes hold of the other end, and we shove it back and forth across a tree until the tree gives in. If it is a thin tree it is good clean fun, but if it is one of those tough old babies that was planted back in Benjamin Franklin's day I will want two guys on the other end.

• • • •

It ain't very clear to me yet what this is all about. All I know is that the Government is going to give us three squares and $1 a day to give the deep woods a haircut and shave, or something. There are too many trees in some places and not enough in others.

• • • •

Personally I never noticed there was anything wrong with the forests. They looked okay to me, but I got my impression from day coaches. Some of the boys is getting pretty nervous over reports that we will be used in a hardwood forest, but I guess maybe that is just a story put out to scare us. A feller who once worked a few hours in a tree-chopping gang says that it all depends on the ax. If you get a dull ax all trees are hardwood, so I am going to keep mine like a razor blade if I have to hone it after each tree.

• • • •

(Later)—Well, since the above was written I have been sent into the woods with a working squad. And do I ache all over? Mister, after chopping down one tree, my hat is off to those pioneer guys who cleared America.

• • • •

There is only one good thing about these camps. If the forest is thick enough you can hide from the section bosses now and then, and believe you me I am going to stay as deep in the woods as possible. Could you send me some rubbing liniment?

Yours truly, EDDIE.

P. S.—Drop me a line and let me know how things is back in civilization. And see if you can dig up some rich lady whose main idea in life is to keep plenty of fresh cut logs in front of the fireplace. I would make a swell husband for her.

UNDER-COVER STUFF.

The New York beer law says that no beer shall be sold at bars "except under such rules as the State board may prescribe." Rule No. 1 will be that no bar shall be permitted which does not have a roof over it.

DEPOSITORS URGED TO REORGANIZE TWO CLOSED CITY BANKS

Park Savings Shortage Put at $1,500,000 With $978,000 Left.

While more than 1,000 depositors of the closed Park Savings Bank, Fourteenth and Kenyon streets northwest, last night stormed the Mount Pleasant Branch of the Public Library to hear plans for the organization of a new bank, a meeting of civic officials in the Industrial Savings Bank, Eleventh and U streets northwest, voted to launch a campaign for the bank's reopening as a national institution.

Less than one-fourth of those who gathered at the library gained admittance to hear Judge J. W. Thompson urge depositors to use present assets of the Park Savings for the organization of a new bank. After addressing the meeting both indoors and outdoors, Judge Thompson was selected as chairman of a committee to confer with Treasury officials on the advisability of such action.

So eager were those who failed to find room in the library auditorium to learn details, that Judge Thompson was forced to talk to the overflow crowd from the building's front steps.

Shortage $1,500,000.

Results of his investigation, Judge Thompson declared, revealed a shortage in the bank's funds of $1,500,000. With the payment of loans due, the collection of insurance and final settlement of indebtedness, the bank's assets will total $978,000, he said.

In urging depositors to take over the assets for the organization of a new institution, Judge Thompson declared:

"If the bank is allowed to go into the hands of a receiver it will be more than three years before anything is realized. If we are able to open a new bank, it can be accomplished in about 90 days. This quick action will eliminate the expense of a necessary lengthy receivership."

New Bank Needed.

The more than 10,000 depositors of the Park Savings Bank need a new institution in their community, Judge Thompson said, and they must form together toward the accomplishment of this end. He indicated that following a conference with the Comptroller of the Currency, his committee would be able to report within two weeks.

Besides Judge Thompson, members of the committee presenting last night's plans included Mrs. M. Delight Trent, Maj. E. Land Allen, Miss Jane Burke and Col. William DeGrange.

A group of 40 persons, representing civic, fraternal religious, business and financial organizations launched plans for the reopening of the Industrial Savings Bank as a national institution. At the meeting last night a depositors' reorganization committee was formed with Jesse H. Mitchell as chairman.

$31,375 Subscribed.

Responding to a plea by Elder Michaux, noted evangelist, the group subscribed as individuals for stock in the proposed national bank aggregating $31,375 and pledged activity in the drive to complete the $200,000 stock subscription at an early date.

Plans for a larger mass meeting of depositors are expected to take shape following a meeting of stockholders next Wednesday.

It was expected that a meeting of the depositors' reorganization committee, called for next Thursday at the bank, plans would be completed for extending the privilege of subscription to stock in the proposed national bank. The meeting last night was addressed by Nannie H. Burroughs, Julia West Hamilton, Augustus W. Gray, George W. Beasley, Archibald S. Pinkett, Lulu E. Lewis, Marie Madre Marshall, Zeph P. Moore, John T. Rhines, Beltran Barker, Col. West A. Hamilton, T. Edward Jones, William H. Lewis, William H. Harris, W. H. C. Brown, Jesse H. Mitchell, Dr. John R. Hawkins, Susie R. Saunders, Sallie M. Stockton, J. F. Wilson and A. E. Johnson. The individual subscription was 100 per cent.

Jig-saw Puzzles Sought For Forestry Workers

An appeal for jig-saw puzzles for use by the patients of St. Elizabeths Hospital and by the men at the nearby reforestation camps was issued yesterday by the local chapter of the American Red Cross.

Playing cards and recently issued magazines are also in demand, the chapter stated. Contributions will be accepted at the chapter house of the organization, 1730 E street northwest.

George L. Hossfield, world champion typist, was immediately surrounded by an admiring group as the thirty-fifth annual convention of the Eastern Commercial Teachers Association convened at the Wardman Park Hotel yesterday. Standing, left to right—Mary Timmons, of Eastern High School; Adria C. Beaver, teacher, Washington School for Secretaries, and Mary B. Bish, teacher, Western High School.

ANNUAL CONVENTION BEGUN BY TEACHERS

Dr. Kramer Among Speakers at Opening Session; Exhibit Feature.

With more than 800 business educators and teachers already registered, the thirty-fifth annual convention of the Eastern Commercial Teachers Association opened last night at Wardman Park Hotel.

Addresses were made at the opening session by Dr. Stephen E. Kramer, first assistant superintendent of District schools; John F. Robinson, of Burdett College, Boston, Mass.; C. L. Hsia, secretary of the Chinese Legation; E. W. Barnhart, chief of the commercial education service of the Federal Board for Vocational Education, and Dr. Allan Davis, principal of Roosevelt High School.

A feature of the convention is an exhibition of the latest types of office equipment, at the hotel. An exhibit of ideally equipped classrooms will be on show at Roosevelt High today.

"Just as the World War taught us the need of better health education, so the economic crisis has taught us the need of more effective economic and business education," J. O. Mallott, specialist in commercial education of the United States Office of Education and chairman of the convention, declared.

"The economic crisis will be a blessing if only one of the results is the requiring of economic and general business information subjects of all boys and girls before they leave school," Mr. Mallott added.

A reception and dance followed last night's session. The convention will continue today and tomorrow.

Hardison Is Urged For Federal Post

Former Police Judge Put Forward as Aid to Attorney General.

Judge Robert Hardison, former Police Court judge here, is under serious consideration for appointment as Assistant Attorney General.

Mr. Hardison has been engaged in private law practice in Washington for several years, and has not attracted a great deal of attention since he left the Police Court bench when his first term expired, confining his political activities to repercussions in Kentucky.

Judge Hardison's friends are claiming for him the support of Robert Bingham, of Louisville, Ky., publisher of the Courier-Journal, who has just been named Ambassador to the Court of St. James. Senator Alben W. Barkley, of Kentucky, is another who is listed among the army of Hardison supporters, who have besieged Attorney General Homer Cummings.

Man Who Slew Relative Cleared by Grand Jury

The District Grand Jury yesterday refused to indict Melvin T. Salter, 34, on a charge of fatally shooting his brother-in-law, Allen Lynch.

The shooting occurred April 3 when, in an argument, Lynch picked up a vase and advanced menacingly toward Salter. The latter fired at him with a small caliber pistol.

CUTS SEEN HURTING G. W. LIBRARY PLAN

District Yet Faces Its Most Distressing Period, Joint Meeting Is Told.

The District has yet to pass through the most distressing period of the depression, James G. Yaden, president of the Federation of Citizens Associations, last night told a joint meeting of the Grant School Parent-Teacher Association and West End Citizens Association.

"In the next three or four months—when 17,000 residents are thrown off the veterans' pension rolls in July—the municipal government will be tried as it has not yet been tried before," he declared.

"Washington is a city which has risen to its civic heights through the efforts of its large number of public-minded citizens, citizens who have built the municipality on the three absolute essentials: Home, church and school. The impending crisis will show those who have the courage to continue in their convictions.

"Let us keep cool heads and strong hearts while passing through this emergency," he said in closing.

Dr. George F. Bowerman, librarian of the District, following Mr. Yaden, set forth his "pet scheme," which, he said, he had discussed privately with Dr. Cloyd H. Marvin, president of George Washington University, and other officials. The scheme is that of establishing on the university campus a public library, a school library and a library school, all under one roof. This scheme, Dr. Bowerman said, has been hampered by the proposed budget cut.

In reporting on his budget conference with the Senate Appropriations Committee yesterday, the librarian said he had pointed out that the number of library users in the District had jumped 66 per cent since the depression started. Most of these users were unemployed, a tabulation showed.

The meeting, held at the Grant School, Twenty-second and G streets northwest, was entertained by the McKinley High School Glee Club and Miss Beatrice Phelps, soloist.

Two File Voluntary Bankruptcy Petitions

Claiming assets of $24,417.48 and liabilities of $73,590.45, Frank J. Wagner, of 1875 California street northwest, yesterday filed in District Supreme Court a voluntary bankruptcy petition.

Joseph A. Scott, jr., of 527 Twelfth street northeast, also filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy. He listed debts of $66,473.13 and assets of $29,274.95. Both papers were filed by Attorneys W. C. Sullivan and A. M. Hood.

PHONE ACCOUNTING SCORED BY P. U. C. AT I. C. C. HEARING

District and 9 State Groups Attack Uniform System in Rates Battle.

The Public Utilities Commission and nine State public service commissions yesterday launched an attack on the uniform system of telephone accounting prescribed by the Interstate Commerce Commission and the right of the latter to fix depreciation charges on telephone property when approximately 90 per cent of the business is purely local.

Following the presentation of briefs by the combined commissions and a separate memorandum by the District agency and brief arguments, Chairman Eastman of the Interstate Commerce Commission allowed the State agencies until June 1 to present more specific proposals as to changes in the accounting system and adjourned the hearing until June 14.

During the short afternoon session it developed that the several State commissions were acting largely because of the lethargy of the National Association of Railroad and Utility Commissions. Dr. Milo R. Maltbie, chairman of the New York State commission, charged that the association had ignored his commission in selecting a New York State representative on a regional committee concerned with telephone depreciation.

Eastman Suggests Changes.

While the Interstate Commerce Commission appeared open-minded regarding the difficulties of the State commissions in connection with the uniform system of telephone accounting which became effective January 1, last, it offered no encouragement to protests against Federal jurisdiction over depreciation charges, a schedule on which is due to be drafted on August 16 and made effective January 1, 1934.

Chairman Eastman suggested that the State commissions might make modifications of depreciation estimates submitted by the telephone companies in their respective areas before submitting them to the Interstate Commerce Commission, but he said that any challenge of the Federal agency's authority over telephone depreciation charges would have to be fought in the courts.

The several commissions asked the Federal agency to permit the States to require telephone companies to subdivide general accounts so that data might be made available in (a) rate making, (b) in control of relations with affiliated companies, and (c) in controlling the issuance of securities.

Local Telephone Rates.

Specific example of the difficulty encountered by the State agencies is found in the case of the District commission, which last October issued a depreciation order only to have it invalidated by an I. C. C. order on accounting in November.

Accountants of the District commission are now engaged in breaking down the general accounts of the Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Co., which the first of the year adopted the general system ordered by the I. C. C. The data is to be used in the court case now pending and in further efforts to force a reduction in local telephone rates.

Counsel for the Bell System will have an opportunity to file a reply to the memorandum of the State commissions prior to June 14. The commissions represented, besides the District, were Maryland, California, Missouri, New Hampshire, New York, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, Washington and Wisconsin.

$300 Theft From Chest Brings One Year in Jail

Chief Justice A. A. Wheat, in District Supreme Court, yesterday sentenced John A. Scruggs, former employe of the Community Chest to serve a year in jail on a charge of stealing $300 from the Chest last November.

Scruggs is alleged to have absconded with a bag containing $300 in silver money. He was arrested in Absecon, N. J., and was brought back here on an indictment charging him with grand larceny. According to the police Scruggs claimed his mind became a blank shortly before the money was reported missing. He said he remembered nothing about the theft.

Long Robbery Series Holds Man for Jury

Kutler, Alleged Sing Sing Fugitive, Said to Have Taken $20,600.

MORRIS KUTLER.

Morris Kutler, 42, of Brooklyn, N. Y., said to be an escaped Sing Sing convict, was held for grand jury action late yesterday in Police Court on charges of entering more than a dozen homes in the northwest section in the past two months.

Kutler, against whom more than a dozen housebreaking charges have been placed, garnered more than $20,000 in loot, according to detectives of the clothing squad.

Investigators said last night that Kutler employed the same method in each of the raids on prominent persons' homes here. Before "jimmying" the rear window of the homes, he cut the telephone wires to insure against police interference.

Additional charges placed against the "society" burglar yesterday were telephoned to headquarters last night. They were made by Traffic Director William A. Van Duzer, 4436 Klingle road; Dr. Joseph Horon, 3750 Kanawha street; Commander John F. Shaforth, U. S. N., 3009 Cathedral avenue; William Plube, 3316 Northampton street; Leo P. Kelly, 2331 Cathedral avenue, and Channing B. King, of 3007 Thirteenth street.

In addition to the above charges Inspector F. S. W. Burke, detective chief, said last night that there is a possibility of more charges being placed against him today.

COURT UPHOLDS D. C. VACCINATION LAWS

Iodine Placed on Wounds of Two Entz Children Nullified Effect.

A case designed to test the validity of the District law that compels school children to be vaccinated before they can be enrolled went amiss in District Supreme Court yesterday when Justice Jesse C. Adkins held, in effect, that the two children of H. H. Entz, Barbara Louise and David J., had never been vaccinated because iodine was placed on their vaccination wounds shortly after the children had been treated by Dr. R. M. Rosenberg.

Mr. Entz had sought a rule from the court to require the school authorities to admit his children to the Thomson School. He said he had complied with the law in that the children had been vaccinated, but school authorities were able to show that the iodine that was placed on the fresh vaccination had "either nullified or completely destroyed" the vaccine virus.

With this situation facing him, Justice Adkins held that there had been no vaccination, and the proposed test of the law as to how many times a student whose original vaccination did not take must be vaccinated before being admitted to the schools was left in abeyance.

The bill, filed through Attorney Daniel S. Ring, was dismissed and the Entz children are still being barred from the public schools.

Mr. Entz announced that he will go to the Court of Appeals, and that if the decision is not reversed he will "again have the children vaccinated in an approved manner." Mr. Entz said that his children are receiving private instruction equivalent to public school work.

GAS LIGHT CONTROL DETAILS ARE BARED

Trade Commission Hears How Capital Firm Fell Under Chase Bank's Sway.

The involved story of how the Washington Gas Light Co. got into the hands of the Chase National Bank and its utility subsidiary, now being divorced from the bank, was related yesterday before the Federal Trade Commission, which is holding a hearing on the operations of the Central Public Service Co.

While a phase of the hearing is concerned with the local gas companies, its revelations for the most part are a repetition of data unfolded a year ago at prolonged hearings before the Public Utilities Commission.

Since that time the set-up has changed its character and the local commission has held that it did not violate the La Follette antimerger act. The Central Public Service Co., which at one time acted as operator of the local companies, has since withdrawn its connections.

The District commission is watching developments, however, in connection with the plan of the Chase National Bank to break loose from the Chase, Harris, Forbes Corporation, its utility subsidiary. Should the local gas company's owners not file all information on the changes with the District Supreme Court, as agreed when threatened litigation was halted, the Public Utilities Commission may demand more specific data, to determine whether the La Follette act is being obeyed.

Roy W. Prince Is Reelected.

Roy W. Prince was reelected as superintendent of the Sunday school of the Central Presbyterian Church at a recent meeting. Other officers elected were: James T. Mathews, assistant superintendent; Harry B. Gauss, treasurer; H. B. Otterman, secretary, and Wade H. Elgin, jr., assistant secretary.

JUDGE-PROSECUTOR DISPUTE OVER RUM CHARGE FREES TRIO

Given and Hart Clash Over Desired Speed and Case Later Is Dropped.

A sharp difference of opinion between Judge Ralph Given in Police Court and Assistant United States Attorney David A. Hart yesterday resulted in the dismissal of charges of possession of 17 gallons of liquor preferred against two colored men and a colored woman.

Mr. Hart had begun the presentation of the case against them and when he mentioned the amount of liquor involved Judge Given interrupted to ask the prosecutor why the case had not been taken before the grand jury for a possible indictment for transportation, which is a felony.

Preferred Quick Trial.

He was informed that the car in which the liquor was being hauled had gone only a short distance, and that the Government preferred a quick trial in Police Court on a lesser charge so that the case could be disposed of.

Judge Given instructed Mr. Hart to make out the papers necessary to have the grand jury consider the case, and when Hart flatly refused, Judge Given made them out himself.

Papers Nolle Prossed.

Informed of this by Hart, United States Attorney Leo A. Rover immediately ordered the papers nolle prossed and the three were given their freedom. They were Governor and Elizabeth Brookings and Nathaniel Fletcher.

Mr. Rover explained that it had always been his policy to try for a quick trial in Police Court on minor infractions rather than take up the time of the grand jury and the Supreme Court on trifling cases. He said the work of the higher court was such that taking all minor cases before it would result in a greatly congested docket.

Scottish Rite Masons Hear Herbert M. Poteat

Herbert M. Poteat, of Wake Forest, N. C., was the guest speaker at a meeting last night of the Evangelist Chapter of Rose Croix, Scottish Rite Masons, in All Souls' Church. He spoke on "World Unity and the Importance of the Individual."

Distinguished guests at the meeting included Grand Master Harry G. Kimball, Hyman W. Widcover, secretary general of the Supreme Council Scottish Rite Masons; Ellwood P. Morey, deputy for the Supreme Council, and Arthur B. Hayes, secretary of Scottish Rite bodies of the District of Columbia.

Two Men Gravely Hurt When Car Strikes Pole

James Edwards, 42, of 1728 W street southeast, and John M. Carl, 33, of 1626 V street southeast, were seriously injured early yesterday when their car swerved from the highway and crashed into a telephone pole at Silver Hill, Md. They were brought to Casualty Hospital by R. W. Brooks, of Anacostia, Md., who was passing.

Edwards suffered a skull fracture and severe lacerations about his face and body, and Carl was treated for a possible skull fracture and internal injuries.
